PUT UNDERWOOD IN WHITE HOUSE SOUTH IS CRYING

And the Democrats of the North Are Responding Favorably to the Cry.

FORMER SENATOR MONEY SUPPORTS UNDERWOOD

As Do Other Mississippi Leaders--Money Says Underwood Is Regarded as Constructive Statesman in the North and Must Be Nominated if the Democrats Hope to Win.

MISSISSIPPI SUPPORTERS OF OSCAR UNDERWOOD

Former Senator Hernando D. Money, the state's idol for thirty years.

Senator-elect James K. Vardaman, former governor.

Representative B. P. Harrison, of the sixth district.

Former Representative Eton J. Bowers.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 13.—(Special.)—Oscar W. Underwood will have the vote of Mississippi in the Baltimore convention. The state is almost a unit for the Alabamian. Former Senator Hernando D. Money, who has been one of the idols of Mississippi for thirty years, declares that the nomination of Underwood is essential to democratic success this year. He comments on the number of northerners who have asked about Underwood and says the southern man is regarded as one of the ablest democrats in the nation. Mr. Money was associated with Mr. Underwood in congress and has followed his steady rise to power and growth and capacity for leadership with almost paternal interest and pride.

Harrison for Underwood.

Simultaneously with the interview given out today by Mr. Money, following so close the declaration of Senator-elect Vardaman in favor of Underwood, an interview was given The Constitution's representative by Representative Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, declaring his unqualified indorsement of the Alabamian and predicting that six of the eight representatives from Mississippi would eventually be supporting Underwood. Former Representative Eton J. Bowers, who is in Washington conferring with Mr. Underwood on political matters, and Governor Earl Br[illegible]r are also announced Underwood supporters. With this backing and in view of the reports being received as to the attitude of the people, success in that state is assured.

"Things are going fine," said Bankhead, who is managing Underwood's campaign. "We are certain of Mississippi and we are of Alabama. The sentiment of the people, therefore, is overwhelming. Expressions like that of the trained and veteran legislator, Senator Money, who has been one of Mississippi's trained and valued public servants for nearly half a century, shows the trend of the popular current. From now on there will be a rising tide of Underwood sentiment everywhere."

Money Talks of Underwood.

Senator Money's service on the national monetary commission since leaving the senate has brought him into close touch with business men and bankers of America, and he says the intelligent opinion of the country is crystallizing over a broadly conservative, practical statesman for the office of chef magistrate. He compared Underwood to Napoleon as a leader.

"Mississippi, I feel quite sure, will send an Underwood delegation to Baltimre," he said. "The state will be for him because of his eminent fitness for the high office, and because he possesses all the qualifications which the people of the country demand the occupant of that office shall have. Apart from this, we feel that his nomination is essential to democratic success. While the other distinguished gentlemen who are seeking the democratic nomination have friends in Mississippi, the rank and file of the people are for Underwood. I have many letters and expressions from friends advising me of this state of public

GIRL GETS SLICE OF HAWLEY MELON

Miss Cameron Given $1,000,000 and $25,000 a Year.

Heirs of Late Railway Magnate Agree to Settlement—Miss Cameron the Daughter of Old Girl Friend of Hawley. Trustees for Hawley Fortune.

New York, March 13.—Miss Margaret Cameron, known as the ward of Edwin Hawley and whose real name is Emma Sturgess, has been deeded by the late financier's heirs property estimated to be worth $1,000,000 and allowed a life income of $25,000 a year, according to a statement made today by John B. Stanchfield, attorney for the heirs. The settlement was made, Mr. Stanchfield said, in accordance with a letter written by Mr. Hawley some time before his death requesting that generous provision for Miss Cameron, whom he sometimes introduced as his niece, be made by those who should divide his estate.

The fact of the settlement upon the young woman was made public by Mr. Stanchfield today in connection with an announcement that the Hawley heirs had agreed upon a ten-year trusteeship for the entire estate with the exception of the part deeded to Miss Cameron, which consists of Mr. Hawley's city house and his large country home at Babylon, Long Island.

Daughter of Old Girl Friend.

Miss Cameron and the heirs, Mr. Stanchfield said, are and always have been on the best of terms. She is the daughter of an old girl school friend of Mr. Hawley's, he said, and her father was a jeweler in Homestead, N. J. Domestic difficulties caused her parents, now dead, to separate when she was 15 years old and Mr. Hawley made her a member of his household and eventually her position became that of housekeeper. The reason she adopted the name of Cameron was, according to her lawyer, that she feared annoyance in her position from the friends of her childhood. Mr. Hawley's close friends and near relatives all know her and respected and trusted her, Mr. Stanchfield said.

Trustees for the Estate.

Frank H. Davis, Walter S. Crandell, Wm. P. Hawley and Charles K. Seymour are the trustees of the estate agreed upon by the heirs, the agreement providing, however, that the trusteeship shall terminate in the event of the death of either Mr. Hawley or Mr. Crandell By this arrangement Mr. Stanchfield's statement says, "all of Mr. Hawley's large holdings of stocks and bonds in the various railroads and corporate enterprises will be held intact."

It is understood that under the agreement of the heirs, Samuel Hawley, Charles Hawley, Annie Hawley and Nellie H. Seymour, brothers and sisters of the deceased man, get each a fifth of the estate held in trust, while Walter S. Crandell and Frederick S. Crandell and May Crandell Page, nephews and niece, get each a fifteenth of the estate. Those who have dower interests are Mrs. Samuel Potts Hawley, Bess Bain Crandell and Adeline McManus Crandell.

CREED IS ISSUED BY LA FOLLETTE

"Battle Bob" Formally States Articles of Political Faith.

Madison, Wis., March 13.—United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, in his campaign platform given out here today, declares, among other things, his belief in the initiative, referendum and recall and direct nominations; government ownership and operation of express companies. He opposes ship subsidy, the Aldrich currency plan and Canadian reciprocity.

What La Follette Believes In.

Senator La Follette say sit is not his purpose at this time to discuss the issues, or indeed, to do more than suggest his position upon the vitally important ones. He says:

"I believe in:

"The equalization of the burdens of call and direct nominations and elections, not only as applied to states, but also in the extension of these principles to the nation as a whole.

"The eequalization of the burdens of taxation, upon a property basis, through the adoption of graduated income and inheritance taxes.

WAR SPREADING IN COAL WORLD; TRADE PARALYZED

Miners of United States May Join the Strikers of Britain and Germany.

CLASHES ARE OCCURRING IN GERMAN STRIKE REGION

Probable That Martial Law Will Be Declared in Westphalia—Much Suffering Is Reported in England—Price of Coal Is Showing an Upward Trend.

WAR IN COAL WORLD—

The war in the coal world continues to rage.

There are 250,000 miners out in Germany and more are going out. Martial law may be declared.

There are 1,000,000 miners out in Great Britain. Trade is paralyzed and much suffering is reported.

The anthracite coal miners of the United States threaten to strike.

The prices of coal are jumping the world over.

Berlin, March 13.—The coal miners' strike in the great German coal fields of Westphalia continues to spread. There are over 240,000 men now on strike and the situation is becoming worse everywhere. It has taken a most serious turn in several districts and has resulted already in a fatal conflict between the police and the strikers in the district of Herne.

The feeling among the men is increasing in intensity owing to the rigid repressive measures of the authorities, and it is officially reported here this evening that troops will be called out if the police prove inadequate to deal with the situation. The cavalry regiments stationed at Duesldorf, Krefeld and elsewhere are held in readiness for orders.

Recruits for Strikers.

The mine owners and leaders of the Christian trade unions, whose members are rapidly breaking away and joining in the strike which was brought about by the socialist trades unions, evidently influenced by a feeling of solidarity or fearing an attack by the strikers, are clamoring for military assistance. Thus far, however, the government has not given it, but instead, is sending all possible re-

ATLANTANS HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Birmingham Special of the Southern Leaves the Track.

Spartanburg, S. C., March 13.—The Southern railway's fast train, No. 30, known as the "Birmingham special," was wrecked at Drayton Mill village, two miles east of this city, shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. The four cars just back of the engine left the rails, the engine, without the tender, remaining on the track.

No one was killed. C. S. Mooney, of Flowery Branch, Ga., baggagemaster, sustained a cut on the right leg and other minor injuries. He was caught beneath the baggage in his car and was gotten out with difficulty.

Others slightly injured were:

G. N. Ruff, of Atlanta, mail agent.

W. R. Hunt, of Westminster, S. C., mail agent.

G. W. Ackers, of Atlanta, mail agent.

The wreck was caused by the front truck of the baggage car splitting a switch where the siding going into the mill village leaves the main line. This car pulled the mail car, immediately in front of it, and the tender from the engine off the rails and caused the coach and Pullman to be hurled thirty feet from the track. The rails and ties are torn out of the roadbed for 300 yards.

Congressman Joseph T. Johnson, of this city, returning to Washington, was a passenger on the train, but sustained no injury.

A story to the effect that one of the mail agents on the train showed to the conductor, while the train was standing at the station here a few minutes before the wreck, a letter he had received warning him that the train would not reach Charlotte without meeting with an accident, is current at the scene of the wreck.

Knox Goes to Guatemala.

Acajutla, Salvador, March 13.—The visit of the American secretary of state to Salvador ended today, and the Knox party boarded the cruiser Maryland, which sailed from Acajutla for San Jose, Guatemala, tonight. The precautions which were taken on the railroad trip to San Salvador were renewed today on the return trip to this port, a pilot train with soldiers aboard preceding the special.

"I THOUGHT I KILLED YOU FOUR YEARS AGO!"

BY AID OF THE PRESIDENT ATLANTA BOY JOINS ARMY

There is an American youth who wanted recently to "join the army." He is a Georgia, a native, moreover, of Atlanta. So he set out with the characteristic spirit of the Capital City, aiming straight for the heart of the thing, to get what he wanted. It may be said here that he succeeded. His name is Alvin G. Botham and he lived in Ansley Park. This is how he went about it:

Exhibit A (a letter).

"To Your Honor, the President of the U. S. A., Mr. William Howard Taft. —Dear Pres.: Your honor, I am writing you because I want very much to join the army. I have passed the examination of the recruiting officer at Atlanta all right, except I am six pounds under the scale in weight. I am 19 years, and can secure the consent of my father. I have always wanted to become a soldier from boyhood. 'Mr. President,' your 'honor,' if it is not asking too much of you, your 'honor,' will you please, will you please take up my case and if you can do anything for me I will certainly be overwhelmed with gratitude. I will now close, your hon. or,' hoping that you will favor me by answering my letter. Your friend and admirer, ALVIN G. BOTHAM."

Just what his "honor" thought of this communication may best be answered with exhibit B, which was a recommendation through the war department that the case be looked into, directed to the recruiting offices here. On receipt og it, young Botham was sent for and examined once more. It developed this time that he barely failed to come up to the required weight.

Lieutenant Venable, in charge here, along with the report of his examination, recommended that he be sent to Columbus, Ohio, for a severe examination by the board of medical examiners.

On this trial, but a short time ago, the aspirant for service under Old Glory came out victorious. He was accepted. He will be trained as a recruit for several months at the barracks at Columbus, and then sent to some army post.

A few days since Botham, Sr., received a post card communication (exhibit C), stamped Columbus, Ohio.

"Army life is fine, dad. I've got to keep my place in the ranks now, but it sure paid to go to headquarters first."

FLOYD INDICTED BY DEKALB JURY

Ex-Tax Collector Alleged to Be Short in His Accounts.

T. R. Floyd, ex-tax collector for DeKalb county, has been indicted by the DeKalb grand jury on a charge of shortage in accounts alleged to amount to $1,228.12. The date of his trial has not yet been fixed, but probably will be held during the present term of superior court.

Floyd was tax collector for DeKalb county in 1907 and 1908. During the latter year he left the office and removed to his home in Redan, Ga. The books were audited and it is said that the shortage was then discovered by the auditing firm. It is charged that Floyd collected $63,267.83, and only paid into the treasury $62,039.71.

The members of the grand jury, now in session, who indicted the former tax collector are Marcus L. Brown, foreman; S. D. Moore, J. O. Norris, H. G. Hastings, James Mackie, W. A. Womack, C. L. Weeks, W. C. Bruce, S. C. Doby, M. H. McDonald, A. N. Barrett, M. C. Carroll, W. H. Burgess, A. E. Dowman, G. C. Robertson, J. L. Stangis, J. C. Stephenson, J. J. W. Housworth, J. F. Beaton, G. L. Young and J. B. Bond.

The indictment has created a sensation throughout DeKalb county. Floyd is one of the best known residents of that section. No statement could be secured from him about the affair at a late hour Wednesday night.

NEGROES SEEK DEFEAT OF TAFT

Bishops and Preachers Send Appeal to Their Race.

Washington, March 13.—The Roosevelt headquarters today gave out a statement prepared at a conference of negro ministers in Washington, claiming to represent 400,000 negro voters, declaring for Mr. Roosevelt as the "friend of the negroes." The statement is signed by Bishops J. S. Caldwell, of Philadelphia; A. J. Warner, of Tennessee; G. L. Blackwell, of Indianapolis; E. Tyree, of Nashville, and G. W. Clinton, of Charlotte, N. C., and by over thirty negro ministers from various cities.

Petition to Negro Voters.

The petition, addressed to negro voters, urges them to do all they can to aid in Colonel Roosevelt's nomination, "and do all you can to compass the defeat of William H. Taft, who thinks that 10,000 negroes should accept his appointment of an assistant attorney general and a collector of customs as a panacea for his degrading southern policy."

"If these negro bishops and ministers are correct in their signed statement that the colored voters will not support Mr. Taft if he is nominated," said Senator Dixon, in a statement tonight, it means the certain loss of the fifteen electoral votes in Indiana, 29 in Illinois, 18 in Missouri, 3 in Delaware, 8 in West Virginia, 24 in Ohio, 10 in Kansas and 8 in Maryland. With the elimination of these 115 electoral votes the nomination of Mr. Taft would mean political suicide."

Oscar King Davis Aids Dixon.

The appointment of Oscar King Davis, head of the Washington bureau of The New York Times as general publicity man and assistant to Senator Dixon in the Roosevelt national headquarters, was announced today by Senator Dixon.

Mr. Davis, it was stated, is to be more than head of the literary bureau of the national headquarters, he is to be a working assistant to Senator Dixon and sort of an "assistant general manager," in the words of the Roosevelt campaign director. A further announcement of the selection of a well known middle western congressman to take active control of some of the western work in the headquarters is expected within a day or two.

The new Roosevelt publicity expert has been for several years a Washington correspondent. He has been an intimate friend of both Colonel Roosevelt and President Taft.

THREE NEGROES KILLED BY MOB

Victims Were Accused of Burning Houses in South Carolina.

Olar, S. C., March 13.—Three negroes in charge of two constables on their way from Olar to Bamberg to be lodged in the county jail were taken from the officers by a mob at Odoms Bridge, seven miles from this place, and shot to pieces this afternoon. The mob of 75 to 100 men surprised the two constables and quickly securing the three negroes finished their work in short order. The negroes were Alfred, Dublin, 25 years of age; Richard Dublin, 30

LOBBYISTS THICK AS BLACKBERRIES

Charge Made in Debate on Water Power Measure.

Washington, March 13.—After charges had been made that a powerful lobby was at work to procure the adoption of the bill, the house today defeated, 98 to 27, a measure permitting the Hydro-Electric Company, a water-power corporation, to lay a pipe line across part of the Mono National Forest reservation in California. Those opposed to the bill declared it affected the laws governing the national domain and would result in virtually nullifying them. The "water-power trust," it was charged, was behind the legislation.

Victims of the Lobby.

Minority Leader Mann, Representatives Lever of South Carolina, James of Kentucky, Lenroot of Wisconsin, an Cooper of Michigan were among those who openly declared that they had been victims of the work of a "lobby." Representative Mann said that he had been inundated by letters and telegrams and annoyed by high-priced lawyers in an effort to influence him. Mr. Lever displayed a telegram from a firm in his state asking him to withdraw his opposition to the bill. The cost of the telegram, he said, was $40.

"The people behind this bill," said Mr. Mann, "have spent thousands upon thousands of dollars in lobbying and in trying to induce this house to break down the law that keeps government property in the keeping of the government. Such actions as we have seen ought to condemn the measure under consideration."

The bill, which was introduced by Representative Raker early in the present congress, had been fought bitterly.

To Force Lobbyists to Register.

Representative C. B. Smith, of New York, contended that "lobbyists were as thick as blackberries," and introduced a bill to compel every "counsel or agent" of corporations, firms or individuals seeking congressional legislation to register with both houses of congress on December 1 of each year, with heavy fine and imprisonment as penalty for failure to comply. His bill would compel corporations and others who employ lobbyists to file with the senate and house two months after the close of each session of congress a detailed statement of expenses of their respective lobbies.

EUGENE GRACE SLOWLY DYING, SAY PHYSICIANS

All Hope Has Been Given Up for the Recovery of the Wounded Man.

OPERATION IS USELESS DECLARE THE DOCTORS

Owing to His Condition, No Effort to Secure Bail for Mrs. Grace Is Made—She Answers Petition for Cancellation of Insurance Policies.

Following is the bulletin authorized by Eugene H. Grace's physicians last night, which caused Mrs. Grace to weep in her ward at the Tower when it was communicated to her:

"A second X-ray examination was made on Mr. Grace Tuesday night at 10 o'clock by Dr. John S. Derr, in the Candler Annex building. The pictures showed bullet located in the spinal canal on a level with the ninth dorsal vertebrae. The cord is entirely severed. No operation will be performed, as no benefit could result from it. We entertain no hope for his recovery, although he may live several weeks."

The death of Eugene H. Grace is expected at any moment, although he may linger for several weeks.

No operation will be performed for it will do no good.

Such was the gist of an official statement issued from St. Joseph's infirmary last night by Grace's physicians, who have given up all hope of his final recovery.

Spinal Cord Severed.

Their bulletin was issued upon the discovery that his spinal cord was entirely severed by the bullet which his wife is accused of firing. Such an injury may permit his lingering for several weeks. It will inevitably cause death at some near date.

Mrs. Grace, alone in the women's ward at the Tower, was informed of her husband's condition by her lawyers, one of whom, J. A. Branch, was with her until a late hour.

"Mr. Grace is worse; the doctors expect his death almost at any time," she was told.

She had risen from the cheap, cane-bottomed straight chair where she had been sitting reading a magazine. Her hand went toward the iron rail of one of the many little white beds which encumber the ward. She gripped it with a desperation that showed in the whitened knuckles.

"Pray God He Gets Well."

"Not that?" she cried in a tense voice. "Oh, pray God he gets well; don't let him die."

She broke down and commenced to cry softly. There was no hysterical outburst, only the bitter climax of a grief which has run for days, and the final utter sense of loneliness after days spent in solitude with the hope that everything would eventually come out all right in her husband's recovery.

LARGE HATS ARE BARRED AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

In the future the women who attend the services at the First Baptist church will either wear small hats or will be forced to bare their heads so that the male members of the congregation can see the pulpit and incidentally be seen by the preacher.

Evidently there has already been some complaint as to the size of hats being worn by the church-going women, for, in the form of a "suggestion," the pastor, Dr. Charles W. Daniel, said at last night's service:

"If you ladies don't wear smaller hats when you come to 'meetin' we're going to make you take them off." Several women promptly removed their hats.

The services at the First Baptist church last night were in charge of Dr. W. B. Riley, one of America's foremost evangelists. His first sermon in Atlanta was heard by a congregation that comfortably filled the church. His talk was on "Soul Winning," and was direct and convincingly presented.

Services will be held at the First Baptist church daily at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 in the evening.

HOW TO SUCCEED

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years we have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited every one to test it, free of cost, before purchasing.

It is a physician's prescription.

They have on file thousands of letters received from former sufferers who are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. They will gladly forward you a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free.

Regular sizes for sale at all druggists—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

The second X-ray photograph made of Mr. Grace's wound was taken Tuesday night at the office of Dr. John S. Derr, in the Candler Annex. The first, taken Monday morning, had only partially shown the course of the bullet and its lodgment, owing to the extreme irritation and inflammation of the wound.

The second photograph shows the bullet resting inside the spinal canal, after passing through the spinal cord and entirely severing it.

Affected Lower Limbs.

This is what was most feared by Grace's physicians. Even after the first X-ray photograph it was hoped that the bullet had not penetrated the spinal column; that it was only resting against it, thus creating a pressure which caused the paralysis which has affected the patient's lower limbs ever since he was shot.

If this had been the effect of the bullet there would have been a strong chance of his survival. The bullet could have been removed by an operation without permanent injury to the spinal cord, and while he might never have fully recovered, his life would not necessarily have been the forfeit.

The discovery that the bullet passed through the spinal cord eliminates all possibility of his final recovery. The severance of the cord has rendered him perfectly helpless from his chest down. It is as though he were already dead in his lower limbs.

The result of this is a gradual sapping of his strength, which will finally cause his death. It may come today or tomorrow. It may come two weeks from now. All depends on his reserve strength and his will to live.

Course of Bullet Traced.

The course of the bullet has been traced by means of the X-ray photographs. Two inches below and under his arm, the bullet entered his left side. It ranged downward until it struck the spinal column, severing the cord, and came to a stop on a level with the ninth dorsal vertebrae.

Mr. Grace was worse Wednesday morning and showed no improvement toward night. Gradually growing weaker, there is little chance of even a temporary rally in his condition. His strength is steadily diminishing from the effect of his wound and the confinement.

At an early hour this morning he was reported resting easily, with no material change in his condition.

Relatives Keep in Touch.

Mr. Grace's relatives are being kept in close touch with his condition, it is said, and as yet hi smother, Mrs. S. L. Hill, of Newnan, has not been called to his bedside. He has two half brothers living in Atlanta, Lewis Hill and Preston Hill, who are, of course, in constant attendance at the hospital.

In case the wounded man commences to sink, and his death seems imminent, telegraph or telephone communication with Newnan, which is hardly an hour's ride distant, will at once bring his relatives.

All of Mr. Grace's business affairs, insofar as he could, he has already put into shape. Realizing that he was dangerously wounded, he made his will more than a week ago, leaving his entire estate in a lump, without

WIFE WILL LOSE HER GIFT BUT HUSBAND RETAINS HIS

There is an untold story of a birthday gift in connection with the Grace tragedy which has been overlooked, although much has been said of the brooch which Grace gave his wife and which must now be surrendered by her because it has not been paid for.

The second little story tells of her gift to him, and it is full of pathos which Fate not infrequently deals in double portions to those already sorrowing.

Mrs. Grace's brooch was given her by her husband some months ago on her last birthday. It is a handsome creation of many stones, and she thought it cost $1,000, although the demands of the jewelers, Maier & Berkele, show that it is valued at $300 less than that. It is not the cost, however, which matters.

"I didn't know you could make a gift until it was paid for," said Mrs. Grace wistfully when informed that a demand had been made for the gift and that Grace himself wished it surrendered, being unable to complete the payment.

"Certainly give it back, if that is just," she said a moment later.

In the meantime, during all his period of illness, Grace has been wearing his birthday gift from his wife, which, by the way, is fully paid for. Unlike the other, where only $25 was deposited to secure the mortgage on the jewel, this was a full and free gift, and one that came from the heart.

It is a Shriner's ring. It was given Grace by his wife when he "went through" the Shrine at the last large initiation. Mrs. Grace was very proud of the honor conferred on her husband by his election. Her gift to him was a diamond emblem set on a ring, which cost more than half what the brooch did—and was paid for.

So far Mrs. Grace has not requested the return of the ring from her husband.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. GRACE COMES FROM PENNSYLVANIA

"I cannot believe that this modest little woman, who clung so strongly to her first husband, although an inebriate at times, could shoot anybody; if so, she must have changed wonderfully in disposition since I saw her at my home in 1910."

From far-off Westchester, Pa., comes another tribute to Mrs. Daisy Grace's sweetness of disposition and to her modesty. Those who knew her best have not ceased to marvel at the metamorphosis who has taken place, if the devoted wife and tender mother whom they knew is guilty of attempting to kill her husband in cold blood, as charged.

The latest message comes from one who knew her well, a connection of her family, Dr. Wistar P. Brown, in a letter to the secretary of state. It is dated 122 South Church street, Westchester, March 11, 1912, and is as follows:

"I have just discovered by pictures published here today that Mrs. Grace, now held for alleged shooting of her husband, was the wife of my deceased wife's cousin, Webster Opie, who was attached for some time with a Philadelphia paper bag concern as a member of the firm, until he got to drinking too hard, and they say they settled an amount upon him so as to get rid of his services amicably.

"After this he called to see us all at my father-in-law's house in 1910, and said he would go to Scranton, Pa., to represent his firm as salesman. He traveled at a very fast gait, I believe, generally. I knew them both well when they were first married, he having brought his wife to our home at 42 Queen avenue often, and I was her dentist on some of these trips.

"When Mrs. Opie was first married, she was a pretty, demure little girl, with very little knowledge of the world, and acted like a mere child. She and her husband seemed devoted to one another and Opie told me that her family was rich, and that he himself was doing a big business in paper.

Couldn't Shoot Anybody.

"I cannot believe that this modest little woman, who clung to her first husband so strongly, although an inebriate at times, could shoot anybody; if so, she must have changed in disposition wonderfully since I saw her in 1910 at my home in Germantown. I am surprised to hear by the papers that she married Grace only sixteen days after death of her first husband. He may have caused her trouble.

"It seems to me that there is a great mystery to be discovered in this case, perhaps to place her in a predicament to obtain money from her, for I do not believe she shot her husband, and I know her very well, I am sure.

"Opie was a whole-hearted fellow, and in my presence always spoke in the best of terms of his wife. The plain people of Germantown who knew her remarked often that she wore too much jewelry, and that the couple were traveling in a gay crowd, but further than that I never heard anything detrimental.

"The papers call her the 'lady of the leopard spots,' which I do not think she deserves at all. Unless proven otherwise, I again say I do not believe she would intentionally shoot her husband or anybody else, and as an old newspaper man, I think I am a pretty good detective of human nature, after being in the business since 1874 in Europe and America for some of our largest newspapers as 'James Gordon.'

"Respectfully,

(Signed) "DR. WISTAR P. BROWN."

ADVERTISING TALKS.

MISLEADING ADVERTISING.

Every merchant is either a PROGRESSIVE or a STAND-PAT advertiser.

THE CONSUMER, as the chap who always pays, IS VITALLY INTERESTED IN THE OUTCOME.

THE STAND-PAT PLATFORM:

Let us alone.

It seems almost useless to include price and comparison of value in any advertising law that would be enforceable.

THE PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM:

MISLEADING ADVERTISING IS ILLUMINATED LYING.

Knowingly untrue or misleading advertising of price, worth or value, is a misdemeanor subject to penalty.

Every newspaper in Boston and Massachusetts is also either a PROGRESSIVE or a STAND-PATTER.

THE STAND-PAT NEWSPAPER PLATFORM:

THE PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPER PLATFORM:

LOSS OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE STATEMENTS MADE LESSENS THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING SPACE.

Cut out the bait of misleading comparisons of values, and the advertiser must describe the goods and give a real reason.

True advertising requires more space, not less.

Some States have drastic laws against the "Jack Rabbit promoter" who advertises a hole in the ground as a producing mine.

A broadening of this law to include untrue statements regarding the worth and value of merchandise is demanded.

We stand squarely on the PROGRESSIVE ADVERTISING PLATFORM.

The above is a sermon by itself and indicates what is going through the minds of merchants throughout the country who stand on a platform of plain, old-fashioned honesty in the matter of their advertising and the conduct of their business.

inventory, to his mother. His wife was ignored in the document.

Because of the reports that he was worse Wednesday, no attempt was made to secure Mrs. Grace's release on bond. It had been intimated that such steps would be taken.

Able to Make Any Bond.

"As soon as we have the news that Mr. Grace is out of danger, we will take up the matter of bond. Mrs. Grace is able o make any bond that might be assessed," said John W. Moore.

On the reports of the physicians last night, it is hardly likely that any application for bond can be made for a long time, if ever. In case Grace dies, the charge against his wife will be changed to murder, according to the police. It is now assault with intent to murder, the warrant having been issued to Detective George C. Bullard on the night of the shooting, Tuesday, March 5, when Mrs. Grace returned from Newnan.

Murder is not bailable in this state. If such a charge is entered against the beautiful woman now held in the Tower, it will mean her imprisonment for weeks, until she can be brought to trial.

Mrs. Grace Denies Charges.

Through her attorneys Wednesday Mrs. Grace filed a reply to the petition of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, seeking to cancel the insurance policies on Grace's life. This has already been done by agreement, Mrs. Grace, the beneficiary, making no contest.

The petition made Mrs. Grace a co-defendant with her husband, alleging fraudulent representations on his part of his financial condition and income, that she knew them to be fraudulent, that the insurance was taken out at her instigation, recited the facts of his being shot and her arrest, and alleged on belief and information that she shot him. She denied all these charges which directly concerned her.

years of age, and Peter Rivers, 40 years of age.

All Three Confessed.

All three of the negroes had confessed to attempting to burn the house of J. E. Cook, mayor of Olar, early yesterday morning. On February 21 a destructive fire occurred in the business part of the town resulting in much loss. A fortunate circumstance prevented Mr. Cook's house from being burned yesterday.

A rigid investigation followed the attempt to burn the mayor's house. In view of the fact that indications at the February fire pointed to incendiary origin the search was even more determined than might otherwise have been the case. One negro was arrested last night, however, and the other two today. All three are known locally as "bad" negroes. All had had trouble with Mr. Cook. Peter Rivers had been convicted of illegally selling whisky and Mr. Cook, as mayor, had fined him $100. The two Dublin negroes had been discharged from the employ of Mr. Cook.

Intercepted by a Mob.

The negroes were held in the guard house at Olar until the confessions were obtained, when it was decided to send them to the county jail at Bamberg. Two constables started this afternoon about 3 o'clock for the 12-mile journey with their prisoners.

Just what happened when seven miles of the trip had been safely traveled is more or less conjecture. It is only positively known that at Odoms Bridge a determined crowd numbering from 75 to 100 men dispatched the three "fire bugs," using bullets as the means of execution.

An inquest will be held over the bodies of the three negroes at Olar tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

WAR SPREADING IN COAL WORLD

inforcements of police to the strike region to preserve order.

The most serious of the disturbances occurred at Herne, a mining village five miles from Bochum, where strikers threw stones and fired revolvers at a detachment of armed police marching to the mine, where they had been ordered to protect the non-strikers. The police replied to the attack with their revolvers and one of the strikers was killed.

At Hamborn, in the district of Dusseldorf, where yesterday fighting occurred between the strikers and the police and a number of persons were injured, large reinforcements of police have arrived.

The strikers, however, show no signs of being intimidated. They repeatedly bombard the police escorting the non-strikers with bottles and stones thrown from the upper windows of the houses. Numerous arrests have been made.

Strike to Spread.

Conditions are tending more and more toward a strike among the miners in Lorraine, Saxony and Silesia, where the men are all pressing their demands for a 15 per cent increase in their wages and for shorter hours.

The answers of the mine owners, including the Prussian state, which runs its own mines, to the demands of the unions in other German coal fields, take the same stand as the owners in Westphalia, declaring that financial conditions do not permit the granting of the full increases of wages and the other demands of the miners, so that strikes also are impending there.

Coal shipments are falling off everywhere. Only 12,000 carloads were sent off by rail yesterday from Essen, where the usual daily average shipment is 30,000 carloads.

NO SETTLEMENT IN BRITAIN; GREAT DISTRESS IS CAUSED

London, March 13.—The thirteenth day of the coal strike ended without a settlement having been reached. The joint conference of the representatives of the miners and mine owners and members of the cabinet adjourned this evening until tomorrow afternoon, "in order to consider certain proposals made by the prime minister," as the announcement put it.

The distress which has been caused throughout England, Scotland and Wales from the coal strike is growing acute, more particularly in Wales. In that country practically the whole life of the people depends upon the output of the coal mines.

In the city of Cardiff alone the chief constable reports 700 families in immediate need of relief, and in all the mining towns, now that the strike pay of the miners has been cut down by the miners' union, there will be need for assistance unless a settlement of the dispute is quickly reached.

The men on the railroads and those connected with other industries are now being discharged daily by hundreds, the notices to quit which were given them when the coal strike began now expiring. The notices generally ran for a fortnight.

Traffic returns of the railways of the United Kingdom for the past week show an aggregate decrease of $2,500,000, owing to the strike.

Rioting occurred yesterday at a colliery near St. Helens, Lancashire, three policemen being wounded. Although there are nearly 2,000,000 workmen idle, including the miners, this isolated case is the only sign of disorder anywhere.

It was expected parliament would debate the coal situation today, but owing to the prolongation of the conference, the debate is now impossible before Monday. The most serious views of the situation are being expressed in the lobbies of the house of commons.

MINERS OF THE UNITED STATES MAY QUIT ANTHRACITE MINES

New York, March 13.—The anthracite coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America alike profess tonight unyielding adherence to their attitudes concerning the miners' demands. "The situation looks very blue and the indications point to a strike," declared President John T. White, of the miners. The operators say positively that they will make no concessions.

With the formal rejection of the miners' demands and the counter proposition that the present agreement, which expires March 41, be continued for three years, the operators' committee of ten adjourned this afternoon until Friday noon. Adjournment was taken upon request of the miners' officials, who meantime will meet, consider the operators' reply and plan their procedure. Their decision, it is expected, will be announced at the joint meeting. "We will not make any modification of our demands," declared President White this afternoon. "Beyond that I cannot tell what will happen."

"It is out of the question to advance wages," reads the reply, "unless we can in some manner realize from the sale of coal produced a sum equal to the increase in wages." This increase, it is stated, would aggregate $28,000,000 a year and the whole advance which would average about 67 cents per ton.

Pittsburg, March 13.—Railroads and manufacturing companies, in anticipation of a suspension of mining operations in the bituminous coal district of western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia, April 1, when the existing agreement with the United Mine Workers of America will expire, are gathering vast stores of coal. Mines are being worked to capacity, and coal is being hauled to convenient points in such quantity as to create a car shortage, which further aggravates the situation.

In consequence of the heavy demand, prices are soaring.

WITH OFFICER BY SIDE, HE KILLED HIMSELF

Shreveport, La., March 13.—While an officer stood beside his bedside early tonight waiting to arrest him, C. Floyd Alexander, aged 25, a clerk, ducked beneath the bed clothes and shot himself through the temple with a revolver taken from beneath a pillow, dying shortly afterwards in a hospital.

A warrant had been sworn out today by Alexander's employer charging misuse of the firm's funds. That he had decided to end his life was indicated by a letter "to the public" in which he said he "went wrong of his hard will and through the evil of a woman."

SWIFT JUSTICE GIVEN TO NEGRO

Secretly Tried, Convicted and Sentenced to 10 Years In Five Minutes.

Salisbury, Md., March 13.—Indicted, secretly tried, convicted and sentenced to ten years in the Maryland penitentiary, is the history of five minutes today in the life of Emmons Waller, colored, confessed assaulter of 16-year-old Ella Bailey, near Hebron, last Monday.

Rumors that an attempt would be made tonight to lynch Waller prompted this speedy disposition of Waller's case.

When Sheriff Smith heard the rumors he conferred with Judges Stanford and Jones, holding court here. The grand jury was informed and immediately returned an indictment. The judges adjourned court and when the spectators had departed, called Waller before them. His attorney entered a plea of guilty; sentence was pronounced and within ten minutes from the time Waller was brought into court he was being whirled away in an automobile, his ultimate destination being the penitentiary at Baltimore.

SENATOR PERCY SCORED BY MISSISSIPPI SENATE

Jackson, Miss., March 13.—The Mississippi senate today heard United States Senator Leroy Percy's negative answer to the demand of the legislature that he resign and in retort adopted a resolution excoriating the senator.

The secretary of the senate is instructed to send a copy of the resolution to Senator Percy, that he be requested to have the resolution made a part of the Congressional Record and should he not follow the suggestion, instructions are given that a thousand copies be printed and mailed to members of the United States senate.

No Intervention in Cuba.

Washington, March 13.—President Taft assured the Cuban minister, Dr. Antonio Martin-Rivero, in emphatic terms, that the United States has no intention of intervening in Cuban affairs. Characterizing reports of contemplated intervention coming from Havana as "pure fabrications," the president said "intervention is not being thought of."

Boy Is Convicted.

Walhalla, S. C., March 13.—Jim Killian, a 14-year-old boy, was convicted today of manslaughter after being indicted on a charge of murder. Young Cheek was killed in in the Killian home in Oconee county during Christmas week. The convicted lad is a son of a widow with seven children, and the entire family has been in jail since the killing. The boy will go to the state reformatory. He claimed that he shot Cheek accidentally. The dead man was calling on a sister of the Killian boy.

Prices in UNITED CIGAR STORES are not made (as some suppose) with a Knife

If there is any advantage in advertising, it must come from letting people know all about a business.

There are several important points in our business that require some time and plenty of advertising to make clear.

For instance, many smokers get the impression that ours is a "Cut Price" enterprise and they expect to try their favorite brand at a reduced price in our stores.

Such is not the case.

Cutting the price of other manufacturers' brands would be "cut throat" or unfair competition.

If you find your favorite brand in our stores you will see that it is priced regularly (you save only by our regular discount coupons), but you will also find under our own brand a similar cigar for less money, or the same type of cigar very much larger and better for the same money.

This must be so or our business would not have grown to its present size.

If you feel like smoking a good three-for-a-quarter cigar today, just ask for a

HE STOLE $13 FROM LETTERS SO SANTA CLAUS WOULD COME

Louisville, Ky., March 13.—After serving twenty years in the railway mail service without a blemish on his record, Arch B. Terrell, 53 years old, confessed to secret service officers in the jail here last night that he had stolen a total of $13 from registered letters to buy Christmas presents and medicine for his son, who has tuberculosis.

Terrell was arrested yesterday at Bloomfield, Ky., where he lives, just as he ended his run and was preparing to go home, and admitted his guilt when confronted with the fact that he had fallen into a trap by taking a marked bill from a registered letter.

He was brought here and placed in jail. There he told the officers that his son's illness had put him to great expense. Then his daughter became seriously ill, and he was compelled to tell the children they would receive no Christmas presents. They cried and he couldn't bear it. So he took $4 from a letter and bought them presents.

Later he took $4 from a letter to purchase medicine, and he made the fatal error of picking out the registered letter containing the marked bill.

Terrell is a veteran of the campaign against Geronimo in Arizona in the '80's.

WHY AINSWORTH WAS DISMISSED

Secretary Stimson Gives His Version of the Matter to the House.

Washington, March 13.—Secretary Stimson's version of the relief from duty of Adjutant General Ainsworth, prior to Ainsworth's voluntary retirement, was given to the house today. The papers showed numerous instances of the adjutant general's communication with his colleagues, which the war department construed as examples of language of intemperate and discourteous character. One of these notes—from Ainsworth to Brigadier General Marshall of engineers—declared the burden of Marshall's complaints had no foundation "other than in the heated imagination of the officer who made them."

Ainsworth was removed as the climax of a twenty-years' running fight between the line and the staff of the army for its control.

The manner of Ainsworth's relief from office indicated court-martial would follow, but the adjutant general asked for retirement. Because of his many years of service, it was granted by the president.

In Secretary Stimson's note to Speaker Clark he said the president told him to inform the house that the papers "related to a matter of military discipline and executive action, which, by the constitution, is confined exclusively to the president as commander-in-chief of the army, and that the papers' transmittal is not to be construed as recognition of the authority or jurisdiction of the house to require of the president a statement of the reasons of his official action in such matters."

KENTUCKY ASSEMBLY COMPLETES ITS SESSION

Frankfort, Ky., March 13.—The Kentucky general assembly adjourned sine die at 1:55 o'clock this morning, having extended the legislative day from midnight, when the session expired by law.

Among the important measures passed were those providing for the compulsory popular primary for all state and local nominations; extending suffrage in school elections to women; providing a uniform county unit law and prohibiting the purchase or gift of liquor in dry territory; creating a state board of forestry and fish and game commission; pensioning confederate veterans and creating a state road fund and commission.

Two constitutional amendments were submitted, one to reform the state taxing system and the other to permit the employment of convicts on the public highways. In the early part of the session Congressman Ollie M. James was elected United States senator to succeed Thomas H. Paynter, whose term expires next March.

CONTEST OVER WILL OF "MOTHER" EDDY

Concord, N. H., March 13.—The controversy over the will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, reached the tribunal of last resort in New Hampshire today, when final arguments which will extend over three days were begun before the supreme court on the construction in various clauses in the will.

The proceedings opened with the presentation of a brief by Robert L. Manning, special counsel for the state, in which it is alleged the provisions of the will bequeathing the greater part of the property to the directors of the Christian Science church in Boston is a violation of the statute limiting bequests to churches.

Arguments began with that of Hannis Taylor, of Washington, for the heirs and next of kin, in opposition to the allowance of the will, followed by Dewitt C. Howe, of Concord.

WOMEN CLAMOR FOR THE BALLOT

Suffragettes Invade National Capitol and Make Demands Known.

Washington, March 13.—Suffragette leaders invaded the national capitol today and presented arguments for an amendment to the constitution to enfranchise women. Hearings were given by the woman's suffrage committee and judiciary committee in the senate and by the judiciary committee of the house. The committee rooms were crowded with women from many cities.

Dr. Anna Shaw marshaled the suffragette forces at the senate hearing. The seven listening senators were assured that the gathered phalanx of women were not militant, but only "insistent and persistent."

Probably the most determined speaker was Miss Lenora O'Reilly, of New York, representing the wage-earners.

"We don't want to bluff you," said she; "we want the ballot for our own good. We don't get half enough to live on, and yet we have got to keep decent. You men make the laws so that when you do wrong you get off, but when we women do wrong we go to the gutter and prison. We have heard the tommyrot given us by legislatures. We know the game. You men want this nation to get rich. You don't know that riches lie in human lives."

Chicago to Vote on Suffrage.

Chicago, March 13.—County Judge Owens today declared that the question of woman suffrage would be put on the ballot at the April primaries. The order of court was in response to a petition from local suffragettes.

Equal Suffrage for New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., March 13.—The judiciary committee of the New Jersey senate today reported without opposition a resolution proposing a woman's suffrage amendment to the state constitution.

INDUSTRIAL CONCERNS AND RAILWAY CONTROL

Washington, March 13.—Joseph Wood, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, told the Stanley steel trust investigating committee of the house today that in his opinion it would be better for the public if industrial corporations, such as the United States Steel Corporation, did not control railroads which participated in division of freight rates.

"I should take the point of view," said Mr. Wood, in answering a question from Mr. Stanley, "that a railroad operated ostensibly as a plant facility by an industrial corporation should be confined to the business of that plant and not participate in general railroad business as a common carrier."

Mr. Wood told the committee that the Pennsylvania railroad had received complaints from independent steel manufacturers that the United States Steel Corporation had an unfair advantage in shipping because of its ownership of railroads, and also declared that the Pennsylvania had acquired control of the Pennsylvania Steel Company and the Cambria Steel Company to offset the influence of the United States Steel Corporation and to protect itself and the price of steel products.

"What exceptions," asked Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, "would you make to industrial enterprises owning railroads?"

"I don't think I would make any," said Mr. Wood.

$500 PACKAGE TAKEN IN DUBLIN

Claud Ricker and "Railroad Bess" Arrested in Macon After Flight.

Dublin, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The Southern Express office at this place was robbed last night of a package of money containing $500. The package was expressed from the Farmers' Exchange bank, of Stillmore, to the First National bank, of Dublin, and was received on a late express train.

The loss was not discovered until this morning. Suspicion pointed to a young plumber by the name of Claud J. Ricker, formerly of Savannah, who had been engaged in the new postoffice building here for the past two months. He had been helping the express office the past several weeks at odd times and was familiar with the work.

The package was placed in an open safe in the office and was taken from the safe while employees were busy in another part of the building. When the safe was opened this morning the robbery was discovered. Ricker could not be located and on investigation it was learned that he left in the morning on the Macon, Dublin and Savannah train for Macon in company with Nell Fitzgerald, a woman of the underworld.

Chief Hightower called upon the Macon police and they soon located Ricker in that city. He was in the company of the Fitzgerald woman and both were arrested. Four hundred and sixty dollars was found on the woman who claims that the money was given her by Ricker.

Ricker is a young man about 21 years old and is quite a sport. He came from Savannah where he was formerly employed in the express office in that city. Chief Hightower went up to Macon on the noon train to bring the prisoners back to Dublin. Nell Fitzgerald is a noted character over the state and is known as "Railroad Bess." She is from Macon and Augusta.

HE SHUNNED BANKS AND LOST HIS $1,700

Cleveland, Ohio, March 13.—John Oscar, employee of a gas company, was robbed of $1,700 on a busy street last night. The money represented seven years' savings, which Oscar always carried because he had little faith in banks.

Two women met Oscar. While he was talking to them, he said, two men came up and threatened him with a revolver. They took his wallet.

Oscar then ran, calling "police!" Two more men met him, saying they were detectives. After a few minutes they left him.

None of the six involved has been arrested.

SEPARATED 40 YEARS, BROTHERS GET TOGETHER

Peabody, Kas., March 13.—Thomas and William Gilman, brothers, who had not seen each other since they were children, forty years ago, met by accident at a railway station here yesterday. The two were waiting for a train and casually entered into conversation. William, a farmer, living in western Nebraska, asked the other his name. A few more words revealed the relationship between them.

Thomas is a New York traveling salesman and has been visiting Nebraska for fifteen years.

The brothers became separated when their parents died in New York state.

McPherson to Be Named.

Washington, March 13.—District Judge John B. McPherson, of Philadelphia, it was learned here today, probably will be appointed judge of the third circuit to succeed Judge Lanning, deceased. The three judges of that circuit will try the anti-trust suit against the United States Steel Corporation.

More Meningitis.

Shreveport, La., March 13.—Two new cases of meningitis, both negroes, were reported yesterday, with no deaths. The summary to date shows: Cases, 68; deaths, 19; recoveries, 33; under treatment, 16.

BELIEF IN A BRIMSTONE HELL ONLY "GOOD FOR VULGAR MINDS"

St. Louis, March 13.—Belief in a fire and brimstone hell was declared to be "good for vulgar minds," by Dr. Paul Carus, of Chicago, in his address today before one of the sections of the Religious Education Association, which is holding its ninth annual convention here. The leading meeting of the morning was that of the department of universities and colleges, of which William H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university, is chairman. C. M. Bishop, president of Southwestern university, Georgetown, Texas, was one of the principal speakers.

Departments of churches and pastors, at which John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, spoke; Sunday schools and teacher training, religious art and music and the conference on immigrants in the city were also in session.

WOMEN TO AID IN CLEANING UP

Civic Ward Clubs Will Take Hand in the Campaign.

The civic ward clubs, which have been organized by the women of Atlanta, will take a hand in the cleaning up of the city. The clubs instituted a cleaning crusade last year which was quite successful.

Besides the ward clubs, there is a City Federation of Civic Clubs which has given much attention to the "City Beautiful," and this central organization now promises to take a hand in the campaign which has been started for a "cleaner Atlanta."

During the next week or ten days all of the ward civic clubs will hold meetings for the special purpose of helping to get the city clean before summer.

The Constitution is in receipt of the following communication from Mrs. F. A. Parkins, 483 Woodward avenue, correspondent for the Third Ward Civic Club:

"Editor Constitution: We women, as the representatives of the civic work in the city, are more than delighted and thoroughly appreciate the stand taken by our sanitary chief, saying that the keeping of back yards clean would be a law that would be readily enforced this summer and for all time. This is good, and I hope the people will co-operate in this work for cleanliness and health. While the inspectors are investigating the back yards, could not these same men see and report the front yards and sidewalks in disorder? In a great many places over the city the sidewalks are in a bad condition from coal cinders, broken glass and dishes, old shoes, rags, and all that goes to look unsightly. It also makes walking on our sidewalks uncomfortable. It does seem hard that the working class, good, honest men and women, should, day after day, tread these unkept streets. Often the mud and debris from vacant lots tend to make the sidewalks almost impassable. If rich people are able to hold property year after year, for gain to themselves, surely they could afford to pay more taxes for the inconvenience they cause the pedestrians. If not that, why are they not required to keep their property in order? Our negro labor would be glad of the job.

"The cry is for more parks, and they are a blessing for health. One strong plea is for recreation for the children. Why not let the children help to keep the sidewalks clean in front of their own dooryards? Small children can sweep, and it would help the looks of the city. Let our sanitary chief request this in connection with his rigid garbage law, and I feel sure he will have valuable help.

"Strangers say, 'You are a progressive city, but dirty.' Well, we have been troubled with the smoke nuisance in the past and present, but we hope soon to get relief. But can't the dilapidated condition of falling fences and tumbled-down buildings be remedied, if for nothing more than the effect on strangers coming into the city?

"We thoroughly indorse and appreciate your efforts in behalf of cleanliness."

TARIFF BOARD REPORT ON COTTON INDUSTRY

Washington, March 13.—The tariff board will present to President Taft tomorrow night or Friday a summary of its report on the cotton industry. Upon this summary and personal conferences with the board, the president will base his message to congress dealing with the cotton schedule. The president's message and the board's full report will probably go to congress Monday.

The tariff board's report will deal entirely with the difference in cost of cotton in this country and abroad and will not suggest changes in the tariff.

BOARD TO PROBE CENTRAL WRECKS

Railway Will Ask Disinterested Persons to Help Investigate Future Accidents.

Savannah, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) Wrecks and accidents on the Central of Georgia railway are to be probed in the future by an investigating board partly made up of disinterested persons who will be invited as representatives of the public to sit with the railroad officials.

"If in the future we are unfortunate enough to have any serious accidents and there is reason to believe there was negligence or carelessness on the part of the railroad, we will invite prominent citizens from the locality in which the accident occurs to sit with officials of the Sentral in making an investigation," announced Vice President W. A. Winburn today.

"Our object in promulgating this plan is to take the public into our confidence. Often the public is given a wrong impression about railroad accidents, and often the railroad is given undeserved blame. Often the railroad is to blame. We want to thoroughly sift out the accidents with parties entirely without circles of the railroad, placing the blame wehre it belongs."

No Smelter Trust.

Washington, March 13.—Attorney General Wickersham will advise the house, in replying to its resolution, that he has no evidence of the existence of a "smelter trust." There are five large smelter companies, he said, which seem to be in active competition.

Big Builder Is Dead.

New York, March 13.—Charles Thompson Harvey, who planned the first elevated railroad operated in this city, and built the Sault Ste. Marie ship canal, is dead at his home here. He was 83 years old. For many years, Mr. Harvey was one of the best known civil engineers in this country. He had a part in practically every big engineering project during the civil war and reconstruction periods.

AUTO CAR TRUCK ARRIVES

One of Four Trucks in the Government Test Run Reaches City.

An 18-horse power, two-cylinder Auto Car truck, one of the four trucks undergoing the government's quartermaster department's test run from Washington to Indianapolis via Atlanta, made its mud-begrimed appearance in the city yesterday ahead of schedule time.

In addition to the government officers accompanying it were Messrs. N. S. Pringle and J. F. Brown, factory representatives. Mr. Pringle reports the roads all the way as being in awful condition, due to the excessive rains which have made a sea of mud out of even ordinarily good roads.

"If there is a single truck that makes the trip on schedule time under the existing condition of the roads I am confident that the government will not have the least hesitation about adopting them altogether for military maneuvers for it is impossible to conceive of a more exacting test," says Mr. Pringle, "and since we have gone this far, complying with all conditions, I am confident that we will also finish all right."

Mr. Pringle points out that his truck has so far made the best record of any of the trucks entered in this run inasmuch as it is the only one that has not required any mechanical replacements.

The Auto Car truck is the second one of the four entered in this test that has arrived here so far.

Aeroplanes in Collision.

Berlin, March 13.—A collision occurred today between two aeroplanes flying round the aerodrome at Johannisthal, the machine driven by Schade, who was carrying a passenger named Badowski, striking violently another aeroplane driven by Rettinger. Both the aeroplanes were smashed and fell to the ground, the passenger being injured, while the two airmen escaped unhurt.

THE SAME OLD SCHEME AGAIN.

The menace to the constitutional rights of the country counties and the revival of the old machine scheme to abolish minority representation, as embodied in the state democratic executive committee's procedure for the presidential primary, needs only to be thoroughly understood by the people of Georgia to insure that the trickery shall be overwhelmingly repudiated this year, as it was when formerly attempted four years ago. The following communication exposes the sinister possibilities of the committee's program and may be taken as forerunner of a groundswell that will effectually draw the fangs of the scheme:

Editor Constitution: I thought the people of Georgia had passed upon and killed the proposition to abolish the county unit system in Georgia politics. One state committee has already been disciplined in this respect and now another assumes to deprive the country counties of Georgia of the proportionate power given to them by the constitution of the state.

It strikes me it is up to the people of this state to teach another committee a lesson. If this committee has put up this job for the purpose of carrying the state for Woodrow Wilson, it will be found that it has made a terrible blunder, for there are a great many country people in Georgia who, however they may feel toward any man, are more zealous for their liberty and their constitutional rights than they are for any one man, and if Woodrow Wilson, or anybody else, is used as an instrument to deny them the guarantees of the state constitution, then they will run over him just as they have run over others who have tried before to work this trick on them.

J. B. MOON.

A tidal wave of protest arose four years ago when this same scheme was foisted upon the people. Among the foremost exponents who led the fight for the protection of the rights of the country counties were Albert H. Cox, "Rufe" Hutchens, now manager for Oscar Underwood in Georgia, and Thomas E. Watson. Joseph M. Brown, at whose candidacy this revolutionary device was mainly leveled, shot the plot to pieces in a series of statements that will go down to history as among the most striking specimens of political literature ever produced in Georgia. The Constitution, The Macon Telegraph, The Augusta Chronicle, The Rome Tribune, The Athens Banner, other prominent dailies and a great preponderance of the weekly press in the state joined in a protest that climaxed in a sweeping public repudiation of a scheme to do by indirection at a primary what could not be legally done in electing legislators, instead of delegates.

In other words, these great forces in Georgia combined their influence to crush and thwart a scheme that at one blow denied to the country counties their constitutional basis of representation, that absolutely wiped out such a paltry thing as a minority representation, and that made it possible for a few large counties to completely dominate the state government.

The procedure promulgated for the presidential primary this year again slays the county unit plan, again destroys the right of the small counties to representation and again makes it possible for a few large counties to dictate to the rest of the state!

The rules for the presidential primary give the delegates of every county in the state to the presidential aspirant receiving the plurality vote of the entire state. See how the trick works: Ten of the largest counties of the state, by sheer weight of votes, may absolutely smother, annihilate, disfranchise the other 136 counties. Why? Because, should these ten counties return for any one man a plurality over the other 136 counties, the supporters of this one man are empowered to name in each county which he had lost the delegates to the state convention which will select the national delegates.

The smaller counties do not even have the right of protest. They cannot even voice their resentment. They are thrown down, tied and gagged by the sheer accident that other counties contain a larger number of voters. Minority representation be d—d!

Fortunately, in this special instance, the big city counties are very much in line with the prevailing sentiment in the country counties in favoring a southern man for president, especially when that man comes from a sister state and has made a record which has focused upon him the eyes of the whole nation as the most successful house leader of the party since the war.

But no man knows what issues may be involved two years hence, or later, and the principle once established that the country counties of Georgia shall be deprived of their proportionate representation, as guaranteed them by the constitution, no man knows what they may ultimately be required to sacrifice.

Once before this indefensible plot to undermine representative rule in Georgia, to apply the muzzle to thousands of voters, has been given a sweeping coup de grace by an awakened people.

As Georgians value their personal liberties, as every county—no matter how small, or weak—values its electoral integrity, it is incumbent upon them to rise again and put the final quietus to a conspiracy that declares that "might makes right" and that outrages every principle of free expression upon which rests democratic institutions.

IT'S UNDERWOOD WHO DRAWS THE FIRE.

Confirming squarely The Constitution's contention that whenever the country thought of democratic tariff revision it would in the same breath think of Oscar Underwood, comes the Associated Press report which relates that the representatives of the sugar industry of Louisiana, protesting against the placing of sugar on the free list, also denounced Oscar Underwood as responsible for that policy.

The Louisiana incident sheds prophetic light upon each phase of the situation as it touches the tariff in the presidential campaign, again corroborating The Constitution upon the proposition that Underwood is pre-eminently the logical democrat to defend and propound the paramount issues of the party that will bear the stamp of his name. It remains only to be seen if the people of his own section will lift the embargo of sectionalism already discarded wholesale by other portions of the country.

When the free sugar bill was first reported out of the committee, acclaimed by the country and accredited by common consent to Underwood as a beneficial achievement, what happened? Washington correspondents inimical to Underwood at once exhausted every device of language to prove that credit should go, not to Underwood, but to other parties. But when the industries directly affected by the bill, and with no interest save in placing responsibility for it, seek to express their resentment, it is upon Underwood that the blow falls. That is what will happen, also, with every other interest and among the republican high protectionists generally, upon every revised schedule that emerges from the house, once battle is joined in the fall. Incidentally, the Louisiana democrats appear to be of that variety who are for tariff reform for every interest save their own. Underwood has made it plain that if that policy prevails there will be no tariff reform at all. It must be revision all along the line, and with statesmanlike courage he started the ball rolling by making a 50 per cent slash in the leading industry of his home section.

The unanimous action of the teachers of Henry county, Georgia, might well point a lesson to the country and to the revision-for-the-other-fellow democrats. In their recent session they passed a resolution "indorsing the candidacy of Hon. Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, for president of the United States, since the democratic party is doomed to defeat or is to be crowned with victory through his policies."

The issue could not be stated more epigrammatically. If the party is crowned with victory, it will be because of the Underwood policies. If it goes down to defeat, the Underwood policies will be called upon to stand the responsibility. Is the man who stands in this super-important relation to the party to be prejudiced as a presidential candidate because his own people are hypnotized by the bogie of sectionalism which the north has dismissed? Or is the man who must stand the fire to be given also the party's indorsement for the laurels, irrespective of the section from which he comes?

"Just From Georgia"

The Rare, Ripe Plum.

I.

The ripe plum that's a-hanging on the
reaching for it now.
They're calling, high and low:
"It's Dixie's time, you know,"
And that plum'll be the sweeter for

II.

All the bands are playing "Dixie," and the old tune gives a thrill
o' Shouter's Hill!
No wonder bugles blow—
Wake the echoes high and low;
Oh, the plum is bigger—sweeter for

When the Court Got "Rilled."

"The other day a certain candidate called a judge down," says The Adams Enterprise, "and when the judge was through with him they had considerable difficulty getting him together for delivery at the hospital, all of which is due to criticism of the courts by the candidate for the third term nomination. It isn't safe to look cross-eyed at a justice of the peace around here, for he may knock you and your case clean out o' court. Playing baseball has given them more 'swing' in throwing things, and the Code of Georgia is a dangerous weapon in the hands of an offended justice."

A Tree to Sing in.

Come, Mister Mockingbird, and see
The larks o'er meadows wingin',
And take your pick of any tree
The orchard has, to sing in.

We'll ask the old lost Sun to shine,
And make the mists grow thinner,
And give to you grasshoppers fine
For breakfast and for dinner.

We know just what's the matter now,
That makes you wait and wonder;
The bluebird's raising of a row
Because they snowed him under!

Late to the Opera.

With her lovers at the door, waiting to conduct her to the opera of the birds, Spring—like the rest of them—is still adjusting her hat, and delaying and delaying! Then, too, she discovered snowflakes on the few roses miserly old Winter gave her and she's wondering if she'll make a good impression in last year's furs! And over and above all, after Winter had assured her he had it straight from the weather bureau that it would be fair and warmer, she caught him in the very act of mixing a hot toddy; and when he protested that he hadn't touched a drop since his last birthday, the old rascal smacked his mouth, and winked his off-eye like a hardened Ananias!

Don't look for Spring to have any faith in him until she sees him in a summery suit, thoughtfully sipping a mint julep.

All the country to dazzle;

BIG STICK BEING MADE FOR PRESIDENT TAFT

Boston, March 13.—President Taft soon will own a "big stick." While in Boston next Monday he will be made the recipient of a shillelah, which, according to the inscription it bears, was taken from a tree that grew beside Napoleon's tomb at St. Helena.

In a cavity in the bottom of the cane is sand taken from the battlefield at Lexington, kept in place by a plug of wood from the Washington elm. A plug in the handle is made of wood from the Paul Revere belfry, and another feature is an imbedded Lincoln penny.

The stick is the gift of a Salem man. It now rests in the office of Mayor Fitzgerald, awaiting the arrival of the president.

CLEAN-UP NOTICE GIVEN IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, March 13.—Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the state board of health, yesterday inspected the city hall, several fashionable clubs, restaurants and candy factories, nearly all of whom were given 48 hours notice to "clean up or close up." He said conditions at the city hall did not reflect credit upon the custodian. Conditions at the Boston, Pickwick and the Chess, Checkers and White Clubs were reported insanitary.

WILKES CORN CLUBS ARE SHOWING RESULTS

Washington, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—One of the good results shown by the stimulation of interest in the Boys' Corn Clubs of Wilkes county is the fact that during the first two months of the year only six carloads of western corn have been shipped to Washington, against forty-one cars for the same period of 1911 and for the first time in the history of Wilkes the grist mills are having more business than they can accommodate with their present equipment turning Wilkes county corn into home-made meal.

Six hundred dollars was given the prize corn clubs here last year and preparations are under way for a larger number of contestants and a larger purse for the winners this year than last. Business men and farmers agree that the wide interest and the increased acreage in corn makes the prizes offered for corn culture in Wilkes the most profitable investment that has been made yet in this county in an agricultural way.

ALL THE LABOR LEADERS TO BE TRIED TOGETHER

Indianapolis, Ind., March 13.—All the defendants indicted for violation of federal statutes governing transportation of explosives must go to trial in one cause on October 1, according to the final ruling of Judge A. B. Anderson today after he had heard argument of attorneys for the defense on a motion for separate trials.

In the consolidation of the cases the indictments against fifty-four men are merged in one with 128 counts, 28 of which charge conspiracy to violate the statutes forbidding carrying dynamite and nitroglycerin on passenger trains and 100 charge direct violation by the defendants, both as abettors and principals, with Ortie E. McManigal, John J. and James B. McNamara and Herbert S. Hockin.

Forty-six of the defendants, present or former officials of labor unions, alleged to have been implicated in a dynamiting campaign against the "open shop" in the structural industry, were in court and their bonds were continued.

ANOTHER BLOW DEALT CHICAGO MEAT KINGS

Chicago, March 13.—Another blow was dealt the packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law today when Judge Carpenter denied a motion for the discharge of Edward Morris and Louis H. Heyman, two of the defendants, on a technical objection to the indictment.

The government alleged that Morris & Co., of New Jersey, handled the fresh meat business of the corporation and counsel for the defense declared that Morris & Co., a Maine corporation, is the concern which the government should have named in this connection.

In denying the motion Judge Carpenter declared the evidence showed Morris & Co., of New Jersey, was the corporation through which the sales of fresh meat were made and that the government's allegation was sufficiently plain under the law.

Edward Morris is president of Morris & Co., and Louis H. Heyman is manager of the company's beef department.

MILLIONAIRE STOKES TO GET NEW KIDNEY

New York, March 13.—W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire hotel owner who was the target for the revolvers of two actresses a few months ago, is to be operated on shortly for injuries, which he believes he received in the attack made on him at that time. The operation will involve the removal of one of his kidneys, and the substitution of the kidney of an animal.

His condition became serious about a month ago, and he was advised by his doctors to go to Bermuda. He did, but came back last week, his condition about the same. After a consultation of physicians, it was decided that Mr. Stokes' best chance for recovery was in having the kidney removed.

MANY COLORED RATS ARE LOOSED IN SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., March 13.—If Seattle citizens fail to see brilliantly colored rats scampering about the streets, it will not be because the rats are not there.

Health department officials today liberated twenty-five dyed rodents for purposes of identification. Each rat has a price of two dollars on its head, whether dead or alive. The purpose is to trace the drift of the rodent population as it migrates from one section of the city to another.

"At this time of the year rats leave the water front, where they stay during the winter months, and make their way to hills and residence portions of the city," said Health Commissioner Crichton.

PENSION PLAN ADOPTED BY THE SUGAR COMBINE

Jersey City, N. J., March 13.—Stockholders of the American Sugar Refining Company, meeting here today, unanimously passed a resolution providing for the pensioning of all employees who are more than 65 years of age. They are to be retired on a pension equal to one per cent of their annual income, multiplied by the number of years of service. In the case of women the age limit is fixed at 60 years, and in the case of those who have been in the company's employ for thirty years, they may retire on a pension regardless of age.

DARK, DAMP, STONE CELL FOR MRS. PANKHURST

New York, March 13.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, the English suffragette, who has just arrived in New York from the west, will curtail her lecture tour in this country and return to England within the next fortnight.

"I am much worried over my mother," said the youngest daughter of the militant leader, upon her arrival. "From reports of the treatment she is receiving in Holloway prison, I have fears for her health. This is the first time my mother has been forcibly kept in prison. Such treatment of prisoners has resulted in ruined health and even death.

"This week's dispatches have said that my mother, with others arrested has been confined to a 'punishment cell.' This means dark, cold cells, underground, with nothing but the stone pavement to lie upon. It is difficult to understand why the British government treats its suffragette prisoners worse than it does prisoners convicted of crimes.

"Premier Asquith is to blame for the situation. Two-thirds of the house of commons are pledged to support suffrage, and three-fourths of the cabinet have declared in its favor. It is the stubbornness of Asquith that makes matters so bad."

CLARION CALL FOR UNDERWOOD FROM THE PRESS OF GEORGIA

"Join the Underwood Ranks."
(From The Macon Telegraph.)

Senator Fletcher, of Florida, says he is impressed by the slogan: "You gotta quit kickin' my dawg aroun'."

Other people are impressed with it, and it has given great impetus to the feeling that the time has come for the south—after being "kicked aroun'" for fifty years—to press the claims of a real southerner of great ability, consistency and sound principles, for the democratic nomination.

And this accounts in some measure for the growing disposition to join the Underwood ranks.

"You gotta quit kickin' my dawg aroun'."

Two Convincing Reasons.
(From The Savannah News.)

There are two reasons why the Underwood sentiment is showing up so strong in this and other southern states. One is that he is a statesman of experience in every way capable of filling the high position of president, and is just the kind of a man needed at the head of affairs at a time when ambitious men with the hope of success are suggesting strange political nostrums for evils in the body politic whose chief merit seems to be their attractiveness to the people, but which are of very doubtful value. The other is that he is a resident of the most American section of the country, the section that is least responsive to political doctrines that lean toward socialism.

We have it from the most influential men of the north that there is no feeling in that part of the country against the nomination of a southerner. On the contrary, they are of the opinion that a southern candidate would meet with no opposition because of his residence in the south. What the men in the north who make public sentiment want is a president able to give the country a wise and conservative administration, an administration that would make for prosperity and whose career and political views are evidence that if elected president his administration would be of that kind. We are bound to have experiments enough in government — experiments that come along in the natural order of things—without advocating them as a means of party success.

Wilson Not the Man.
(From The Columbus Enquirer-Sun.)

The Enquirer-Sun has not espoused the candidacy of Governor Wilson for the democratic presidential nomination, but it is due to the fact that we have not thought he was the best man the democrats could name for it. We are not fighting him, as some of his supporters are fighting every other candidate who is opposing him. We have said nothing against Governor Wilson other than his own acts justly. We have criticised his changeableness upon some of the issues of the present, but the criticism was not as harsh as some of the Wilsonites have made of other candidates. We have said nothing against him that would stand in the way of us giving him our hearty and cordial support should the democratic convention name him as the standard-bearer this year.

Should Stand by Underwood.
(From The Columbus Ledger.)

It appears to The Ledger that, as loyal southerners, Georgians should go on record as favoring the nomination of Congressman Underwood, of Alabama, and that they should stand back of the able house leader, who is making a most remarkable record at Washington for the party and for the American people.

"Painful and Pitiful."
(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

The imitation of Bryan by Wilson is one of the most painful and pitiful phases of the latter's campaign for the nomination. Bryan has refused to be drawn into any discussion of the tariff in years. Wilson follows in his footsteps. Bryan's only comment on the recent action of the party in the house is that he has always favored an income tax, but not a word as to the advisability of placing sugar on the free list and freeing the country from the thraldom of the most flagrant criminals of all the trusts. Wilson has not yet even gone far enough to indorse the income tax proposition. It would probably be asking too much for him to indorse free sugar until the Nebraskan has spoken.

As a matter of fact, no one knows where Wilson stands today on the tariff, whether, if he were nominated and elected, he could be depended upon to lead an aggressive fight for the people. He shows none of the stamina of Grover Cleveland, who hoisted the banner of tariff reform and went down in a glorious defeat on principle.

And what a magnificent contrast Underwood makes to Bryan and Wilson, what a fine foil they present to the southern leader. Underwood is seen calmly planning, openly espousing, courageously supporting tariff reform measures that will mean so much to the masses of the people if carried through. Underwood has never flinched, has never shunned the greatest issue of the day, has never sought to throw the party off the track and on to a side line. Disregarding the captious criticisms of Bryan, he has gone on his way working zealously for the promotion of the best interests of the nation.

"Uncalled For and Without Excuse."
(From The Athens Banner.)

It is uncalled for and without excuse that here in Georgia the supporters of Governor Wilson should begin to charge other candidates, by inference at least, if not directly, with things that, if true, would militate against them in the final race, should either of them be nominated. So far as Georgia is concerned, such innuendoes will not avail to damage either the reputation or the campaign of the man at whom they are hurled. In striking contrast is the conduct of those who are opposing Governor Wilson's nomination. They are making no charges against him either direct or by inference.

A Big Game.
(From The Toomsboro Banner.)

Every newspaper in the southern states should be giving undivided support to a southern man for the democratic nomination. The party has never stood in better shape at the beginning of a presidential election year than it stands today, and there never was so likely a chance of a southern man being elected if nominated.

The newspapers of the south should lay aside for the present every bit of ill feeling they may have toward each other because of past political differences. The game is a big one, and never so big as it is this year.

Best Thing for Georgia to Do.
(From The Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

Aside from qualifications for the office, Oscar Underwood is the most desirable man that Georgia could cast her suffrage for in the democratic convention. Underwood, with Georgia's vote, would be a friend that Georgia would never regret, and with his power he would be disposed to use that power, if compatible with justice and principle, for Georgia's interest.

Strong in the North.
(From The Savannah News.)

Mr. Underwood is a particularly strong candidate because of the feeling throughout the country that he is a statesman of very great ability. The record he has made as the leader of the house has made a profound impression on the country. He is holding the democratic party together and is developing it into an efficient fighting force. The progressives and the conservatives under his guidance are working together and are winning the good opinion of the people. If the democratic party is successful in the national elections this year, it will be largely because of Mr. Underwood's masterful leadership. He stands as good a chance as any one of the other candidates of getting the nomination. And it can be said in his behalf that if he should be elected president his party at the end of his term would be stronger than it was at the beginning of it.

Eastern Democrats Willing.
(From The Commerce Observer.)

If the south don't respect herself, she need not be surprised if the east and north refuses to respect her. Underwood is being wounded in the house of his friends. Eastern democrats, willing to risk the fate of the party in his hands, chide us for the want of self-assertion and self-respect.

IN THE BREECHES BUOY SEVEN MEN ARE RESCUED

Ocean City, Md., March 13.—Captain Bennett and six men were rescued in breeches buoy by the Ocean City life savers early today from the Wilmington, Del., three-masted schooner, John W. Hall. The vessel stranded three miles south of here while bound from Wilmington, N. C., to New York with a cargo of lumber. The schooner will be a total loss.

MUSIC AS AN AGENT IN REFORM OF CRIMINALS

New York, March 13.—Patrick A. Whitney, commissioner of corrections, has decided that music should have a large part in the work of reforming youthful criminals, and he has accordingly directed the employment of a teacher of instrumental music at the city reformatory on Hart's Island. His order to this effect is indorsed by the aldermen in a resolution.

Commissioner Whitney will offer the convicts an "optional course" of eighty instrumental music lessons this spring.

LAWFUL TO PUT BEER IN COLD STORAGE PLANT

There is nothing unlawful in putting and keeping beer in a regular cold storage plant, nor is it a public nuisance, according to a decision of the supreme court rendered yesterday in the case of John W. Bale, solicitor general, against the Atlanta Ice and Coal Corporation. The case came from Rome superior court, and was the result of a complaint to the effect that the company had permitted certain owners of beer to keep it in their cold storage plant.

No Change of Venue.

Mobile, Ala., March 13.—The application of Mrs. Mary Theresa Virginia Wasserieben for a change of venue for her trial in connection with the killing of her husband, Policeman Fred Wasserieben, was refused today by Judge Semmes in the city court. Mrs. Wasserieben and her mother, Mary T. Godau, who is also charged with the murder, will be arraigned at this term of court.

AMERICUS INFANTRY MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Americus, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) The Americus Light Infantry was officially inspected this evening by Major F. L. Palmer, representing the state military department, and Captain Americus Mitchel, of the regular army. The company, commanded by Captain Charles P. Davis, showed up in excellent form with forty-three men and the inspection was evidently of a nature entirely satisfactory. The Americus Light Infantry took twelfth place last year among all companies in the state's service and will score an even higher record on this inspection.

COMIC SUPPLEMENT HAMMERED BY LOW

New Haven, Conn., March 13.—The American press is at the level of its lowest reader in the opinion of A. Maurice Low, Washington correspondent of The London Post, who delivered the second of the annual Bromley lectures on journalism at Yale university last night. The only hope of raising the newspaper standard, the lecturer said, is in the schools and colleges. He condemned the publishing of stories of crime and said that in his mind the ideal paper would be one that was endowed and the members of its staff specialists in particular lines of work.

The comic supplement, Mr. Low declared, is responsible, in great measure, for the bad manners and rudeness of American children.

Cattle Embargo Lifted.

Washington, March 13.—The year's embargo on cattle from Great Britain because of the foot and mouth disease was lifted today by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. No evidence of the disease has been discovered in the British Isles for three months. No continental Europe cattle are admitted, and English authorities believe that their three or four epidemics of the past few years have been brought from the continent, the feet of sea gulls and automobile tires having been suggested as possible carriers of the germ.

ROBBERS KILLED BY MESSENGER

Attempt to Loot Southern Pacific Train Is Balked.

Express Messenger Trousdale Brains One Robber With a Mallet and Shoots Off Top of Other's Head—Old Ruse Employed by the Messenger.

San Antonio, Texas, March 13.—Employing the simplest sort of ruse, a Wells-Fargo express messenger with nerve a-plenty who knew how to deliver swift, terrible blows, balked the robbery of a Southern Pacific train early today by killing two of the highwaymen. The hold-up was staged near the Mexican border, on the eastern side of the "big bend" country of Texas. For miles through the lone stretches of rolling prairie only scattered ranch houses relieve the landscape's monotony. The point where the train, number 9, westbound, was halted is several miles east of Sanderson, in Terrell county.

David A. Trousdale, an express messenger, recently promoted to his run from the San Antonio offices of the express company, prevented the robbery. One of the robbers, who held Trousdale at the point of a rifle in a corner, was ransacking the express car.

How He Got the Bandits.

"I'm not going to scrap with you all," remarked Trousdale as he conversed with the bandit. "I'm not getting 'fighting wages.'"

"Oh all right," replied the bandit. "Then you fellows will have to help us get this stuff across the Rio Grande."

"Why don't you pick up that package?" casually inquired Trousdale, as he kicked at a small box on the floor of the car. "It's worth more than all the stuff you've got."

The robber stooped, deceived by the ruse, to pick up the package. Trousdale grasped a heavy mallet and struck. The bandit received the blow full on the head. He fell over dead. There was no alarming outcry.

Trousdale picked up the dead robber's gun and waited.

Meanwhile the second of the bandits had been working on the car ahead. When he completed his job he hurried back to the express car.

"Frank," he called.

There was no answer.

The robber swung himself aboard the car. As his form loomed in the doorway the express messenger fired. The bandit tumbled to the ground, dead.

The bodies of the robbers were put into a baggage car and the train proceeded.

Bandits Swung on to Engine.

The bandits boarded the express car at Dryden soon after midnight. Swinging on to the engine, they covered the driver, Grosh, with guns and ordered him to proceed till they told him to stop. Ten miles west of Dryden they gave the signal for a halt. The conductor of the express, alarmed by the frequent stops, sent a negro porter ahead to inquire about the trouble. The negro was promptly covered with a rifle. Then the conductor crept up to the engine. Immediately he took in the situation. Before the robbers could fire upon him he hastened back and down the track. Walking several miles he stopped a freight train and gave the alarm over the wires to Sanderson.

Meanwhile the robbers were putting their plans for ransacking the express and mail cars into execution.

The sheriff of Terrell county tonight is searching for a third member of the band supposed to have been posted near the hold-up scene with horses. Near the point where the train was stopped tracks of horses were found leading to the border. It is presumed the robbers, had they succeeded, would have made for Mexico.

They Are Americans.

The bodies of the bandits have not been identified. They are Americans.

Whatever the robbers took from the mail car was recovered. Nothing was removed from the express car.

The passengers were not alarmed. They knew nothing of the hold-up until after both robbers had been killed.

Trousdale is a native of Tennessee. He came to San Antonio several years ago and until a few weeks ago was employed in the offices of the Wells-Fargo Company here. He is 32 years old.

Chamber Committee Meets.—After a meeting of the committee on municipal research of the Chamber of Commerce last night it was announced that only an informal discussion had been held and that there was nothing to give out at this time. Another meeting will be held soon.

Canadian Minister to Lecture.—Rev. Robert Johnston, D.D., pastor of the American Presbyterian church of Montreal, will deliver a free lecture at the Harris Street Presbyterian church tonight, March 14, at 8 p. m. His subject will be "Life and Sport in Canada." The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views. All seats are free.

Sam Stinson Under Arrest.—Sam Stinson, the negro who has terrorized the Ben Hill section for several weeks, entering homes where the women were unprotected, to demand food, money or whatever he happened to lack at the time, is at last under lock and key in the Tower. He was turned over to Jailer Walter Knight by County Officer A. J. Jackson, who captured him after a hard fight and a long chase. At one home he boldly entered the house, found one unprotected woman and had become almost insulting in his language and demands when her husband came in and drove him off.

MILLINERY OPENING AT SMITH & HIGGINS'

The popular west side department store of Smith & Higgins announces for today its Spring Opening of Millinery. Special exhibits will be on view all day from 8 o'clock, the opening hour. There will be two concerts by Wurm's orchestra, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 in the evening.

As this is the first "opening" held since the completion of the handsome new building, especial efforts have been made to make the exhibition even more elaborate than usual and that these efforts have been well directed will be apparent to every visitor.

The decorative scheme has been carried out in wistaria vines and blossoms and throughout the building these beautiful flowers are in evidence, climbing over lattices, twining around pillars and hanging from ceilings. Every department has been decorated for the occasion and attractive displays of new spring goods are to be seen on every hand.

Naturally interest will center in the millinery department. The display, individually and collectively, will delight the eye of every beauty lover. There are hats appropriate for every occasion and to suit every face and figure. And everyone is a beauty.

The smart "ready-to-wear" hats for street and semi-dress occasions are shown in many novel effects. The "Cabby," a shape inspired by the London cabman's hat, is one of the fads. The large sailor shapes are good, particularly those with round crowns and rolling brims.

To describe the trimmed hats would require pages of newspaper space, for in all the immense display there are no duplicates. Flowers, of course, are much in evidence, as these are Spring hats. But never were flowers so beautiful, so lifelike. There are roses, carnations and violets that you instinctively lean toward to catch their perfume; daisies, pansies and sweet peas so fresh that they seem to be just from the garden.

There are hats trimmed with feathers, ribbons, chiffon, novel ornaments—and with real aigrettes which are becoming so scarce. Hats made entirely of novelty straws and braids, of chiffons and mousselines. ***

"BILL" ZIMMER PLAYS HOST TO ENTERTAINERS

Members of Ward and Vokes company and prominent Atlantans snapped just before the barbecue began.

"Farmer Bill" Zimmer and "Tea Merchant" Edward West kidded each other through many minutes of speech making at the barbecue yesterday afternoon, given by the Atlanta hotel man to the members of the Ward and Vokes Company, and when Referee Sandy Chapman called a halt to the talk fest, the honors were about even.

Zimmer and West are old friends. They feel that the day is wasted in which they fail to play some kind of joke on each other. Ever since Mr. West reached Atlanta this trip there has been a battle of wits between the two, in which letters have played prominent parts.

At the barbecue several voluminous looking documents were sprung. Sandy Chapman, who announced himself as the secretary of Mr. West, the only Georgian in the race for president on the Republican ticket, sprung the papers first.

People can always depend upon their friends to hit them the hardest blows, and Hap Ward, Chapman, West, Vokes and a few others had framed the epistle, which told of the shortcomings of Mr. Zimmer. When it had been read, folks who didn't know "Farmer Will" would have imagined he was ripe for the penitentiary.

Then came Mr. Zimmer's time, and though a trifle late in entering the letter game, he had the bulge on his friends when it came to length. The message he started to read looked like some Monday morning statement from Teddy Roosevelt. That's going some.

And when he got through—had all the things he said, or rather put into the mouth of Mr. Gregg, Mr. West's partner, been in earnest—there should have been a fight to the finish, with any old kind of weapons that came handy.

When the letter fight was over it came time for other guests at the feast to tell what they thought of the spread. Some of them said Mr. Zimmer was the finest man on earth, and others, notably ex-Police Commissioner Barnes, used his speech making opportunity to hand Mr. Zimmer several hard knocks. All in all, Mr. Zimmer was certainly punished some, when it is remembered that he was the host and had put before his guests one of the finest barbecues ever served in Georgia.

But then, your friends always welcome the opportunity to hammer you, and the friendlier they are, the louder the knocks.

The feast wound up with three lusty cheers for Mr. Zimmer. The battle was over, and everybody was happy, and everybody was Mr. Zimmer's friend again.

They were all there—ponies and show girls, singers, principals—not a single member of the Ward and Vokes family missing. And there were a few others present, too, friends of Mr. Zimmer, from Atlanta.

SOLDIERS MARCH TO RESTORE RULER

Ten Thousand Chinese Troops Reported Moving on Pekin.

Their Purpose Is to Restore the Deposed Emperor to the Throne—Condition Approaching Anarchy Prevailing in All the Provinces.

Hong Kong, March 13.—Four gunboats have been dispatched to Canton from Hong Kong. An eye witness describes the scenes at Canto as terrible. One thousand persons have been killed. The British gunboat Kinsha has been damaged by shells and has been compelled to shift her anchorage.

Pekin, March 13.—General Sheng Yun, who, under the empire, held the post of governor of the province of Shen Si, is marching at the head of 10,000 troops from the province of Kansu to Pekin to restore the emperor to the throne. The commander of the emperor's guards at the palace received a message to this effect today.

In view of the seriousness of the situation caused by General movement, President Yuan sent envoys to meet him a plain the present situation.

It would seem that there is no government force, present or prospective, capable of terminating the prevalent anarchy. There is little hope among the legations that the coalition government will be successful in ending the mutinous pillaging which is now sweeping the north.

Like Prairie Fire.

One minister said today that it must burn itself out like a prairie fire. It is the general belief that order cannot be restored within two years. The breaking up of the country by secessions is considered merely a possibility.

There are now not less than six hostile armies in the field. These comprise the northern and southern armies, which the present disorders show are not agreeable to the forced compromise that their leaders are now negotiating, the Manchu troops, which remain a distinct body apart from the others; the Mongols, who, in large bands, are fighting the Chinese garrisons in the north; General Sheng Yun's army, composed largely of Mohammedans, and, in the province of Yunnan, an army of independents.

Exact Position Not Known.

General Sheng Yun's exact position is not known, but according to a missionary letter recently received from Sian Fu, his followers are decimating populations and wiping out whole districts. Consular reports from Yunnan state that the independent army is in control of a part of three provinces, and that up to the present it has confined itself largely to outlawry.

The diplomatic representatives in Pekin are pessimistic because of the apparent feebleness of the Chinese administrators and disciplinarians.

CONDITION OF ANARCHY PREVAILING EVERYWHERE

Hongkong, March 13.—A condition approaching anarchy appears to prevail almost everywhere in the Chinese province of Kwangtung.

At Swatow the soldiers of the garrison opposed the landing of 2,000 Hakkas or marauding tribesmen and several fierce encounters have taken place between them. A battle was fought on Saturday at Chowyang, a short distance to the south of Swatow, during which forty men were killed and sixty wounded. General Wu Sun, one of the commanders of the troops at Canton, is leaving for Swatow with 2,000 men to suppress the disturbances.

The United States monitor Monterey is at Canton. The British consul at that city last night ordered the captains of British vessels lying off the city to put out their lights should they hear firing from the forts. They did this and the British gunboat Moorhad had her awning and spar torn by bullets while she was engaged in protecting the electric station.

Several of the foreign missionaries in the city have had narrow escapes from flying bullets.

In the foreign settlement at Shamean there are now 500 foreign soldiers, while on board the foreign war vessels there is a force of 1,000 bluejackets.

Five of the leaders of the disorderly element who were formerly well-known pirates have combined together to defy the soldiers to disarm their followers.

It is said one of these chiefs alone has 1,000 adherents. Strong efforts are being made to restore peace and the soldiers in Canton are receiving $15 for each rifle handed in to the authorities.

One of Bishop Smith's Puns.

(From The Philadelphia Record.)

At the Acorn Club in Philadelphia a young lady was praising the wit of the late Bishop Mackay Smith.

"He always had a pun ready," she said, smiling pensively. "I remember meeting him once in Broad street station. I was on the way to Florida at the time, and I said:

"'Will it be very wrong, bishop, for me to bathe on Sunday in the Atlantic, off Palm Beach?'

"'The Atlantic off Palm Beach?' said he. 'That, I fear, is a see over which I have no jurisdiction.'"

OFFICER GUARDS GYPSIES AND THEIR ROLL OF $5,000

A policeman stood guard eight hours yesterday over a tribe of roving gypsies, prepared to repel an attack from what John Stevens, the chieftain, declared to be a cut-throat foe. The band arrived in Atlanta at 7:30 o'clock, and wildeyed and excited, stormed police headquarters and appealed to Chief Beavers for protection.

"We are being followed through the country by foes," Stevens declared in broken English. "They are trying to murder us for this."

The gypsy chief reached into his sash and drew forth a roll of $100 bills. He said that there was nearly $5,000 in the wad. He told Chief Beavers that he had been robbed at Birmingham, and intimated that the men who were following the band were bent on getting all the money. The chief detailed Policeman H. E. Vaughan to escort the band to the Terminal station, and for eight hours the bluecoat waited for the foe to put in his appearance. At 3:30 the band boarded a Georgia train and started on their journey to Landstown, S. C., where they have secured 5,000 acres of land to engage in cotton culture. Stevens declared that he was afraid of being stabbed in the back. He telegraphed the police at Augusta to lend the band protection while they stop off in that city.

Stevens was unable to give the police a description of any of his alleged foes. He explained that the band has been roving through the country, picking up money by furnishing amusement to the people.

TAFT'S METHODS IN KANSAS ARE SCORED BY GOV. STUBBS.

Topeka, Kan., March 13.—Charging that Taft appointees are using "thoroughly disreputable" methods to defeat a presidential primary in Kansas, Governor W. R. Stubbs sent a telegram to President Taft tonight asking him if he approved of such methods.

In his telegram the governor declares that the caucus and convention system the Taft managers propose to use will disfranchise 90 per cent of the republicans of Kansas, and that the federal patronage is being dangled before the eyes of committeemen. Congressman D. R. Anthony, in a telegram to the president, requests him to pay no attention to Governor Stubbs' message. "The only officeholders in Kansas that I know of who are guilty of pernicious political activity," says Mr. Anthony, "are state officeholders appointed by Governor Stubbs, who has been waging war on the national administration for many months."

Republican congressional committees in four Kansas districts held meetings today, approved the convention plan of selecting delegates and adopted resolutions indorsing the administration of President Taft.

Where Washington Doesn't Fit

(From Harper's Weekly.)

The Springfield Republican says that it is a pity that Mr. Roosevelt should have offered an explanation of this character:

"It must be clear to any reasonable man that the precedent which forbids a third term has reference solely to a third consecutive term. It grew out of the fact that a president of the United States, under the present convention system of electing delegates, can, if he knows how to use the machinery at his disposal, renominate himself, even though the majority of his party is against him."

We fail to see where the pity comes in. It is simply characteristic in audacity and falsity. Perhaps, however, this particular hair is split between "reasonable" and "intelligent." To solemnly assert that the anti-third-term precedent grew out of the "convention system," when every school boy knows there never was a convention till 1831, is surely going some. We can account for the declaration only upon the familiar hypothesis that it is what Lincoln would have said. Washington, we guess, will have to be left out of this entirely.

"That man has been making that same tariff speech for years, and I don't understand it yet."

"Certainly not," replied Senator Sorghum; "that speech is like a conundrum. After you guess it, it's no good any more."—Washington Star.

Mr. Charles T. Ladson announces the engagement of his daughter, Agnes, to Mr. Charles A. Dana, of New York, the weding to take place the evening of April 10, at home.

Miss Ladson's beauty, prominence and popularity in southern society, and Mr. Dana's prominence and distinction in public and social life center in the announcement of their engagement a general interest.

She is the eldest of the three daughters of Mr. Ladson, her second sister being Mrs. Frank Adair, while Miss Leone Ladson, the youngest sister, is one of the most charming and attractive members of the younger society set.

Miss Ladson's beauty is of the distinctly unique type which combines with the whitest skin, wavy black hair and brows, and the lashes which shade her wonderfully pretty eyes are long and black.

She is as graceful in manner and bearing as she is gracious and charming in disposition. It was while traveling in Europe five years ago Miss Ladson first met Mr. Dana. He is the first cousin and namesake of the late Charles A. Dana, editor of The New York Sun, and is a lawyer by profession; a member of the firm of Dana, Gates & Goelet. He is a member of the legislature of New York state, and one of the most popular of the younger citizens of the metropolis.

Mr. Dana has made many friends in Atlanta during his several visits here this year. He will be accompanied to Atlanta in April by his mother, Mrs. Charles A. Dana, and by a group of gentlemen friends. He and his bride sail April 13 for Europe, where they will be for several months before returning to their home in New York.

Miss Ladson's sisters, Mrs. Adair and Miss Leone Ladson, will be her only attendants.

Indian Party.

Mr. Cater Woolford entertained a charming group of young women at tea yesterday afternoon at the Georgian Terrace, and the detail of his hospitality was happily suggestive of his recent travel in the west.

The tea table, set in the corner of the lounge room, had an Indian handwoven cover and the centerpiece was a graceful Indian basket filled with California tulips in red and yellow. The tea service was of "Indian tree" design, and favors at each place were small Indian baskets filled with bonbons. Delicious ices were decorated each with a skull and crossbones.

After tea the guests were invited to draw for the centerpiece and the table cover.

To Properly Treat Obstinate Wrinkles

"Particularly where wrinkles are long and deep, the massage devotee is apt to rub too hard and too frequently," says Dr. Limoges. "This loosens the skin, causes muscles to sag, aggravates the wrinkled condition—just the opposite result from that sought.

"Better than massage, or anything else, for the most obstinate wrinkles as well as the finest lines, is a formula well known in France, which you may readily avail yourselves of, as you will have no difficulty procuring the constituents from your druggists. It is this: One ounce powdered saxolite dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathe face, neck and hands in this. The effect is really marvelous, not only as to wrinkles, but also in cases of baggy cheeks and chin. The application is cooling, soothing, tending to relieve fatigue and insomnia."

HER CONDITION QUITE CRITICAL

Late Advices From Clinton Give in Detail the Terrible Suffering Experienced by Mrs. McElroy.

Clinton, Ky.—"For six years," writes Mrs. M. C. McElroy, of Clinton, Ky., "I was a sufferer from womanly troubles.

I could not eat, and could not stand on my feet without suffering great pain.

I had such awful suffering, down in my right side, that I could hardly bear it.

My doctors said that I was in a critical condition, and going down hill, and I had lost all hopes of ever getting better, when I began to take Cardui.

Before I had taken one bottle of Cardui I felt better, and in a week's time I was better than I had been in six years.

Cardui works like a charm. I think it is the best medicine I ever used.

I advise all suffering women to take Cardui."

Cardui is recommended to all women who are weak, out of sorts, under the weather, or suffer from the pains and ailments due to a weak womanly constitution.

It is a purely vegetable, harmless, strengthening tonic, of special power over the womanly system, and has brought health to thousands, who had failed in other ways to find relief.

We urge you try Cardui for your troubles.

Your druggist sells it.

Fancy Dress Masquerade.

A brilliant event of tonight will be the fancy dress masquerade ball at the Standard Club.

THEATERS

(At the Grand.)

A comparison might be drawn between Walter Browne's morality play, "Everywoman," and Dr. Johnson's "Rasselas." "Rasselas," as will be remembered, is a narrative of the search of a man for happiness; while "Everywoman" is the search of a woman for love. In each case the author dealt with an universal quest. "Rasselas" is a classic which has outlived the generation of its author, and the story so powerfully illustrated in "Everywoman" will last as long as the heart of woman yearns for love.

Frank McIntyre in "Snobs."
(At the Atlanta.)

"From the Milk Wagon to the Peerage" might easily have been selected by George Bronson-Howard as the title of his new farce comedy which has raised Frank McIntyre of "Travelling Salesman" fame to the rank of star and has scored such a tremendous success at the Hudson theater, New York. Henry B. Harris will present Mr. McIntyre in "Snobs" at the Atlanta theater for three days, commencing tonight, the event marking the first New York success of the present season to be presented in Atlanta. In "Snobs" Mr. McIntyre has been given the role of Henry Disney, the driver of a milk wagon, who all of a sudden is precipitated into the English peerage by a strange chain of circumstances. Of course this necessitates his taking up a position in the social world and he does this just as you might imagine a milkman would.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

There is more real variety to the bill at the Forsyth this week than one would imagine, looking at the program. There are two sketches but totally unlike. There are other acts that seem alike, but not so at all. It is a bill that has pleased several thousand people and that will play to capacity attendance the rest of the week. The feature is B. A. Rolfe's "The Courtiers," the very best combination of instrumental and vocal musical talent in vaudeville. There is a lot of interest in the bill for next week, because Bud Fisher, the creator of Mutt and Jeff, will be the headliner and there are acts of unusual worth on the program.

Ward and Vokes.
(At the Lyric.)

Lyric patrons are being tendered a real treat this week in the engagement of Ward and Vokes and Lucy Daly, in their up-roariously funny farce, "The Trouble Makers." The vehicle itself is one of the funniest that has appeared at the Lyric in many moons and with those inimitable comedians to interpret it, it leaves absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of a laugh-producer. "The Trouble Makers" is a satire on the suffragette question, and Ward and Vokes retain their familiar characters of Percy and Harold, but in a new setting. This time they appear as stranded actors, wishing to get back to New York. In order to do this they are persuaded to put on female attire and impersonate suffragette lecturers from Kansas, who have wired their inability to be present at the meeting.

"The Third Degree."
(At the Lyric.)

"The Third Degree" comes to the Lyric next week. The subject matter of the play is such that it invokes attention and starts minds thinking and arouses the best emotions, leaving an impression that is indelible. The production is of unusual magnitude and displays a scenic as well as dramatic art to the greatest advantage. Among those prominent in the company are Grace Lord, Elizabeth Gillespie, Raymond Wells, Frank Patton, Charles T. Del Vochio, Edmond Sprague, William Weston and others.

GOMPERS IS DEFENDED BY ALTON B. PARKER

Washington, March 13.—"Stray sentences" made extemporaneously in campaign speeches advocating the election of congressmen who favored labor legislation constituted in reality many of the alleged contemptuous remarks of Samuel Gompers, cited in the boycott cases, according to Alton B. Parker, who continued today the argument for the respondents. Mr. Parker said those remarks never would have occurred in a prepared speech. He also suggested the answers of Mr. Gompers should be accepted by the court because of the high reputation for truth of the president of the American Federation of Labor in his twenty years incumbency of that office.

The argument probably will be closed tomorrow by the prosecutor's committee.

FIGHT OF RAILROAD WITH BROTHERHOOD

Crookston, Minn., March 13.—The struggle between the Great Northern railway and the Brotherhood of Railway Carme nreached a sensational stage here today when warrants were sworn out for the arrest of Superintendent Knebal and Master Mechanic W. J. Smith, the charge being that carmen were discharged because they would not quit the union.

Under the state statute it is a violation of the anti-blacklist law to discharge employees who refuse to quit a union labor organization or join such The statute, it is said, never has been tested in the higher courts.

REPUBLICANS TO FIGHT FREE SUGAR MEASURE

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Republican regulars and progressives of the house, in caucus today, declared that the democratic free sugar bill was a political plot for votes and the extension of the corporation tax to individuals and co-partnerships to make up the lost revenue was its companion piece. The caucus was assembled at the instance of Republican Leader Mann. The general opinion expressed was a united stand should be taken against the free sugar bill.

BATTLE COMING ON AGREEMENT

"Who Are the Twenty and Six?" Now Asked.

n Council Meets Monday ... Proposed Settlement Between Car Company and the City Will Be Taken Up. McClelland Writes Card.

When the city council meets next Monday afternoon the proposed agreement with the Georgia Railway and Electric Company and the Georgia Railway and Power Company in regard to rates for light and power and some other matters will come up for ratification.

It was believed prior to last Monday's session of council that the agreement would be approved by a large and very decided vote, but an appeal made by Alderman John E. McClelland for a postponement resulted in the whole matter being held up for a week, and the vote to postpone was 18 to 9.

There had been a persistent and what was believed to be authentic report to the effect that the officials of the public utility corporations had been assured that 26 members of council would, without fail, vote to ratify the agreement made by the special committee. That was prior to last Monday. Since then council members have been asking the question:

A Question Propounded.

"Who are the twenty and six?"

And every time a councilman speaks about the matter he says:

"I am not one of the twenty and six and know nothing about any promise to ratify the agreement made with the corporations by the special committee."

What all of this augurs cannot be ascertained. It may mean that those of the twenty and six, if any such combination was ever formed, do not wish to be heralded as having committed themselves, or it may mean that some of the twenty and six, provided there ever any such number committed, decided to change their minds. may mean that after all there o twenty and six lined up.

he last meeting of council Alder- cClelland made a lone fight ahy action being taken without eek's time to carefully consider nd digest the proposed agreement. He was the only member of council who made a talk and a motion to postpone. In that talk he took the position that there was nothing in the agreement which benefitted the people, and that it was a trade like that in which it was "turkey for me and crow for you, or crow for you and turkey for me." He claimed that the only part of the agreement that might affect the people's interests was that concerning reduction of rates for electric light from 9 to 7 cents, and from 5.4 to 4.5 for power. He took the position that this would only affect the large consumers and could not benefit the small consumer.

he other members of the special mittee claim that the reduction for t and power has been very material is a considerable victory for the n McClelland has furnished titution with the following nt:

the Public: In reply to the ent in The Journal of March 13, igned by Alderman J. R. Nut- written and edited by Council- Chambers et al., which is the inuing grinding ax of political ution sought to mislead the public regard to the issues at stake, viz., people.

The first paragraph of the card, et that three committees of council ferred at different times with the cials of the company in reference certain questions of difference," is htly erroneous, and unless cor- ted might lead the public to be- the members of three com- actually conferred. When n into consideration that ifteen members of the three s, and that only three of er of the committees ever con- with the officials of the Geor- ailway and Electric Company, tement, while no doubt not eaning to mislead, is, in fact, at to- variance with what did occur.

No member of either committee ever ferred with the Georgia Railway cials except Councilman Cham- rs, Alderman Nutting and Council- n Mayson, and I here and now ert that no member of the com- ittee outside of these three ever new what was going on. I further nge that if twenty-six members re pledged to abide the secret ses- ons of the constituted authorities, at they did not know that the reement they were entering into s a wholesale delivery to corporate ers of every right that the city Atlanta has left excepting its wa- works, and that in due time there come a realization of the infamy t to be practiced, and that a nt number of the twenty-six look to their constituents' inter- rather than conspire with those make a business of politics.

no serious complaint to Alderman Nutting for card, and I don't charge of it ever emanated from or that he knew much than he did about the he so willingly sub- private opinion is that of a ring in Nutting's takes less than jelly- utting to follow. I any member of the council that there are certain members, and one amongst the most prominent is Councilman Chambers, whose business is politics, who can afford to give up time to juggle with committees and jockey with council members. I realize that to such an extent has Mr. Chambers pursued his persistency that it has become an open joke that council is afraid to oppose him. When the time arrives that by coercion, be it influence or otherwise, that I must cast my vote without knowing what I am doing, then the second ward will have to elect another alderman.

"Alderman Nutting is to be congratulated for the boldness of signing a card that was written and edited by someone else. He says he has been criticised by some of his warmest friends, and now that through his efforts,' the city is about to reap such a rich fruitage, he and other members of the committee have been brought to task by Alderman McClelland, who failed to accomplish the impossible.

They May "Fall Out."

"I am afraid, if the alderman insists upon prominently mentioning his 'ego' that he and Chambers will 'fall out,' and not attributing to these gentlemen any more than to myself the adage 'that when thieves fall out, honest men get their dues,' it certainly appears that at least one of the anti-commissioners is still ready for the people to vote and control all matters. Some of the violent ones apparently lined up to the anti-commission crowd. I never have criticised the honesty of any man's views on this question, but it is funny what strange bed fellows politics will make. Mr. Nutting, I should say 'card et al.,' knows that the settlement proposed is meant to forever stifle competition in electric lights and power. Card et al. knows that the pitiful morsel held out means that Atlanta shall accept it and sell her birthright. Why, if this settlement was 'a settlement,' as Mr. Arkwright stated it was, did not the learned constituted authorities inquire as to what reduction would be made on street lighting? Atlanta is now paying $57 for its arc lights, and no reduction is made to this in the agreement. Other cities are getting arc lights at 40 per cent less. Other cities are getting light and power for 50 per cent less, and Atlanta and her citizens are supposed to stand for two or three men secretly contracting to forever agree to be non-competing to the corporation.

"In conclusion, it would be intelligent for the 'card et al.' to explain to the public the legal authority for the statement that 'the city has no power or authority to prevent the leasing of these properties and making it a merger without a merger.' I take it that the distinction without a difference, and that calling tweedledie tweedle-dum will not have very much effect upon those really interested. It may satisfy the politicians, and the onslaught of concerted action to defeat the equilization of taxes and the building of an electric light plant may defeat me for mayor, but I here and now promise that the publicity given in the press and free speech will be so plainly put that 'though he be a wayfaring man and a fool, he may read as he runs,' and when I have accomplished the equalization of taxes and competition with public utility corporations, whether I be a private citizen, alderman or mayor, I shall be more than compensated for the petty controversies this fight has brought about.

NELSON GIANONE DIES FROM THROAT TROUBLE

Nelson A. Gianone, 39 years old, a well-known member of the Italian colony here, and proprietor of the Piedmont barber shop, died from paralysis of the throat at the residence, 9 Williams street, about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. For five weeks he had suffered from throat trouble, but had been up and at his shop until as late as Tuesday evening. The day of his death he had risen and dressed fully, when an attack came on, and after gasping thirty minutes he practically strangled to death before a doctor could reach him.

Mr. Gianone had lived here eight years. He leaves a widow, a child, his father, four brothers and four sisters. Macon was his old home, and his body will be taken there at noon today for burial.

CARS TOPPLED INTO THE RIVER

New York Central's Crack Flyer Wrecked Near Poughkeepsie.

Thirteen Persons Injured When Twentieth Century Limited Left Track and Rolled Into River—Thick Ice on River Prevented a Horror.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 13.—Thirteen persons injured, several severely, but none, it is believed, mortally, sums up the night's casualties caused by the wreck of the first section of the southbound Twentieth Century limited, the New York Central's crack flyer, a mile south of Hyde Park, near this city, this morning.

Rushing behind schedule at an estimated speed of sixty miles an hour, and rounding a curve close by the banks of the Hudson, the train struck a broken rail and five cars left the track and plunged down an embankment and into the ice-covered river.

Saved by Thick Ice.

The thick ice coating of the stream acted as a check to the rush of the cars and kept them from sliding into deep water, while the steel construction of the coaches probably prevented a far worse disaster. Had the river been free of ice the derailed cars probably would have gone into deep water and many persons been drowned. As it was, the ice held the cars, but water entered some of the sleepers to the depth of the lower berths and gave many of the sleeping passengers an icy bath.

All the passengers in the cars in the river were rescued without great difficulty. Planks were run out to the car windows and passengers made their way to shore over these improvised bridges.

Those of the injured that were unable to help themselves were carried out, and all those requiring surgical attention were placed on board other trains and rushed to New York city.

The train was running in two sections, the second section was but ten minutes behind the first, and the wreck of the first had set a dangerous trap for it. Frank Lee, conductor of the wrecked train, however, stepped into the breach and saved a second possible disaster. Lee was in the rear of the observation car when the wreck occurred and was pinned underneath some seats. His head was badly cut and he was otherwise bruised, but he managed to extricate himself, and, bleeding as he was from his injuries, ran back and flagged the second section.

Some Thrilling Stories.

Many of the passengers related thrilling stories.

"It was the worst wreck I ever saw and the escape of the passengers was marvelous," said J. J. Burnett, a New York Central official of Chicago. "We can all be thankful that we were in steel cars instead of the old type of wooden ones."

The train which was wrecked left Chicago yesterday afternoon. It was a little late in leaving Albany this morning, but on its ordinary running time should have reached this city not much later than 9:40 o'clock. It was a few moments before 9 o'clock when it struck the broken rail and met with disaster. Five cars in all were derailed out of the seven which made up the train. In all, there were about fifty passengers on the wrecked section, and according to those at the scene at the time of the rescue nearly two score of them were pulled out of the water-logged cars.

While many of these were badly shaken up, some bruised and most of them suffering from the shock of their sudden immersion, only the baker's dozen injured were badly hurt enough to require medical attention.

SUGAR EVIDENCE HAS DISAPPEARED

Setback for Government in Prosecuting Trust Magnates.

Scores of Letters Needed to Establish Case Against Defendants Mysteriously Missing—Government's Attorney Nettled by Development.

New York, March 13.—The government met an unexpected setback today in its prosecution of directors and officers of the American Sugar Refining Company under the criminal clauses of the anti-trust law when all day questioning of witnesses failed to disclose the whereabouts of some of the most needed documentary evidence. Scores of letters and records wanted by the government to prove its charge that the defendants, John E. Parsons, Washington B. Thomas, George H. Frazier, Arthur Donner and Thomas B. Harned conspired to get control and close down the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, had disappeared, according to the evidence adduced both from the files of the American Sugar Refining Company and those of individual defendants.

Wise Visibly Nettled.

District Attorney Wise was visibly nettled at the failure to obtain this evidence and especially at the attitude of some of the witnesses.

Horace R. Havemeyer, son of the late H. O. Havemeyer, former head of the "sugar trust," and one of the executors of his father's estate, was asked to produce a letter written to his father by Charles R. Heike, convicted secretary of the company, said to bear upon the $1,250,000 loan which it is alleged Havemeyer anonymously made to Adolph Segal, owner of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company, through the late Gustave E. Kissel, who was also indicted.

"I was unable to find such a letter," said the witness in curt tones.

"Were you able to find any papers among your father's private effects regarding the $1,250,000 loan?"

"I was not," he replied.

Heike, whose conviction for underweighing frauds is now under appeal, will be called as a witness for the government, District Attorney Wise said today, and it was intimated that his testimony would be of sensational nature.

Offered a Dying Statement.

William Thorn Kissel, son of Gustave E. Kissel, was unable to produce several letters sought by the government, but on cross-examination offered a dying statement of his father, which, while marked for identification, was not admitted in evidence. The elder Kissel made a general denial of the statement that he had entered into a conspiracy to ruin Segal and declared Segal had told him it made no difference who it was that loaned him the $1,250,000.

"Mr. Kissel," the statement reads, "said he asked Mr. Havemeyer why he did not want the loan to be known as coming from him and Mr. Havemeyer said:

"'Because I want it made in your name; isn't that reason enough?'

"Segal, however," the statement continues, "suspected who had actually made the loan, for he would say, 'of course I am not supposed to know' and laugh, and had asked him if there was any chance of selling his Pennsylvania Sugar Refining stock to the lender."

PROSPERITY OF FARMERS' UNION POINTED OUT BY PRES. BARRETT

Union City, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) President Charles S. Barrett has issued the following card to officers and members of the Farmers' Union:

"To my mind, one of the most significant facts in current American history is that the Farmers' Union is today greater in membership than at any period since the founding. The producer in this country is at last awakened to the necessity of organization. What this means in the agricultural, the economic and the political life of the nation is not easily estimated.

Record Membership.

"From reports made me by state officials, and from my recent travels, which have embraced virtually every state organized, I find more money in the state treasuries and a greater paid-up membership than ever before. The membership includes residents of three-fourths of the states, and farmers of every grade, from the one-horse variety on up to the very wealthy individual. Throughout the rank and file there is a new attitude toward the interests of the farmer, a new loyalty toward co-operation and an aggressiveness that is new in American organization.

"It is essential, however, if the organization is to remain at top-notch in numbers and efficiency that both officers and members bear in mind and practice certain broad principles. One of the first is the exercise of due care in the matter of leadership. The Farmers' Union, like any other great body, whether religious, civic or otherwise, has its rascals, its lukewarm brethren, its hypocrites and its snakes in the grass. We are gradually shaking them out of the organization, and there are fewer in now than at any time. But the fight to keep down this element must be an eternal one, if the organization is to succeed, permanently. Farmers' organizations have, heretofore, made slow progress because of the pitiful scarcity of men who, in the first place really understood the farmer, and who, in the second place, were willing and ready to make sacrifices for him, in other words, who were willing to pay the price.

Leader Must Be Strong.

"It is not sufficient that a leader be an excellent business man or brainy, as that word is generally understood. I can point you to plenty of ordinarily able men, brilliant men, in fact, who would make an absolute failure in heading a farmers' movement. The leader who steers a farmers' organization, and that means its various branches, including business enterprises, to success, must stand ready to be knocked down and dragged out by the brethren time and again, and then come back again and serve them humbly. He must put health, strength and self-interest cheerfully on the altar for them. When the brethren go back on the promises they made at a hallelujah convention, and they are apt to do that at any time, he must go along as if nothing had happened and believe they'll come right after a while.

"CHARLES S. BARRETT."

ACTION ON RAY PAPERS CALLED VERY "UNUSUAL"

Washington, March 13.—Brigadier General E. H. Crowder, judge advocate general of the army, testified before the house committee on war department expenditures today that the transfer of papers in the Major Beecher B. Ray case from the office of the chief of staff to the custody of Brigadier General Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, and warm personal friend of President Taft, was an "unusual procedure."

General Crowder said it was the first instance of the kind he had known in thirty-one years' commissioned service in the army. He defended former Chief of Staff J. Franklin Bell, however, saying the latter had authority to make exceptions to a regulation of the war department which designates the adjutant general's office as the record office.

General Crowder said he had searched the papers to see if any disciplinary action could be taken against Major Ray, who, it has been asserted, escaped court-martial because of his political friendship with President Taft. General Crowder said he found that the statutes of limitation barred prosecution of Ray except on a charge of illicit relations with the wife of his clerk, and that there was not sufficient evidence in the papers he saw to support such a charge.

For the Parcels Post.

Boston, March 13.—Massachusetts was placed on record today as favoring the parcels post when the senate passed a resolution to that effect in concurrence with the house.

The Roosevelt Candidacy.

Washington does not take Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy seriously. For many good reasons it refuses to believe that Mr. Roosevelt is a candidate, even although he has written a letter to seven governors. In the first place, says Washington, whose attitude is always inconoclastic and cynical, why should any more weight be attached to the letter of 1912 than that of 1904? In the letter of the former year Mr. Roosevelt, deeply sensible of the honor done him by the American people, and appreciating to the full his solemn responsibility, said that he would never again be a candidate or accept another nomination; and this year, still tied to his responsibility, he says he'll take another cup of coffee, thank you. Now, if he didn't mean what he said in 1904, does he mean what he says in 1912? Washington thinks he doesn't. What Mr. Roosevelt means or thinks he means—but isn't it a waste of time to try to explain what Mr. Roosevelt means of thinks he means? When "under no circumstances" can be translated into "I will adhere to this decision," it is evident that Mr. Roosevelt has his own code of morality as well as his own perfect understanding of the English language. It is great fun being a candidate, but it is not quite so funny to be mangled by the steam-roller. Suppose Mr. Roosevelt should say to his deluded supporters on the eve of the convention: "I adhere to my decision, and I now decide that I am no longer a candidate, for realizing to the full,' 'etc. (for details see letters of November 8, 1904, and February 24, 1912), would any one be surprised? Washington, at least, would not.—A. Maurice Low, in Harper's Weekly.

BOARD INDORSES PROPOSED ROAD

New Line Planned to Connect South Georgia and West Florida.

Waycross, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) At an enthusiastic meeting at the board of trade of Waycross tonight, hearty indorsement of the proposed through passenger service from Pensacola to the east through connection with the Atlantic Coast Line at Climax, Ga., was given, and special committees named to take immediate action. Representatives from a number of points interested were present and made talks on the subject.

Among those here were President C. E. Dobson, of the Pensacola Commercial Association; J. H. Smithwick, of the transportation committee of that body; G. P. Gregory, mayor of Blackshear, and L. M. Aldrich, of New York. The Coast Line had representation at the meeting.

President J. L. Sweat, of the board of trade, named a committee consisting of Mayor Harry D. Reed, L. J. Cooper, Dan Lott, C. Fort Andrews and George W. Deen to handle the proposition for the Waycross organization. Following a conference of the committee and the representatives from Pensacola and other points, W. J. Craig, passenger traffic manager of the Coast Line, was asked to select a point and date for a conference on the subject at as early a date as possible. All commercial organizations of cities interested will co-operate in this conference.

This proposed connection will give a convenient through service from all west Florida points to south Georgia, Savannah and all eastern points. It is expected that this will greatly stimulate business and general intercourse between these points and result in much advantage to all sections. That part of the proposition involving the co-operation of Louisville and Nashville railroad will be handled by the Pensacola and west Florida trade organizations.

NEAL BANK IN TROUBLE OVER ALABAMA ASSETS

More trouble in collecting the assets of the defunct Neal bank, which failed several years ago, was brought to light in the Fulton superior court Wednesday when a petition for injunction against O. A. Smith, individually, and the O. A. Smith Roofing & Contracting Co., in relation to the collection of a $200,000 debt owed the Neal bank, was granted by Judge J. T. Pendleton.

The restraining order prevents the two defendants from giving testimony or in any way assisting the attorneys in the suit which has been brought in the courts of Clay county, Alabama, to dissolve the Alabama Sulphur, Ore and Copper Company, into which the Alabama Pyrites Company was merged several years ago. A second suit asking that a received be appointed for five acres of land owned by O. A. Smith and situated on the Southern railway near the Exposition Cotton Mills, was also filed. The Central Bank & Trust Corporation, acting as receiver for the Neal bank, was the petitioner.

In the first suit the allegation is made that Smith, through various means, is endeavoring to show that the $200,000 in notes held by the Neal bank are valueless because the Alabama Sulphur, Ore and Copper Company charter was not legally granted. It also charges that Smith is behind the suit entered by the state of Alabama to dissolve the company and that the attorneys prosecuting the case are receiving the assistance and being paid by Smith.

The second suit declares that a lease, fraudulently antedating the bank's mortgage has prevented a foreclosure and asks that a receiver be appointed pending an investigation.

CATTLE QUARANTINE LIFTED IN THE SOUTH

Washington, March 13.—The cattle fever tick quarantine is about to be removed from more than 14,000 square miles of territory in the south. Secretary Wilson today signed an order removing the restriction from certain portions of Texas, Mississippi, Georgia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Missouri and California. The order will become effective March 25. This will make a total of more than 160,000 square miles which has been freed during the last few years by the department of agriculture of the tick disease.

GEORGE W. PERKINS BUYS A NEWSPAPER

New York, March 13.—George W. Perkins, one time partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., has acquired a large interest in the Mail and Express Company, publishers of The New York Evening Mail, according to The Herald today.

PITNEY IS PLACED ON SUPREME BENCH

His Nomination Is Confirmed by the Senate After a Stiff Fight.

Washington, March 13.—Mahlon Pitney, chancellor of the state of New Jersey, President Taft's nominee to succeed the late Justice Harlan on the supreme bench, was finally confirmed today by the senate by a vote of 50 to 26. Justice Pitney will come to Washington Monday.

These republican senators voted against Mr. Pitney's confirmation: Bourne, Bristow, Kenyon, Cummins and Poindexter.

These democrats voted against him: Bacon, Bryan, Chamberlain, Culberson, Gardner, Gore, Hitchcock, Johnson, Kern, Lea, Myers, Newlands, O'Gorman, Pomerene Rayner, Reed, Shively, Smith of Georgia, Smith of South Carolina, Taylor and Williams.

The senate's consideration of Justice Pitney today was in the fourth executive session it has had on his nomination and the vigorous fight against him because of his decision in a glass blowers' strike case did not abate until the last moment. The session lasted two hours.

Senator Reed, who has been prominent in the fight against the jurist's confirmation, declared that Former Senator Murphy, of New Jersey, was one of those backing the nomination. He assailed Mr. Murphy severely and charged that Justice Pitney had been indorsed by two members of counsel for the steel corporation.

Senator Briggs challenged Senator Reed to divulge the source of his information, but he declined to do so.

Justice Pitney's commission was signed as soon as the senate had confirmed him.

WHILE BOARDING TRAIN HE COMMITS SUICIDE

Shreveport, La., March 13.—John F. Herbert, aged 53, residing in New Orleans and formerly of Morgan City, La., killed himself at the union station here today by shooting himself through the heart just as he was in the act of stepping upon the platform of a passenger coach. He left a note saying business affairs and a fear of insanity drove him to the taking of his life. He was a large owner of real estate in Mexico.

His wife and a niece had been here for several days.

Trial of Bath Tub Men.

Detroit, Mich., March 13.—Arguments to the jury in the trial of the so-called "bath tub trust," charged with criminal conspiracy to restrain tared, were completed today. Federal Judge Angell is expected to read his charge to the jury at the opening session tomorrow.

Mother and Son Indicted.

London, Kentucky, March 13.—Mrs. Alice Jordi and her son, H. C. Jordi, were indicted here today for the murder of the woman's husband and the boy's stepfather, Albert Jordi. The latter was found dead in a well with his skull fractured some weeks ago.

CRIED DAY AND NIGHT WITH ECZEMA

Baby a Mass of Sores. Looked for His Death any Minute. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Brought First Good Sleep for Two Years. Soon Cured.

R. F. D. 4, Mt. Gilead, Ohio. — "When my little boy was a week old he was taken with eczema and I was looking for his death any minute. First his face turned so red, but I did not pay any attention to it. It began to get worse and he just tossed his little head to and fro on the pillow and cried day and night. He began to scratch himself so that I had to muffle his little hands, and then the rash began to go over his whole body until he was a mass of running sores. The more I doctored the worse he got. He had it so bad that his little ears began to rot off and his scalp was something awful to look at. I saw the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment advertised and got a bar of Cuticura Soap, making a lather all over his body with the Soap and hot water and then I dried him off well and anointed him with the Cuticura Ointment. He went right to sleep and slept four hours, the first good sleep he had had for very nearly two years, so I kept on using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it was no time before his skin began to get well. Soon he was completely cured. He is sixteen years old now and has not had a sign of the eczema since he was cured by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. N. M. Beecher, Sept. 12, 1911.

No stronger evidence than this could be given of the success and economy of warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment in the treatment of torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin. CLEAN-UP WORK WILL START SOON

Chairman Haden Hopes to Secure Necessary Funds in Few Days.

Chairman Charles J. Haden, of the chamber of commerce sanitation committee, declared yesterday afternoon that if he succeeded in securing a sufficient joint appropriation from the chamber and the city council the campaign of education for a "cleaner Atlanta" would start next week some time.

"I do not anticipate any trouble in securing the few hundred dollars which will be necessary for the success of this very important undertaking. The people of Atlanta have never turned a deaf ear to a proposition of such vital importance as this is, and we expect a ready response to the call for volunteers.

"It will be necessary to have a few picked workers. We will need about three or four committees, and we will want from three to five members on each committee. I am not going to appoint any but men who are interested in this great human fight, and I am going to get the promise of their aid before I announce their appointment.

"There was never a great move started anywhere that did not require real leaders. We must have twenty leading Atlanta men who are interested sufficiently in the growth and development of the city to make a sacrifice and give up some of their time to the work. I have already received assurances that I can secure the help required. We will get the necessary funds and then be ready for our fight against filth and dirt to save human lives."

Ready for the Work.

There was a meeting yesterday afternoon of some of the men who attended the Tuesday night conference at the chamber of commerce building. They discussed informally the best methods for securing publicity and getting in touch with the working people of Atlanta and others who are not specially interested in the campaign. A number of propositions were discussed, but it was thought best not to make any public announcement until after the various propositions have been put into the hands of the committees.

It is probable that all the committees will be named and the actual work started within the next week or ten days at the outside.

While the educational campaign is on other committees will be named to take up other phases of the work.

Some Reforms Needed.

One of the matters uppermost in the minds of the members of the general committee is the establishment of a free bath house for colored persons.

At the meeting Tuesday night it was declared that there was not more than one bathtub to every 100 negro houses in the city, and in order to bring the lesson of cleanliness to thousands of negroes of the city in a practical manner it has been decided that public bath houses shall be erected. Committees on ways and means will be named to take up this matter at an early date, and this is probably one of the sweeping reforms that will be first urged.

Another matter to be taken up is that in regard to paving thickly populated allies. A large per cent of the negro homes of the city are located on back alleys on which there is no paving and consequently the sanitary conditions are about as bad as could be imagined. At present there is no law to cover such places and it is probable that a bill will be drafted and presented to the legislature this summer covering this matter.

DR. STARNES' FREE LECTURE ON GRAND OPERA TONIGHT

Dr. Percy J. Starnes, organist of the Atlanta Music Festival Association, will give a free lecture and interpretation of the well-known operas, "Cavalleria" and "Pagliacci," at the Auditorium tonight beginning at 8.15 o'clock.

There will be no charge for admission and the public is cordially invited.

Dr. Starnes will discuss the operas and will render leading selections from both of them on the great Auditorium organ, including the Intermezzo from "Cavalleria," which is world famous, and the sob song from "Pagliacci," which, as rendered by Caruso, is considered one of the strongest and most artistic pieces of music in all grand opera.

This lecture will deal with the double bill which is to be presented by the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company here at the matinee, Thursday afternoon, April 25.

The sale of season tickets for the grand opera season continued most gratifying Wednesday, the sales for the day aggregating $1,578, making a total to date of $30,212. This amount is more than half of the guarantee fund required by the management of the opera company.

The sale will continue right along until April 4, when single tickets will go on sale. Tickets may be had either at the Cable Piano Company on Broad street, near Peachtree, or at Phillips & Crew's, on Pryor street between Auburn avenue and Houston.

LITTLE GIRL ASKS FOR HELP IN FINDING MISSING FATHER

"Here is my picture. If papa is still alive and sees the paper I hope that he will come home. I want to see him so badly."

That is the plaintive message in a letter received by The Constitution from Virmell McDougal, a 12-year-old girl who lives on R. F. D. No. 1, Cabot, Ark.

"Please ask the Woodmen of the World men to help us find papa," the letter continues. "We do not know where he is, but think that he is somewhere in the south, and perhaps you can help us find him and bring him back home.

"His name is T. N. McDougal.

"If papa sees this he'll love his little girl. Oh, if I could find him!" is the rather abrupt ending of the letter.

The letter fails to state any information in regard to her father's age, appearance or occupation. The fact that he is a member of the Woodmen of the World will interest the members of that order in Atlanta and throughout the entire south in the little girl's search for her missing father.

ATLANTA LOSES DEKALB AVE. FIGHT IN SUPREME COURT

Atlanta has lost her fight to make the Seaboard Air Line pay for improvements on DeKalb avenue, along the right of way of that railroad.

The supreme court Wednesday rendered a decision in which it upholds the superior court in granting an injunction, prohibiting the collection of an assessment against the railroad company for improvements on this street.

The contentions of the railroad company as made in the lower court are sustained. The court had already ruled against the right to levy on and sell railroad right of way, in claims for street assessments, in other cases. It was also held that the railroad company took a proper course in applying for injunction, and that the court did not abuse its discretion in granting it.

The indications are, therefore, that the city will have to foot the DeKalb avenue bill itself.

MACON SLEUTH ESCAPES GANG

Sixty-Day Sentence for Selling Liquor Removed From J. E. Bunch.

Macon, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—A sixty-day chaingang sentence, which was imposed on City Detective J. E. Bunch over three years ago for selling liquor, has been removed by the mayor and council in unanimous action. Bunch was convicted in 1908, during the administration of Mayor Miller, and by appealing the sentence he stayed off the chaingang. His appeals were denied, and in the meantime he was reappointed city detective by the Moore administration.

No effort was made to make Bunch serve out his sentence, and the case remained open on the docket. Recently he petitioned for the removal of the sentence, and this petition has been granted.

400 Bottles of Booze Stolen.

Macon, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The store room of John Murphy, on Cotton avenue, a few doors above the city hall, was burglarized last night, and whisky worth $200 was stolen, more than 400 bottles being taken. Today the police arrested Will Dean, a negro, who confesses that he is one of three who robbed the place. The theft was reported by Murphy, but the police have not returned the whisky to him as yet, as it is possible that a case will be made against him.

Object to Superintendent Kaderly.

Macon, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—Unless Vice President J. B. Munson, of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, tomorrow discharges Superintendent of Motive Power Kaderly, every employee of the shops will strike. This was the ultimatum given Mr. Munson by a committee from the employees this afternoon. There are about eighty men in the shops. The trouble arose over the discharge of several old employees whose places were taken by men from Superintendent Kaderly's home town in North Carolina. Six blacksmiths have already struck because Jake Willis, for twenty-seven years foreman of the shop, was discharged.

Ad. Men Meet Tonight.

VEGETABLES MAY BE SOME CHEAPER

Florida Fruit Man Tells of the Fruit and Truck Shipments Made This Spring.

That early vegetables from Florida will be cheaper this year than ever before is the opinion of J. M. Simmons, of Jacksonville, the southern representative of the New York Fruitman's Guide. Mr. Simmons is in Atlanta after a trip through the fruit and vegetable district.

Mr. Simmons declares that there is yet quite a large amount of oranges and grape fruit to be moved.

The general conditions, he declares, indicates that all fresh veegtables and fruit should be cheaper in the future.

A high railroad official of Florida, one of the best posted men on the citrus crop in the state, thinks there are nearly a million boxes still to go out, but Mr. Simmons declares 750,000 boxes the limit. There have been shipped during the season of the Florida citrus crop of 1911-12 on all transportation lines, approximately 3,900,000 boxes or 13,000 cars of oranges, grape fruit and tangerines. With the estimate of 750,000 boxes yet to be shipped, the total of the Florida crop will approximate 4,600,000, or a little more than the 1910-11 crop.

Discussing the conditions further, Mr. Simmons said:

"This will be somewhat of a surprise to a majority of the best posted produce men, both in Florida and in the markets of the country, as it was thought since the Christmas rush was over, that the Florida crop would be less than 4,000,000 boxes. The reason for this is that owing to the long-continued warm summer weather, with rains last fall, the crop was later coloring and the movement to market started much later, and further that the June, or late bloom, was heavier last year than usual. There is considerable of that crop yet to be shipped.

"Prices are a little higher this week in Florida, but it is not thought that there will be much change through the remainder of the season.

"The cabbage crop is short this year in Florida, and they are bringing $2.25 to $2.75 per crate f.o.b. Coleman and other shipping centers.

"The strawberry crop is moving more freely from Plant City, Manatee section, and some from east coast. Celery from the great Sanford center is scarce and high, selling in New York at $9 to $12. The stock is not choice at that.

"Lettuce is coming more freely in the second crop, and is better than the first crop.

"The tomato movement from Miami and along the east coast is now getting in full swing.

"Peas, beans, squash, peppers, radishes and other small vegetables are coming in and prices are not soaring like they have been. On the whole, Florida vegetables should be more plentiful and cheaper to the consumers than they have been, and this should be good news to the public, which has been wrestling of late with the high cost of living problem."

Longshoremen Peaceful.

Gulfport, Miss., March 13.—After the fruitless effort yesterday of the citizens' mass meeting to effect a settlement of the strike of longshoremen, there seemed to be a tacit understanding that the strike should continue along peaceful lines. J. W. Corry, of the firm of Corry and Company, steamship agents, today withdrew the affidavit filed yesterday against J. H. Duff, union organizer, charging criminal libel.

Additional strike breakers have been brought here and the loading of vessels today is proceeding with but little interruption.

RECOVERS HIS HEALTH, THEN DIES FROM FALL

After coming south in search of health, and completely recovering, Charles J. Bloomquist, of Chicago, recently fell from a building on which he was working, and, contracting tuberculosis through the wound, died yesterday morning in a private sanatorium. His wife and children in Chicago were notified and his body will be removed there for funeral and burial.

Shortly before his death he had made arrangements to secure a home for his family which he intended removing to Atlanta just as soon as possible. A few months ago, while working on a new building, he fell from the second story, badly injuring his chest and lungs. He soon contracted tuberculosis. The money he had saved to buy a home for his wife and family was expended in medical assistance. The body was removed to the Bloomfield-Burkert undertaking establishment pending notification from the family.

GEORGIA FEATHERWEIGHT CHAMPION IN "DISPUTES"

Thomasville, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—Among the many breeds of chickens which are being raised around Thomasville there are some very handsome game ones which attract a good deal of attention. It is said that these chickens are not raised entirely for their looks, however, but some of them have at times figured quite prominently in little "disputes" that take place now and then somewhere about the line between Georgia and Florida.

Though not advertised in the newspapers, by some telepathic communication, perhaps, the time and place of these "disputes" always seem to be well enough known to gather a crowd, and a fine attendance is always on hand from both states. It is said that in the last bout the Georgia chicken proved champion, and it is rumored around that Florida is not satisfied, but may send out a challenge in the near future to dispute the championship, having a featherweight that, it is said, is superior to the Georgia one.

JOHNSON MAY RUN FOR PRISON COMMISSIONER

Hazlehurst, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) Dr. S. W. Johnson, of this place, when interviewed today concerning rumors that he would be a candidate for congressman from the eleventh district, admitted that he was being urged to make the race, but said he was rather inclined to offer for the position of prison commissioner instead. He stated that an announcement to this effect might be expected within the next few days.

HER HUSBAND WAS PARALYTIC BUT STRONG WITH OTHER WOMEN

Cleveland, Ohio, March 13.—Mrs. Clara C. Churchill, daughter of J. E Upson, socially prominent in Cleveland and wealthy, was in common pleas court today for the hearing accorded the suit of her paralytic husband against his wife for support. She sat blankly staring at a wall while letter after letter from other women to her husband, most of them replete with endearing phrases, was read.

Eugene H. Churchill was wheeled into court in an invalid chair. His lower limbs have been useless since 1906. The couple were married in 1904 and he testified they lived happily until the paralytic stroke came, after which Mrs. Churchill left him.

One of the letters to Churchill began:

"My darling 'Gene," and closed, "Always your loving Annie."

Judge Vickery decided against Churchill, finding as follows:

"I find that Mr. Upson practically has been supporting Mr. Churchill and his wife, Mr. Upson's daughter, all their married life. Despite this Churchill conducted a vigorous correspondence with numerous lady friends of his all over the country. That in itself would justify Mrs. Churchill's desertion of the man.

"The point is that Churchill wants to live all his life on his wealthy father-in-law. My decree is that he is not entitled to it."

Churchill's attorney sought to explain that the letters were from Christian science practitioners who were seeking to heal Churchill.

MRS. "JACK" CUDAHY WANTS HER CHILDREN

Pasadena, Cal., March 13.—When the preliminary examination of Morris J. Condery, charged with attempted burglary at her home, is concluded, Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy, divorced wife of the millionaire Chicago packer, will start east in search of her three children, who, she said today, had been taken to Chicago without her knowledge.

Mrs. Cudahy said the children, Edna, 11 years old, Marie, 9, and Anne, 7, were in a convent near Alhambra, Cal., where they had been placed by Mrs. Michael Cudahy, of Pasadena, who was named their guardian when "Jack" Cudahy and his wife were divorced.

The mother said she was preparing to go to see them, when she was informed that they were in Chicago.

Chicago, March 13.—None of the Cudahy family, ordinarily residents in this city, could be found today. Friends of the family denied that the children are here.

DEMOCRATS STAND BY THEIR SENATOR

Trenton, N. J., March 13.—The New Jersey state senate late this afternoon voted not to expel Senator Richard Fitzherbert, of Morris couny, as a member of that body. The vote was a strictly party one, the eleven republican senators voting for expulsion and the seven democrats voting in the negative. eSnators Silzer and Slocum (democrats) were absent. While there was a majority vote, expulsion failed because the proposition did not receive a two-thirds vote of the senate required by the constitution.

Tht action by the senate permits Senator Fitzherbert to continue in his seat unless the senate should, in some other way, by a majority vote take adverse action against him. Senator Fitzherbert was charged with negotiating for the payment of money by a gas company for the withdrawal of bills antagonistic to the gas company's interests, which were introduced by the senator himself at the solicitation of a friend, Dr. George S. Ridner.

PROF. EDWIN A. POUND JOINS LYCEUM FORCES

Professor Edwin Aldine Pound, for the past seventeen years superintendent of the public schools of Waycross, has just resigned his position there and accepted a position with the Alkahest Lyceum system of this city as traveling representative. Professor Pound will move his family to Atlanta about the first of next June and take up his new work as soon as his present term of school closes.

Edwin Aldine Pound is a most successful platform speaker, and a live wire in managing and promoting anything that he undertakes. He has been a leader in the educational circles of Georgia for years, and his new work will only give his a broader field in this line. For the past dozen years Waycross has conducted one of the most successful lyceum courses in the state.

Waycross is planning now to hold a big chautauqua this summer under the auspices of the board of trade, which is the culmination of Professor Pound's work in that city. He is a brother of Hon. Jerry M. Pound, of Barnesville, the former state school commissioner.

Cleaning Up Albany.

As in the last clean-up campaign, the ladies will take personal charge of the work, have supervision of the city carts and sanitary force and all other vehicles engaged in the work. White flags will be displayed in front of every dwelling whose premises are found to be spotless, and even the school children will be enlisted to make the work complete.

MAINE WILL REST IN OCEAN GRAVE

Wreck of the Old Battleship to Be Sunk Next Saturday.

Havana, March 13.—The program of ceremonies in connection with the burial at sea of the old battleship Maine next Saturday was perfected tonight. According to the arrangements the bodies of the dead Maine will be removed tomorrow night from Cabanas to the city hall, where they will lie in state from 2 o'clock Friday afternoon until 10 o'clock Saturday morning. They then will be escorted with full honors to the wharf, where they will be received by Brigadier General W. H. Bixby, chief of the engineer corps, United States army, and taken aboard the armored cruiser North Carolina.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Maine will leave the harbor under tow, escorted by the North Carolina and the scout cruiser Birmingham, four Cuban gunboats and a flotilla of steamers carrying the cabinet officers, diplomatic representatives, officials, various societies and the general public. The steamers will proceed outside the maritime limit, where the sinking of the Maine will be effected by opening the sea valves.

FOR $10,000,000 RAISE ENGINEERS WILL FIGHT

New York, March 13.—"The conference may be a long one. We go in with an open mind. Our requests are justifiable. We will try to bring about an amicable settlement."

This was the statement of Warren Schuyler Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, on reaching here today with his committee of 50, representing the entire body of engine drivers on the eastern railroads who are demanding more pay and will begin a wage conference tomorrow with the committee of officials of 48 eastern railroads.

About $10,000,000 a year in extra wages is involved, say the railroads. A year or so ago the men on the western roads got a net raise estimated at 15 per cent, which the eastern road engineers desire to have equalized.

Woodstock Warehouse Burns.

Woodstock, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) Perkinson, McAfee & Latimer's store and warehouse burned to the ground this morning about 3:30 o'clock. There was nothing saved from the buildings as the fire originated in the front of the store room and had made good its start before it was discovered. There is no clue as to how the fire originated, it being on the inside. The amount of stock carried will probably reach $12,000 with $5,000 insurance, and $2,000 on the two buildings. They will rebuild at once, have opened up in a small building just north of their old place until they can rebuild.

NO WAR SUPPLIES FOR MEXIC REBELS

The United States to Stop Shipments of Arms and Ammunition.

Senate Adopts Amendment to Neutrality Laws Which Will Put Quietus on "Gun Runners"—Taf. Asked for the Adoption of Amendment.

Washington, March 13.—Revolutions, filibustering, expeditions or the promotion of domestic violence in any country in Pan-America hereafter may not hope for war supplies of any description from the United States.

This principle, proclaimed today in a concurrent resolution, adopted by the senate at the instance of President Taft, is practically certain to be passed by the house tomorrow.

Though aimed primarily to meet the inadequacies of the present neutrality laws, to which the Mexican government called the president's attention, the resolution, when put into effect, will empower President Taft to prohibit at his discretion, through the issuance of a proclamation, the exportation of ammunitions of war to any country with which the United States is at peace.

Anticipating summary action by the house tomorrow, where Representative Burleson, of Texas, will take charge of the measure, treasury department and war department officials tonight issued instruction virtually halting all shipments of arms into Mexico until the resolution is declared effective.

Stopping the Loopholes.

Loopholes for the violation of neutrality laws admittedly are many and professional promoters of revolutions in Latin-America, through varying devices, have succeeded in evading the statutes. To eradicate this, the president told members of the senate foreign relations committee and the Texas congressional delegation early today that he required discretionary authority to rule upon individual cases or it would be difficult to maintain peace hereafter in Pan-America.

Senator Root immediately framed a resolution to give to the president comprehensive power and unanimously the senate passed the measure. To the Mexican rebels who captured Juarez recently with the sole purpose of possessing a port of entry through which they might import arms unrestrictedly, the resolution will prove a stubborn obstacle. Today's action is a departure from the policy of the United States during the Madero revolution when ports of entry held by the rebels received arms and ammunitions if regularly consigned to mrchants.

But One Argument Used.

Senator Root used but one argument in favor of breaking the precedent, however; that thousands of Americans in Mexico were fleeing from their homes there, imperiled by the very arms which had been shipped into that country by Americans.

Major General Wood, chief of staff of the army, declared tonight that probably a larger body patrol would be required to enforce the letter of the new measure. The department of justice will exercise close scrutiny upon all exports of arms from this country and it is believed unlawful shipments will be taken hereafter at points of origin.

PASSAGE OF ARMS MENACE TO MEXICAN GOVERNMENT

Mexico City, March 13.—Members of the European diplomatic corps here see in the free passage of arms through the city of Juarez the greatest menace to Mexico. They criticise today the failure of Washington to find a means to prevent the traffic, according to one of the diplomats accredited to Mexico.

He declares it is not only a menace on account of the rebellion, but because the inundation of arms is bound to spread through the republic, and its effects will be felt for years to come.

All the foreign diplomats here are alarmed, the spokesman declared, because the danger is as great to other foreigners as to citizens of the United States.

Fausto Aldama, the private secretary of Emilio Vasquez Gomez, was arrested in the city of Puebla yesterday. He was searching for Gabriel Gavira, the southern revolutionist.

MEXICAN CATTLE THIEVES RAID AN AMERICAN RANCH

Marfa, Texas, March 13.—Mexican cattle thieves raided an American ranch near Presidio, Texas, last night and got away with fifteen head of cattle, after a running fight with Wynn Kilgore, a deputy sheriff. There were five men in the band and they took the cattle across the Rio Grande. Kilgore succeeded in capturing one of the thieves, but in attempting to capture the others, his prisoner escaped. The cattle were stolen from the Pool ranch, several miles south of Presidio.

Troop G, of the Third cavalry, commanded by Captain W. P. Winters, arrived at Marfa today. Detachments of the troop will be sent to Presidio tomorrow to patrol the border.

MEXICO GREATLY PLEASED BY ACTION OF THE SENATE

Mexico, March 13.—The Root resolution, adopted by the United States senate today, was a source of gratification to officials of the Mexican government.

Since revolutionists captured Juarez, the Madero administration had confidently looked to Washington for such action. The delay has obviously been an embarrassment to the government.

Senator Root's sponsorship of the resolution was generally regarded as peculiarly appropriate in view of the high esteem in which he is held by Mexicans, his popularity dating from the visit which he made to this country while secretary of state.

ADMINISTRATION OF MADERO IS AFTER THE NEWSPAPERS

Mexico City, March 13.—Pursuing the policy which began several days ago of curbing vicious attacks upon the administration by irresponsible publications municipal authorities today arrested four men charged with being the authors of lampooning articles. A dozen or more reporters employed by daily newspapers of the capital are said to have been cited to appear in court tomorrow. The purpose of the citation was not made known.

In the early hours of the morning a brush between a small detachment of federals and a band of robbers occurred at San Bartlo, near Santa Fe, in the federal district, where the government powder factory is located. The robbers looted a store in the town. They were easily dispersed. Reports of the affair reaching the suburb of San Angel, caused most of the residents to hurry their wives and children to a central place of refuge in the village.

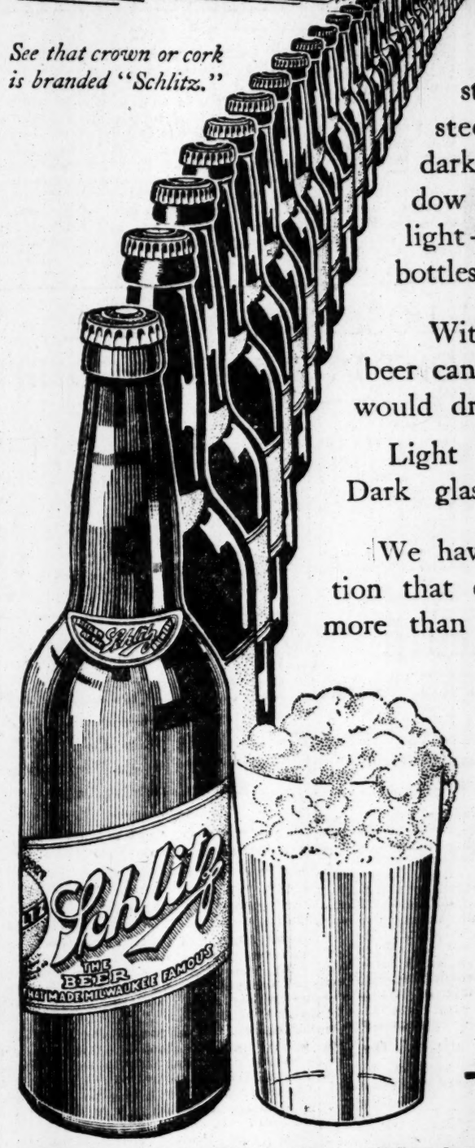
BLOODLESS VICTORY SCORED BY MEXICAN REBEL FORCES

Chihuahua, Mexico, March 13.—Once more the rebel army has scored a bloodless victory and tomorrow the onward march to the south will be resumed. Santa Rosalia, in the district of Camarago, was occupied today by General Inez Salazar without a shot having been fired by either side.

The town was abandoned when Salazar's men began their advance at noon today. The little group of government troops had fortified their position, but in face of the great odds determined to make the attempt to join the garrison at Jiminez, some fifty miles south. A detachment of Salazar's men is following them and their retreat may be checked. The garrison at Jiminez is said to comprise about 250 men.

The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the Brewery to your glass

See that crown or cork is branded "Schlitz."



Schlitz is brewed in the dark—stored for months in glass lined steel enameled tanks—bottled in darkened rooms where even the window shades are drawn to exclude the light—then sent to you in brown bottles.

Without all of these precautions, no beer can be healthful, and who knowingly would drink beer that was not.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives protection against light.

We have adopted every idea, every invention that could aid to this end. Today, more than half the cost of our brewing is spent to make and keep Schlitz beer pure.

If you knew what we know about beer, you would ask for "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles."

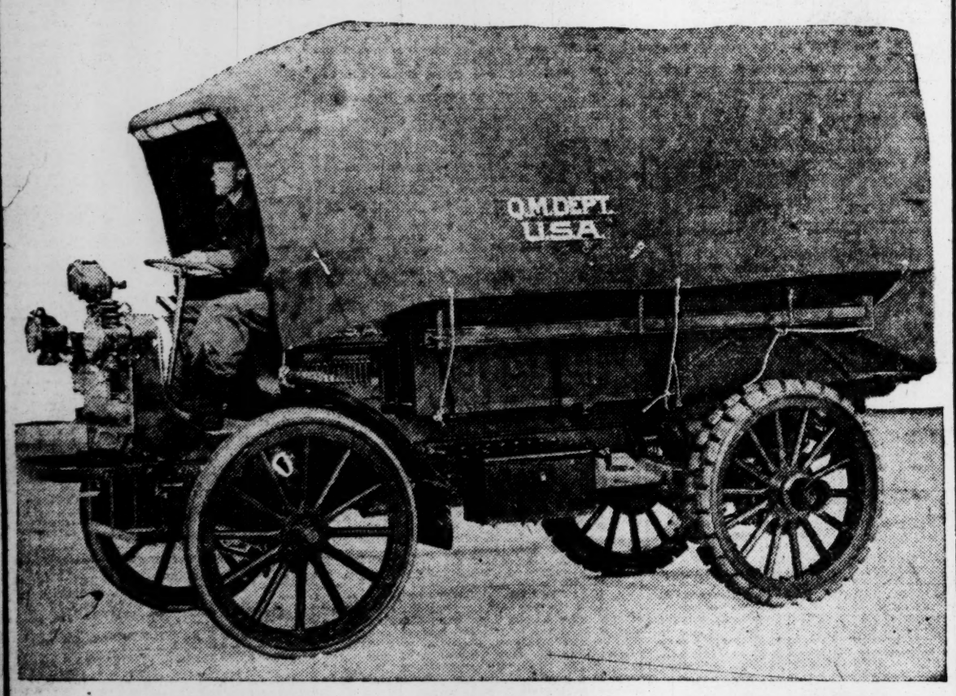
AUTO CAR TRUCK MAKES BEST RECORD IN U. S. TEST



The Auto Car Truck that arrived in Atlanta yesterday has so far made the best record of any one of the trucks entered in the government's truck test contest.

It is the only truck that has not had any mechanical replacements made since leaving Washington.

It arrived here ahead of schedule time and is the only truck that has arrived here carrying the stipulated 3,000-lb. ballast.

The route laid out by the government is from Washington to Atlanta, thence to Indianapolis, and this run imposes the severest possible test of a truck, particularly so in view of the abnormal rainfall of late which has converted the ordinary country road into a mud quagmire.

There were only four truck manufacturers willing to submit to the government's drastic test. Of this four only two have progressed thus far on the journey.

In view of the foregoing facts what is the natural conclusion you draw concerning the Auto Car Truck?

LABOR TROUBLE ON G. S. AND F. RY.

The Strike of the Blacksmiths May Extend to All the Crafts.

Macon, Ga., March 13.—Vice President Munson, of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, was closeted with a grievance committee of fifteen men from the shops of that system today from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock tonight in an effort to arrive at an amicable adjustment of the blacksmiths' strike which may become a general one among the crafts. The conference will be resumed tomorrow morning.

Some days ago Superintendent of Motive Power Kaderly, a new official, discharged a veteran foreman and substituted a mechanic from North Carolina, his home state, in his place. The blacksmiths demanded reinstatement and when it did not come they struck. If the strikers' places are filled by non-union men a general strike will be called throughout the shops. If an amicable adjustment is not made through the present conference, it is stated that the entire shop force will demand Kaderly's resignation and go on strike to get it.

INVESTORS APPEAR AGAINST E. G. LEWIS

St. Louis, March 13.—Persons who invested in notes of the Lewis Publishing Company told of their experiences today as witnesses against E. G. Lewis, whom the government is prosecuting on charges of fraudulent uses of the mails. Among these was L. F. Robinson, of Orlando, Fla., 78 years old, who said he had invested $2,320 in the Lewis enterprises and had received in return only two interest payments on a part of that amount. He said he would not have bought the publishing company's 7 per cent notes if he had thought they were unsecured, as they proved to be, or if he had known the company was losing money.

Direct inquiry into the 7 per cent note count in the indictment was finished by the government today, and tomorrow witnesses will be questioned regarding their purchases of preferred stock in the Lewis Publishing Company. Misrepresentation in the sale of this stock advertised to pay 15 per cent, is charged by the government.

COUNTRY COUNTIES ARE STABBED BY ACTION OF STATE COMMITTEE

The Committee's Action Means Elimination of the Country Counties, Declares Gov. Brown.

"It is a pity that Woodrow Wilson has been made the instrument for this attack on the constitutional rights of the people of the state, and if he has to pay the penalty by the loss of the state, which now seems inevitable, he will have nobody to blame but his friends."—Governor Joseph M Brown.

As he had thought the county unit plan had been settled once and for all in the matter of making nominations in Georgia, in the campaign of 1908, Governor Joseph M. Brown was much surprised over the action of the state executive committee which provides for the elimination of the minority from the state conventfon called on May 29 to name delegates from Georgia to the national democratic convention.

In a statement regarding the committee's action given out Wednesday, Governor Brown said that while the elimination of the country counties is aimed at, he is confident "they will rebuke this interference with their liberties and their constitutional rights."

Governor Brown's Statement.

Governor Brown's statement regarding the committee's action follows:

"The action of the committee surprises me because I thought this principle had been settled once for all at the ballot box in Georgia. It was one of the chief issues in my first campaign for governor. At that time the state committee, for obvious reasons, provided that the candidate who received the most votes for governor should have the delegation from every county in the state, even those which had voted against him. The object, of course, was to crush the minority by giving it absolutely no representation. It was not considered possible that popular indignation against this renunciation of a constitutional guarantee would put the machine responsible for the outrage in the minority, but that is exactly what happened and that is what gave me, over my protest, the vote of every delegate from every county in Georgia. I neither asked nor wanted the vote of a single county whose people had voted for somebody else at the ballot box. Above all things I thought it dangerous that the liberties and rights of the people should be thus jeopardized by the absolute elimination of minority representation, which is one of the basic principles upon which our government is founded.

Astonishing Effrontery.

"I did not dream that any committee would have the effrontery within so short a time to go back to a principle which had been so overwhelmingly repudiated and yet that is just what has been done.

Blow at Country Counties.

"According to the committee's order, every county in the state must have its delegates to the state convention chosen solely from among the supporters of the candidate for president who receives a plurality vote of the whole state. Thus four-fifths of the county may vote against one man and the vote of the other fifth could force those four-fifths to send delegates supporting a candidate against whom they had voted.

Cuts Out Country Counties.

"If such a principle as this stands, it means the elimination of the country counties of Georgia as a serious factor in the politics of the state. And it puts it within the power of ten or a dozen city counties of Georgia to absolutely control the politics of the state. Fortunately, this can be done only by the consent of the country counties themselves, and I am of the opinion that they will rebuke this interference with their liberties and their constitutional rights, just as emphatically now as they did four years ago.

"It is a pity that Woodrow Wilson has been made the instrument for this attack on the constitutional rights of the people of the state, and if he has to pay the penalty by the loss of the state, which now seems inevitable, he will have nobody to blame but his friends."

Shifty Attempt to Win at Expense of County Unit Plan, Says Mr. Watson.

"The Smith committee now abolishes the county unit plan again, and proves by doing so that they have no political convictions on the subject but go from the one plan to the other as the interests of their boss seem to require. Such shifty attempts to follow a winning policy are in line with their conduct heretofore—conduct which makes the committee and its boss afraid to give the people a fair chance at them."

THOMAS E. WATSON.

Thomson, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) Thomas E. Watson gave out a strong statement at his home here today, denouncing the action of the state executive committee in turning its back upon the county unit plan of making nominations, when it arranged for the presidential convention of May 29.

Mr. Watson, in his statement, which follows, shows wherein the committee's action was a direct blow at the constitutional rights of the people of Georgia:

"If there is any lesson that experience should have taught us, it is to beware of the despotic power of unshackled majorities.

Protecting the Minority.

"Every bill of rights, every state constitution, every system of parliamentary practice, every section of our national constitution, is an evidence of the necessity of guarding the rights of the minority. In fact, the governmental problem which has puzzled statesmanship for centuries is that of fixing such bounds to liberty that it will not degenerate into unbridled license.

"It is difficult to determine which is the more to be dreaded, the despotic power of one man or that of the impassioned, uncontrollable mob. Our forefathers thought themselves fortunate in discovering a new system of government in the severance of sovereign powers into three departments—executive, judicial and legislative. They added a mixed system based partly on the equality of territorial units, and partly on population. Thus the states are equal in the senate but unequal in the house of representatives. Now, when our wisest men convened to frame a constitution for Georgia they patterned our legislature after the federal government. The small counties were protected from the large ones.

"THE SMALLEST COUNTY UNIT WAS TO HAVE ONE-THIRD THE LEGISLATIVE POWER OF THE LARGEST. At the first democratic convention afterwards our system of making political nominations was patterned after the plan laid down in the constitution. That plan was in force uninterruptedly until the Smith politicians swept it away in 1906. The battle of 1908 was fought on that issue, and the people reversed the city politicians.

Faith Was Broken.

"In the campaign of 1910 we were assured that our county unit system would not be disturbed. Faith was broken, and the Smith convention of 1910 again abolished our constitutional system, so necessary to the small counties. Then, in 1911, the Smith committee ignored its own platform and returned to the county unit plan. We beat them. We carried more than enough small counties, but in population, they heavily outnumbered us, mainly because of the big cities.

"The Smith committee now abolishes the county unit plan again, and prove by doing so that they have no political convictions on the subject but go from the one plan to the other as the interests of their boss seem to require. Such shifty attempts to follow a winning policy are in line with their conduct heretofore—conduct which makes the committee and its boss afraid to give the people a fair chance at them.

"But we beat them to their knees last year, and we will finish them in May of this year.

"THOS. E. WATSON."

Local Self Government Has Received Another Stab, Asserts Manager G. R. Hutchens.

"Local self-government [redacted] fundamental principle of democracy, has received another stab from the hands of designing politicians."—Manager G. R. Hutchens.

Manager G. R. Hutchens, of the Underwood campaign in Georgia, Wednesday, gave out the following statement at the Aragon, in which he severely denounces the action of the state committee, as a blow at local self-government:

"Local self-government, the fundamental principle of democracy, has received another stab from the hands of designing politicians.

"This language may seem, at first blush, to be in a measure a little harsh, but when we think of the sacrifices that have been made in the history of the American people, in order to secure a government by the people and for the people, it cannot be said to be a harsh utterance.

"When the state executive committee met Tuesday and took up the consideration of rules by which the democracy of Georgia would be governed, in the approaching presidential primary, they failed to recognize the fundamental principles that underlie the structure of democracy, not only in Georgia, but of the nation as well. I have reference to the action of the committee, wherein it abolished the county unit plan of representation and substituted therefor the plurality plan.

"It is unnecessary to explain to the people of Georgia the difference between these two plans, for the reason that they are already familiar with them. In a word, however, it means that the necessarily small majorities given in the rural counties are to be offset by the big majorities in the counties where the larger cities are situated, and the result will be that the country counties will have to appoint delegates for the candidate who is the choice of the larger counties, it matters not what the preference of the smaller county may be. Under the county unit plan each county had the right to appoint delegates who represented the wishes of a majority of the people of that county. Under the system adopted by the committee, each county must name delegates who are committed to the candidate who has received the highest vote in the state, it matters not whether that candidate received a majority in the state or not or whether that particular candidate received less than one-hundredth of the votes cast in the election. It is manifestly unfair—horribly unjust—obviously tricky.

Plan Has Been Repudiated.

"The executive committee, under control of the same influences that now control the personnel of the committee, abolished the county unit plan of representation in Georgia, not long ago, and the issue went before the democrats of the state and in the democratic primary election which followed the action of the executive committee was repudiated. The people in the smaller counties of the state resenting, on the part of that committee, an effort to take away from them their right to representation in the councils of the democratic party, said to that committee: We must have a fair deal. Yet, notwithstanding this emphatic declaration of the democrats of the state, we again see the domination of the city politicians in the manipulation of the executive committee terminating in the action of Tuesday, when it again sought to throttle full and free expression and representation of the people of the country counties in the state.

"This is not a partisan question—it cannot be said to be partisan in any sense, except as it is made so in an effort to right a terrible wrong, sought to be perpetrated on the honest democrats of the state. This is simply, as I have above stated, the fundamental principle of democracy—that of local self-government, by the people and for the people, not of any particular faction, but of all factions within the democratic ranks. When this principle was assailed by the executive committee that was elected by the Macon convention, which all democrats remember, and the effort was being made to take away from the people in the country, who are the bone and sinew of this government, who support its institutions and who fight its battles in time of war, their fundamental rights, I thought then it was time to give it attention; not until then did I feel like it was necessary to defend democratic doctrines in Georgia, but go among the people of the state and in my humble way, as best I could, warn those who had not thought upon the subject, if any I might find, against this new political monstrosity, with the hopes that they would see the danger ahead and try to stop the flow of this poisonous current and prevent the infection of the democratic fountain. I went among the democrats of the state and did my best along with others who were engaged in such a service.

"I am sorry the occasion has arisen which requires that we again post sentinels and warn our people of the approach of this seductive generalship.

Appeals Against Usurpation.

"I, therefore, appeal to the democrats of Georgia and especially to those counties who are being denied, in part, their constitutional liberty, to arise in solid phalanx against the usurpation of the power of the people and stand by democratic doctrines and show to this committee that Georgia is yet democratic, and that they will stand no such political tyranny and oppression.

"As manager in Georgia of the campaign of the Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, I desire to say for him, and I think I can speak for his friends in the state, to this extent, that he asks that no democrat in Georgia be denied his vote; he asks that no county in Georgia be denied its constitutional rights of representation in the state convention; he asks that no principle of democracy be changed or democratic doctrines modified. He stands upon the principles of democracy and asks no favor, except as it may offer a fair and free expression of the whole of the democrats of Georgia. He desires no political trickery among his friends. What he wants and what his friends in Georgia want is a full and fair, untrammeled expression of the preference of the democrats of Georgia, according to democratic history and tradition and acording to well-known, sound democartic doctrines."

RANDOLPH NOW FOR UNDERWOOD

Former Supporter of Wilson Strong for Alabama Man.

Atlanta Lawyer Says Georgia Should Instruct Her Delegation to Cast Votes for Southern Candidate for Presidency on Democratic Ticket.

"Aggressive, strong, thoroughly polished and genially gentle is Oscar Underwood, the south's offering for presidential nomination to the national democratic convention in Baltimore June next," remarked Hollins Nichols Randolph, well-known Atlanta attorney, member of Randolph & Brown, prominent members of the Atlanta bar, yesterday.

Returning from the national capital, where he met Mr. Underwood, Mr. Randolph is ready to place himself on record as a political prophet touching the presidential contest booked for the coming fall.

Mr. Randolph asserts that Alabama's offering for the democratic presidential nomination is the one, possibly the only chance for democratic success when the vote on both national parties are made of record November next.

The Man, Not the Section.

"At one time," said Mr. Randolph, "I was inclined to think the first southern man nominated for president would be given to the voters of the country for crucifixion. But after talking to leading men of both parties from almost every section of the country I am prepared to retract and as a substitute say that a southern man, it matters not from what section of the country he may come, will be accorded every attention and consideration politically any other presentation might be given, if not more. I mean to say in the south only is the fact that a possible southern man be presented as the democratic nominee given any attention. While away I met and talked more or less freely and extensively with leaders of both parties from the east and west and the middle west, and not a single one seemed to realize, at least to remember the location of the suggested democratic nominee geographically. It remained for the leaders in southern states to make prominent the geographical suggestion."

Mr. Randolph was in Washington three or four days and from that city ran over to Baltimore where he talked with leading men from different sections of the country and during each conversation the selection of the democrats' choice in Baltimore the latter part of June had its innings.

"Shortly after reaching Washington," said Mr. Randolph, "I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Underwood in his offices at the national capitol. I was introduced by a member of congress representing one of the Georgia districts who is a strong Underwood supporter and who has the full confidence of the Alabama member. It was my great pleasure to know Mr. Underwood had been informed that I was to visit him and that he expected the meeting. There were with him a number of gentlemen from other sections when I was introduced. All were vitally interested in the success of the democratic party and while the majority of those I met were strong for Underwood, there were present advocates of Mr. Wilson, Governor Harmon, Speaker Clark and others who have been suggested. But to a man the entire assembly was first and solidly for the democratic nominee regardless of the man to be named in Baltimore by the presidential convention. During that visit to Mr. Underwood I heard many splendid reasons advanced for the probable victory of the democratic party.

Was Practically a Wilson Man.

"Before I left Atlanta for Washington," went on Mr. Randolph, "I was practically a Wilson man. To be sure, I had not enlisted under his banner, but there were many things that gave me a leaning towards Mr. Wilson.

"Even before I met Mr. Underwood, however, I had been shown his great strength in the democratic party and the republican apprehension of him by the supporters of Taft and Roosevelt. During my talk there was no doubt as to the situation. While Mr. Underwood expressed the firmest faith in a democratic victory, he at no time even intimated that his name would lend strength or power to the democratic party. From his first utterance to his last there was a marked absence of ego. At no time was his name brought into the conversation as the saviour of the party.

Wants Party's Success.

"It was always of his party's success he talked as he heard suggestions and listened to what was being said. He made it apparent that he is thoroughly posted on every phase of the campaign. He declares the tariff is one of the main issues, and says the people are now studying that feature of the political situation as they never studied it before. He knows every break the republicans have made and with a remarkable accuracy shows how each mistake has hurt that party and exactly how it has aided the democratic party.

"Mr. Underwood is one of the most interesting and convincing men with whom I have ever talked. He is suave, pleasant and extremely easy to approach, and always seems to listen to every word intended for him. He gives everyone who reaches him the closest attention and appears to be deeply interested in all said to him. Apparently, he gives a careful hearing to every question and answers after deliberation. He is always ready to carry his part of the conversation and in all he says there is evidence of knowledge of the subject under discussion. Not the slightest criticism did I hear him pass on a prospective candidate of either party. He spoke pleasantly of all the suggested nominees of the democratic party. Not anything like a roast did he give Taft or Roosevelt or any member of that party. At no time did he indicate a desire for the nomination by his party, but at all times he did express an ardent wish for the success of the democratic party. At all times he asserted that the democrats had the chance of their lives to win the election this fall.

Georgia for Underwood.

"What do I think of Georgia in the coming contest for the state delegation at the Baltimore convention?" repeated Mr. Randolph. "I am almost ready to predict that the good old state which has been my home for nearly twenty years will line up for the Alabamian. I surely think it ought to do so. I say emphatically that Georgia ought to send an Underwood delegation to Baltimore. I go further and assert that there should be no opposition in the state to the Underwood ticket. If Georgia offered a native son for the nomination under exactly the same conditions I am firm in believing that Alabama would come into line and do what I hope to see this good old state do. If it was Georgia presenting an offering as Alabama is now, and a delegation were to go from Atlanta to Birmingham and ask the people of that city to see that the state gave the Georgian a full delegation, and that the gift be without any opposition whatever, I am inclined to think our sister state would drop right into line.

"Mr. Underwood appealed to me as a man of sound judgment, excellent discretion, thoroughly poised and in every way equipped for the chief executive of this nation. In my opinion the democratic party is not only stronger today than it has been at any time within the past fifty years, but the republican party is weaker than it has ever been. The republicans have made more blunders recently than ever before, and the general run of voters are acquainted with these blunders and are now studying them to the benefit of the democrats."

EX-SENATOR HERNANDO MONEY,
The idol of the Mississippi democracy for thirty years, declares that with Underwood as the nominee the democrats will win the presidency.

BRANAN, REFORMER RIGHT, SEES REFORM GO WRONG

Finds Out He Fought for Something He Didn't Want.

Everybody in Atlanta and most people in Georgia know Charles I. Branan, an original and genuine Apostle of Reform, who can give any other reformer in the state heavy odds and still stand out most conspicuously as at least the most consistent one of the bunch.

Mr. Branan is not a reformer for selfish purposes and is not a candidate for office. Six years ago in the first campaign for so-called "reform" against "machine politics," Mr. Branan worked like a Trojan and has been a consistent reformer ever since.

But now Reformer Branan has reached the conclusion that the kind of reform for which he was fighting was not the kind that it was cracked up to be and he makes some very interesting statements in an interview which he gave The Constitution yesterday.

Explains His Position.

"I have come around just to congratulate The Constitution upon its editorial protest at the action of the state democratic executive committee in refusing to let the people vote direct for delegates to the state convention," said Mr. Branan, of Atlanta, one of the original Georgia progressive democrats and no man did more than I to establish the principle "back to the people" and that Georgia should no longer be ruled by selfish politics. And yet, unfortunately for the state, our apparent victory seems to have been a limited one.

"The people of Georgia should have the right to say who shall represent them in the national democratic convention, at least through delegates elected by the people, just as much as they have a right to say who will represent them in the Georgia legislature. While it is true I am a member of the county committee, a county committee has no more right to juggle delegates to a national convention than they would have to juggle with the names of the men who will represent the counties of the state in a constitutional convention.

Says Trust the People.

"If the committee was sincere in its desire to let the voice of the people be given a fair expression, then there was no earthly reason for them to refuse to let the people vote direct for their delegates, instead of leaving the matter to a political juggle.

"If there is any man in the state of Georgia who can take this position consistently now, it is I, for I have brought with me to show you a copy of a letter that I wrote on the 29th of March, 1902—ten years ago—in which in a formal address to the state democratic executive committee I asked that all delegates to represent the people be chosen by the direct vote of the people.

"In that letter I said:

"'A convention composed of men direct from the people can and will embody such principle in the democratic platform which will mean something. For the people, to say the least of it, have very little confidence in conventions composed of delegates named through a democratic (?) county executive committee who are generally controlled by men who are in politics for the almighty dollar. . . .

"'Hoping you will instruct and direct the county democratic executive committee to allow the people to vote direct for the delegates, I am,

"'CHARLES I. BRANAN.'

Disgusted at "We Reformers."

"That sentiment has been growing straight along in Georgia from that time to this and I thought that when we 'reformers' got in power the day of slow progressive democracy would be over. One of the candidates for president said in a speech the other day, 'In choosing candidates we too often lose sight of principles.'

"It strikes me that there should yet be some way for the county committees to undo this wrong they have done the people and I, for one, would be willing to join in any movement to that end. I dare say no candidate for president would dispute the proposition I have laid down."

CHARLES I. BRANAN.

opinion. The magnificent record which Mr. Underwood has made, and is making for himself daily as the majority leader, is the explanation of this feeling on the part of our people.

Underwood's Flawless Record.

"I have myself known Mr. Underwood since his advent into public life, and have had opportunity to study his character. He is a man of strong, clear mind, capable of great work and devoted to his official duties. He has an equable temperament, possessing always a striking and remarkable tranquility. He has served on important committees in the house of representatives, and he is admirably trained through his long and trying service in that body to fill the highest trust of the people. He has a thorough understanding of the workings of every branch and department of the government and his present position in the house, and the results in organizing that body have given universal satisfaction.

North Interested in Underwood.

"I have been surprised, since the first of November, at the number of men from all parts of the north who have asked me to tell them something about Mr. Underwood, and I have asked the cause of this inquiry. Invariably the reply has been that it is his strong, manly and fair course as the majority leader of the house which has caused him to be regarded with as great favor in the north as I have indicated he is regarded in Mississippi. Several republicans have expressed to me their desire to vote for him if they do not find a suitable candidate in their own party."

Representative Harrison, of Mississippi, discussing the presidential outlook in Mississippi, said:

"Judging from the press reports received at my office and from conversations with Mississippi men who have visited Washington recently, sentiment seems to be crystallizing around Mr. Underwood.

"I believe that his splendid record as leader of the majority in the sixty-second congress has won for him the approval of all unbiased democrats. I believe he knows more about the intricate workings of every department of the government than any man whose name has been mentioned in connection with the nomination.

The Courage of Underwood.

"His stand for such a material reduction of the tariff on metals, steel and iron ore, as is contained in the Underwood steel bills in the face of the fact that his own district in Alabama is largely interested in steel industries, and from whence strong protests came to him against the passage of the bill, is but one of the many evidences of the courage and statesmanship of the man.

"He is a great, constructive statesman, progressive yet safe in his ideas and actions, and in my opinion he is today gaining faster in popularity than any of the other recognized candidates for the nomination. His strength is confined to no particular section.

"His nomination would be a fitting reward to the south's faithfulness to democracy through all these years of defeat, and would do more toward the obliteration of sectional lines than anything that has been done since the civil war."

WILSON AND CLARK FIGHT IN KANSAS

The Struggle in the Democratic Convention Today Will Be Close.

Hutchinson, Kas., March 3.—Clark supporters in tomorrow's democratic state convention won the first fight indicating the relative strength of the Clark and Wilson forces tonight, when Judge A. M. Jackson, of Winfield, was elected temporary chairman of tomorrow's convention, over F. M. Pearl, of Hiawatha, by the state committee. The vote stood 52 to 34. Nineteen members were absent.

Supporters of Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson here tonight each claim control of the democratic state convention which will meet tomorrow to elect four delegates-at-large to the Baltimore convention.

A careful canvass, however, shows that the fight in the convention for instructions as to how Kansas will cast her votes in the national convention will be close.

UNDERWOOD GAINS IN TROUP COUNTY

Sentiment Favoring His Candidacy for President Rapidly Growing.

LaGrange, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) A strong sentiment in favor of Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, for president has been aroused among the people of Troup county during the past few weeks, and indications at present tend toward the county's political complexion being in Underwood's favor.

The Graphic, a weekly paper of this city, along with other papers of the county, has begun a campaign for Underwood and a large number of political opinions have swayed toward Underwood on account of the fact that he is a southern man. Wilson sentiment, while in evidence during the early part of the year, seems to have waned since the mentioning of Mr. Underwood, and practically no work is being done for the former Princetonian.

REPLY TO TAFT BY ROOSEVELT

Colonel Will Answer President Next Wednesday Night at Carnegie Hall.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 13.—After a hard day in his library Colonel Roosevelt tonight finished the speech with which he is to open has campaign at Carnegie Hall, New York, before the Civic Forum next Wednesday night. In it he will discuss the general subject of the control of governmental agencies by the people, and outline what he considers the chief issue of the campaign. It is expected that this speech will constitute the reply which he said last week he would make to President Taft's adress in Toledo.

A delegation of five men from Vermont took dinner with Colonel Roosevelt. They told him the Roosevelt movement in their state was assuming such proportions that they thought almost all of Vermont's delegates to the national convention would be for him. Colonel Roosevelt was doubtful. He said that with the republican organization, the senators and the congressmen against them, it would be difficult to make headway.

Although Colonel Roosevelt at first declined an invitation to speak in Nashville before the Southern Commercial Congress in April, he later reconsidered the matter on the advice of Senator Dixon, his campaign manager. C. J. Owens, who came from Washington to bring the invitation, said Colonel Roosevelt was withholding his decision for the present. Senator Dixon wrote Colonel Roosevelt that the political situation in Tennessee was such that a speech by the colonel might have considerable effect.

ONE MONTH FROM TODAY

Edited by DICK JEMISON

Whiffs

Worst In Years.

THE PRESENT spring training season, locally, is the worst that any big league club has experienced in years. Not one good day have the New York Americans had since they have been here and the field has not been fit to work on. Usually the condition of the local field and the weather is such that big league clubs fall over themselves trying to grab this town for a training camp, but not so this season.

As Bad Elsewhere.

OTHER CITIES are complaining just the same as is Atlanta. News from all the major league training camps is to the effect that the weather has been the worst in years. Unless there is a marked improvement in the next week, the big league clubs are not going to be in tiptop condition when the season opens.

"Play Ball."

FOUR WEEKS from today, the Southern League umpires will be announcing the batteries for the games that open the season in four of the towns. Imagine that. It does not seem possible that the opening of the season is but that short time away.

To Captain Team.

MIKE DONLIN, the former Giant and Red Sox, who is to play in the outfield for the Pittsburg Pirates during the coming season, is said to be slated for the captaincy of the Pirates during the coming season. Wagner and Leach, the two veterans of the Pirates, are reported as not wanting the position, so it will be tendered to Sir Michael. He has not said whether he would accept it or not.

Won All the Way.

COMPARING the Whitney-Murphy fight of Tuesday night with the previous meeting between these two lads, we cannot see where Murphey was entitled to a draw decision with the fighting carpenter. Whitney outpointed and outfought Murphey more on Tuesday than he did at their previous meeting, when he got the decision. He forced the fighting throughout, made Murphrey hang on and break ground throughout. Add to this the fact that he conceded seven or eight pounds to the Indianapolis lad and where can you figure Murphey a draw? Not much.

Same Old Tale.

CLARENCE ENGLISH seems to be having trouble getting a match before the local clubs. He was willing to come here March 12, but no boy could be secured who would meet him. He was willing to come here for next week. Same old story. No boys. Now the Gate City club wants him for March 26. English cannot be putting off his engagements day after day just to meet the whims of the local promoters and unless they close definitely with him within the next couple of days, he probably will not show here again.

Not For His.

JOE MCGINNITY scouts that idea that some managers have of hiring a Pullman car and allowing their players to live in the side-tracked "hotel" while in training. "It would be all right if they'd never move the car, but even then members of the 'bubble gang' would have an awful time finding their 'hotel.' Then again you never know what moment a limited is going to smash into you in the middle of the night, and reduce your bed to kindling wood. No parlor car hotels for mine."

Tears It Up.

DONNIE BUSH, the sensational shortstop of the Detroit Tigers, not only is not satisfied with the terms of his contract but he showed his utter contempt for the document offered by not even returning it, but tearing it to ribbons. He insists that he will not sign for a penny less than he stated.

Glad He Signed.

HAROLD JOHNS, the sterling southpaw of the Crackers, quit the ranks of the holdouts Tuesday and with his signing every man on the reserve list has come to terms. If Johns has one of his good seasons, Manager Hemphill and the fans will be glad that he did, for when Harry is "right" he is one of the hardest pitchers in the business to beat.

Should Bar Him.

EDDIE SMITH, the New York lightweight, who put the Gate City Athletic club in a hole by not showing up here for the fight with Frank Whitney Tuesday night, should be barred from every club in this part of the country. Transportation was sent to him and received by him. Just why he did not show up here for the scrap has not been proven, unless it was because he did not want any of Whitney's game.

IS SLATED FOR THIRD BASE JOB

"WHITEY" ALPERMAN.

This is the veteran infielder who is slated to play third base for the Crackers during the coming season. He reported for practice Tuesday night and engaged in the two workouts Wednesday. He looks mighty good, too, at that.

Delaney Was Put to Sleep By J. Wells

Jumbo Wells, the big New Yorker who meets Rude Kreider before Staten's Club on Saturday night, comes here touted as just the man to slip across a sleep wallop to Georgia's white hope.

Wells has one bout to his credit that should, in the opinion of Atlanta fans, stamp him as a boxer of merit. In a recent bout with Soldier Delaney, he sent the soldier to sleepland, and for several minutes thereafter attendants were working on him trying to bring him around.

Delaney is the fellow who fought Al Kublak at the Gate City Club a few weeks ago. If Wells could stow him away then he must be a mighty classy man.

Wells and Kreider will both arrive in the city this morning. Manager Staten having received wires from them to that effect.

NAPS ARE DIVIDED INTO TWO SQUADS

Mobile, Ala., March 13.—Manager Harry Davis today divided the Cleveland American League team into two squads and for the rest of the training trip they will train alternately. The first squad, under Davis, will play the Mobile team two games this week, Saturday and Sunday. The second squad, under Joe Birmingham, will play Montgomery Saturday and Sunday, and from the capital city proceed to New Orleans, returning here March 23 and 24 for two games. Games were arranged today with Pensacola for March 29, 30 and 31.

O'Dell's Signed Contract Received; Every Local Player Now Signed Up; Good Workout Wednesday Afternoon

By DICK JEMISON.

The signed contract of Al O'Dell, the big infielder of the 1911 Atlanta team, was received at baseball headquarters Wednesday morning. With the signing of O'Dell, the last man on the club has sent in his document. With the document O'Dell wrote a letter stating that he would report here Saturday.

The report that Mrs. O'Dell's father was dead is erroneous. It is true that he is critically ill and Al and his wife have been constant attendants at his bedside, but they entertain hopes for his ultimate recovery.

There were no new arrivals on Wednesday, though two of the five men yet to report are now overdue. They will probably get in this morning.

Pitcher Martin Walsh, the younger brother of Ed Walsh, of the White Sox, a spit ball hurler like his brother, should get in on the early morning train today. The same applies to First Baseman Martin Phelan, who played with the Macon club in the South Atlantic League in 1911.

Infielder H. G. Warner, of Laureal, Md., the semi-professional infielder who wished himself on the local club, will not report until Friday, having written Manager Hemphill to that effect.

Menafee Reports June 1.

Catcher Gould Menafee, the young receiver who got a try-out with the Crackers last season, but in right field and not behind the plate, will not join the club until June 1. Menafee is going to Georgetown University at Washington, D. C., and graduates this year. He asked for permission to finish his education and it was readily given to him.

The field was in horrible shape Wednesday. The front of the grandstand back of the plate was a sea of mud, a mire in which no one could stand, while the outfield was very little better.

Manager Hemphill had plowed up the skinned part of the diamond Monday afternoon after the Yankees stopped practicing, with the expressed intention of rolling and packing it thoroughly Tuesday morning before the players got out for practice, but the rain Monday night beat him to it and the hard one Tuesday night added to the bad condition.

A continuance of the fine sunshine of Wednesday afternoon this morning and this afternoon, and the outfield and the part of the field back of the plate will be in grand shape, while the plowed ground will have dried considerably, too. This will enable Manager Hemphill to put the steam roller on the infield and pack in down.

May Play on Saturday.

All that is needed now is a few days of sunshine. If today and Friday are clear days, the scheduled game between the Yankees and Crackers on Saturday will probably be pulled off. Groundkeeper Gillespie will put a big force of men to work on the field to put it in excellent condition, or as near perfect as two days' work will make it.

Wednesday afternoon fielding bunts and pitching was about all that the players could engage in, but they kept at this tirelessly all during the afternoon.

Manager Hemphill, Captain Jordan, Whitey Alperman, Hugh McMurray and Earle Sykes were the last players to quit the field. Every one of these players answer "ready" now, and they look it.

Captain Jordan is in better condition than at any time during the past five years. He has worked off all surplus winter flesh, is hard as nails and could step right into a hard nine-inning game tomorrow, if it was necessary.

Vedder Sitton looks better than he did last year. The big right-hander who gained fame by pitching that 1 to 0 victory over Theodore Breitenstein a few years ago, which won the pennant for Nashville, has "something" this season. He has ambition, too. He is in great shape. That sore back has not given him the least trouble to date. He was burning 'em over to Catcher Miller in the work-out Wednesday afternoon in grand style.

Pitcher Ira Hogue is one twirler that is going to bear considerable watching, if the form he showed in working out with Catcher Russell Wednesday afternoon is a fair sample of what he can do. He has a nice assortment of twisters with a nice change of pace and good curves.

No Definite Dope on Men.

No line could be gained on either Harry Bailey, the new outfielder, or Whitey Alperman, the veteran infielder, as fielding practice was out of the question. But they look like they have the goods and the ability to deliver them.

The Atlanta team of 1912 at its present writing is an enigma and will be until a few of the exhibition games have been played. Just how good the new men are, or just how much better the old men will be over last season is problematical. You cannot get any line on them this early. The weather has spoiled any predictions as to who's who and why.

If—there it is again—the new men show what is expected of them and the veterans of 1911 show the improvement that they ought to when free from the disorganization that greeted the 1911 club all throughout the season, then the Crackers are going to be right in the running all the way.

The prospects of the team at this writing are entirely problematical. Maybe next week will enable us to get a better line on how they size up.

LITTLE NOTES PICKED UP FROM THE TRAINING CAMPS

John Kerr, the big backstop of the Crackers, is a full-fledged M. D. He graduated with an M. D. degree and has been practicing for several years. Some of the Crackers have had minor ailments since reporting and Dr. Kerr has been right on the job.

Herbert Joynes, the young shortstopper and third sacker, is troubled with varicose veins. But for a man suffering with those, he gets around mighty lively. "They bother me quite a bit," he says, "but I grin and bear them. I am here to make good and I am not going to let anything stand in my way." Good spirit that.

Piggy Paige claims that Vedder Sitton short-changed him the other night when they went to the theater. Piggy gave Vedder a "V" with which to purchase their seats. The change coming to Piggy was fifty cents shy. Vedder says he can prove an alibi.

"Well, what do you think of your club now?" Manager Hemphill was asked Wednesday. The questioner received the same kind of an answer that the newspaper men have been receiving. "What do you think of it? But I can tell you what I think about the weather," said Hemphill. What he thought is not printable.

Cozy Dolan, the third base recruit of the Yankees, was an interested spectator at the Whitney-Murphy scrap Tuesday night. Dolan is quite a fight bug and is interested in boosting Eddie McGoorty at the present writing.

The arrival of Alperman, Bailey and Miller did not bring down the average size of the Atlanta bunch any. Neither are midgets to any extent.

Recruit Priest is being groomed as Hal Chase's understudy. Of course no one thinks that Priest will ever be the regular first-sacker of the Yankees as long as Hal is on the job, but even the Peerless One is likely to get hurt and it's a good thing to have a stray first-sacker hanging around. And at that Priest looks pretty good for a youngster.

If Manager Hemphill can get the skinned part of the diamond rolled today, Manager Wolverton may send the Colts against the Regulars in a five-inning battle during the afternoon practice session.

Harry Wolverton is beginning to smile the smile of satisfaction and he has just cause to at that. He has picked up a classy bunch of youngsters for try outs this season. He has expressed himself as being tickled to death with the way they are showing up.

Bill Hanna, the veteran newspaper scribe who is here with the Yankees, holds one record that none of the players feel like taking away from him. Bill is the champion walker of the club. He loves to stroll to and from the park and sandwich in a few ten-mile hikes between times. Some of the players have tried to walk Bill down, but they have found him too willing for them.

"Atlanta deserves a winner, and I am going to give Manager Hemphill every player that he thinks he can use and that I cannot, and there are a bunch of good youngsters in the bunch." That is the way Manager Wolverton talks, and it listens mighty good, too.

Russell Ford and Gabby Street are working together as if they had been battery mates for years. Ed Sweeney had better show up on the job, or he will find that he is not being missed as much as he expected he would be.

If it will only shine today. A trip to the park would then be worth while.

M'Graw Offers Eight Thousand For Derrill Pratt

Word has been received from St. Louis that Manager McGraw, of the Giants, is trying to buy Derrill Pratt, the sensational young batsman who led the Southern Association last season, from President Bob Hedges, of the Browns, says the New York Times. McGraw's offer, it is said, is $8,000, and he may offer more if he cannot get him at that figure. President Hedges and Manager Bobby Wallace are not very anxious to let the star get away, and have refused to consider McGraw's first offer.

Pratt played with the Montgomery club last season, and led the league with a batting average of .316. He played second base, and took part in 139 games. Last year McGraw's scout, Mike Finn, saw Pratt, and was highly pleased with his work, but at that time the St. Louis scouts had already looked Pratt over. It isn't because McGraw is anxious to get a successor for Captain Larry Doyle that he is so anxious to land Pratt, but because the youngster was exceptionally fast for a minor league. He led the Southern Association in run-getting, scoring ninety-six tallies for Montgomery. It was this base-running performance that attracted McGraw's attention.

McGraw offered the high price for Pratt because the Browns have a good second baseman in Frank Laporte, the former Yankee. He played in St. Louis much better than on the Hilltop, and batted last season for .314, so it isn't likely that a youngster will be put in his place. President Hedges has decided to hold out for a high price for the youngster, since he found that McGraw will probably try to make an outfielder of him.

ONE-ROUND HOGAN PUT OUT OF RING

Disqualified for Hitting Leach Cross in the Breakaway.

New York, March 3.—"One Round" Hogan, of California, was disqualified in the first round of his fight with Leach Cross, the local lightweight, at the Madison Athletic Club here tonight by Referee Charley White for hitting in the breakaways. Up to the time of Hogan's disqualification, which came after two minutes of fighting, Cross punished Hogan viciously, staggering him with a vicious right swing and a series of smashes to the face.

Cross was the first to offend by hitting in the breakaway, and Referee White cautioned him. Immediately afterwards Hogan hit Cross over the referee's shoulder and was in turn cautioned. Then Hogan hit Cross five times in breakaways and the referee disqualified the westerner.

The house was in an uproar. Immediately upon disqualification, Hogan leaped from the ring. Referee White climbed back into the ring to announce:

"Under the Frawley law any person taking part in boxing bouts in the state must break clean. Hogan disregarded my caution five times and then I disqualified him."

The spectators quieted down and left the house in an orderly manner.

BARONS TO CARRY FIFTEEN PLAYERS

Birmingham, Ala., March 13.—(Special.)—Manager Molesworth made the announcement yesterday morning that he will carry fifteen men during the season of 1912. He will have eight regular infielders and outfielders, five pitchers, a utility man and himself.

"Until May 15," stated the manager, "I will carry at least eighteen men. I intend to hold on to the most promising material just as long as possible, and desire to be in a position where a series of accidents, such as befell last spring, will not put me completely out of the running."

The score was 5 to 1, Chicago's only run being scored on a double steal, Right Fielder Goode reaching home while Orr was taking second. Outfielder Spencer, for the locals, got a home run, a two-bagger and a single during the game. Line-up changes were frequent.

All games will be played here. Outfielder Crawford, Pitchers Mullin and Willets, Catcher Stanage and Utility Player O'Leary arrived yesterday from Hot Springs, Ark.

Memphis, Tenn., March 13.—(Special.)—Baerwald, outfielder, and Crandall, shortstop, of last year's team, arrived today and with the rest of the Turtle crew received the first practice of the season in a short round of catching. Seventeen have reported and eight are yet due. Abstein will not report until March 26, and it is doubtful if Ferguson and Tompkins, pitchers, will report.

YOUNG ERNE BESTED BY "KNOCKOUT" BROWN

Philadelphia, March 13.—In a six-round bout here tonight, "Knockout" Brown, of New York, had a slight advantage over Young Erne, of this city. After the first round Brown forced the fighting and while Erne landed as many blows as did the New Yorker, the later had more steam in his punches.

Little Items of Georgia Cities

Five Barrels of Booze Stolen.

Eufaula, Ala., March 13.—(Special.) Five barrels of whisky, said to have been consigned to a Eufaula man, by way of Hatcher's Station, Ga., were seized by robbers as they were being hauled Monday night across country to this city.

Perry Hotel Leased.

Perry, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—T. F. Anderson has leased the Perry hotel and assumed control of same. This hotel was leased by Mrs. M. M. Wells in December last. She has been released from her contract for same and T. F. Anderson has leased it and is now proprietor of same.

Water Scarce in Florida.

Thomasville, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—T. D. Winn, who has just driven through the country from Rockledge, Fla., to Thomasville, reports the condition of water supply in south Florida as very different from what it is in south Georgia this winter. Mr. Winn states that until he got within 75 miles of Thomasville water was so scarce that it was hard to find enough to water his team. He even found difficulty in buying it, as wherever he stopped for the purpose the people would tell him that they were obliged to haul all they had, both for family use and to water their stock. Conditions through that section of Florida are similar to those that prevailed here last year and for several years previous, everything being very dry and parched. Not until he reached the section around Madison, Fla., Mr. Winn states, did he begin to find plenty of water.

Trees in Bloom.

Thomasville, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—All vegetation is putting out very rapidly in this section of the state now, and those of the fruit trees which have not already bloomed are nearly ready to do so. The LeConte pears are later blooming than in several years, and last year at this time there were good sized pears formed. The trees are just putting out now, and the growers are confident that the crop will be late enough to escape all damage from frost.

New Church for Smyrna.

Washington, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—Work has been commenced on a new church edifice by the Methodists at Smyrna, five miles east of Washington. The new building is to replace one that has been used for worship for 126 years. The land surrounding the church at Smyrna was purchased in 1786 by John Tolbert for 2 shillings and was for many years held by the Presbyterian church, but was afterwards deeded to the Methodists of that community, whose number grew very rapidly. The members of the congregation are preparing to make the historical feature of the dedication in May by one of the bishops of the Southern Methodist church, one of the most interesting in the history of Methodism. The new church will cost $3,500.

Boosting Perry's Growth.

Perry, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—With the prospect of the early completion of the Hawkinsville and Western railroad in the early summer, thereby giving Perry better railroad facilities, citizens are looking for a rapid growth of the town. At a recent meeting of the city board of trade matters of vital interest were discussed. A committee on education was appointed to look after the educational interests of the town, and this committee was instructed to continue their efforts toward having a bill passed at the coming session of the legislature changing the present method of electing the city school board. The secretary of the board of trade was requested to get in touch with parties toward establishing a bakery in the town.

Tifton Home Burned.

Tifton, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The dwelling of J. C. Musslewhite, who lives five miles northeast of Tifton, with its contents, was destroyed by fire last night about 9 o'clock. Mr. Musslewhite had retired, but was not asleep, and the family escaped, some of them failing to save their clothing. The piano and some bedding were saved. Fire originated between roof and ceiling and was possibly caused by rats. Loss, $2,000, with insurance of $1,500.

Politics in Coffee.

Douglas, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—County politics in Coffee is also warming up at this time as the primary date, April 10, is approaching, and there are forty candidates in the field. The warmest contest is for solicitor of the city court and ordinary. In the field for solicitor are Attorneys W. C. Bryan, W. A. Wood, Lawson Kelley, the present solicitor, J. J. Rogers and T. H. Nolan. For ordinary, Judge W. P. Ward, the encumbent, is being opposed by Thomas Daniels, of Willacoochee. There are eight candidates for county treasurer.

Primary in Gwinnett.

Lawrenceville, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee of Gwinnett county met in the court house today and agreed to hold the primary for county officers on the same date as the state primary for governor, in August.

Railroad Improvements at Manchester.

Manchester, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad is arranging for a more direct and convenient connection between the viaduct and the station. The platform is being lengthened and a stairway erected so that passengers can go directly to or from the station without crossing tracks.

Ex-Senator Pfeffer Ill.

Topeka, Kan., March 13.—W. F. Pfeffer, former United States senator from Kansas, is critically ill at a hospital here. His right leg was amputated above the knee today to check gangrene, which affected his foot. Mr. Pfeffer was the first populist senator from Kansas being elected in 1891. He remained in Washington after his term expired to make an index for the Congressional Record, and returned to Topeka upon its completion last sum-

Sensation Develops in Crawford Trial in New Orleans.

New Orleans, March 13.—A mild sensation developed at the opening of the second day's session of the trial of Annie Crawford for alleged murder of her sister, Elise, through the administration of poison, when Attorneys Connolly and Adams, counsel for the defendant, filed a motion asking the court to cite The New Orleans Item, the publisher and the managing editor, for contempt of court.

The motion alleged that publications touching the Crawford case which appeared in The Item of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week were calculated to injure the cause of the defendant "and operate to the obstruction of the due administration of justice."

Refused to Consider It.

Judge Chretien announced that he had read the articles complained of and believed them "injurious to the trial of the case," but added that the court would not consider the question of contempt proceedings during the progress of the trial.

Attorney Connolly declared that articles appearing in The Item were "outrageous" and were designed to give the impression that Annie Crawford was a wholesale murderess, guilty of killing by poisoning four members of her family.

Opposition to capital punishment for a woman, expressed with monotonous regularity by talesman after talesman in the criminal district court today, caused the second panel of 200 veniremen to be exhausted in the trial of Annie Crawford for the alleged murder of her sister, Elsie. Six jurors had been accepted when court adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when another special panel of 200 veniremen is ordered to be on hand.

SMOKING IN CAR CAUSES CASE IN POLICE COURT

When a Decatur street car reached the corner of Edgewood and Pryor streets last night Conductor W. T. Ingram called on the police to arrest J. F. Reatin, a horse trader of Lithonia, for disorderly conduct. Ingram said that Reatin chased him into the car with a knife when he asked him to stop smoking. Reatin was released on a bond of $25 furnished by Hayes Reatin, tax collector of DeKalb county.

Reatin denied that he was smoking. He admitted that he had a cigarette in his hand, but said that it was not lighted. He was accompanied by a number of relatives. One of his cousins admitted that it was he, and not Reatin, who was smoking.

ACCUSED OF STEALING $149,000 FROM A BANK

Pomona, Cal., March 13.—Earl Standard, formerly a bookkeeper of the American National bank here, accused of having embezzled $149,000 of the bank's funds, surrendered today and was released on $10,000 bond. Captain J. T. Brady, an official of the bank, said: "Standard turned over today about $8,000 in cash and some land. If the land is found to be oil bearing it will repay the bank ten times what Standard took."

WHY DID WILSON SUPPRESS PAPER?

That's the Question Committee Probing Everglades Scandal Wants Answered.

Washington, March 13.—The house committee on expenditures in the department of agriculture is not concerned with the draining of the Florida Everglades or land values there; its investigation is solely to inquire into the integrity of the department of agriculture in connection with the alleged suppression of a report on drainage.

Chairman Moss thus outlined the scope of the inquiry today to Attorney W. H. Ellis, who sought to have witnesses testify to the real worth of the Everglades.

Mr. Ellis appeared for the internal improvement fund trustees of Florida and Florida land companies.

C. G. Elliott, dismissed by Secretary Wilson as chief drainage engineer, was a witness today. He testified the department of agriculture never was in a position to make a positive report on the plan for draining the Everglades. He also said he would regard the circular alleged to have been suppressed by Secretary Wilson as unfavorable to the Everglades.

Mr. Elliott added that J. O. Wright, now chief drainage engineer of Florida, who was then in his bureau, did not object to the circular until persons selling Everglades lands had protested against it.

"You don't attribute to the secretary of agriculture or any other official in that department any improper motive in not publishing that bulletin, do you?" asked Representative Higgins.

"No, sir," replied Elliott, "I might have my own opinion, but I do not attribute any improper motive."

"Was the report suppressed because of the vacillating policy of the engineers or because of an improper motive by the secretary?" asked Representative Mays, of Florida. Both Representatives Higgins and Flood objected, and the question was not answered.

"Did Secretary Wilson ever see the report which your bureau prepared—did he ever approve or indorse it?" asked Repesentative Sloan.

"Not to my knowledge," said Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Elliott will resume Friday.

Bankers to Meet.

Eufaula, Ala., March 13.—(Special.) The east Alabama division of the Alabama Bankers' Association will hold its convention in Eufaula Wednesday, April 10. This was the announcement made this morning by Colonel G. L. Comer, the division president. The meeting will be held at the Bluff City Inn and will be followed by a banquet, as the local bankers are planning on giving the visitors a royal welcome. Among the questions to be considered at the convention, in addition to the usual banking and currency questions, will be those pertaining to immigration and the development of the lands of this section of Alabama.

Fast Mail Is Derailed.

St. Louis, March 13.—The Iron Mountain's fast mail train No. 7 was derailed near Desoto, Mo., early today, and the engineer, fireman and a mail clerk were slightly hurt. The engine and two mail cars turned over. The two baggage cars and sleeper remained upright after leaving the rails.

IS CANAL BUILT OVER A VOLCANO?

Fear Expressed That Gigantic Work at Panama May Be Destroyed.

New York, March 13.—The statement that a sleeping volcano, dormant for many centuries, is threatening the safety of the Panama canal, is made in special dispatches from Colon, published here today. The volcano is said to underlie the Culebra cut, and it is stated that "the report of the division engineer at Culebra is rather pessimistic."

The fear of volcanic trouble had its origin in the fact that clouds of steam and blue smoke have been rising from newly turned ground. Every drill hole in the affected area is tested with a thermometer before dynamite is put in, to prevent a premature explosion.

The division engineer reports on the phenomenon in part as follows:

"Three weeks ago I noticed that the material at the locality described, which consisted of a stratified sedimentary rock, among which there appeared some lignite of a low grade, was sending up a thin cloud of white steam or vapor. I examined the spot, and found that the entire mass was heated to a considerable temperature.

"Steam was escaping from numerous small openings, also from four principal vents. The sides of two of the vents were encrusted with white and yellow powdered material, the yellow appearing to be sulphur.

"Within the past five days, there has been quite a change in two important characteristics. The temperature has increased, and a pale blue smoke, instead of steam, is now emerging from the vents. The odor of sulphuric acid, which was very marked when only steam was emerging, is fully as marked today. To give an idea of the temperature of the larger vent I took a nine-inch brown manila envelope and held it at the mouth of the largest vent for three seconds, when it was destroyed, although it did not ignite in flame.

"I then took a piece of white pine covering of a dynamite box and held it for three minutes within the mouth of the largest vent and on withdrawing it it was completely charred, so that another three or four minutes exposure probably would have carbonized it entirely."

The canal commission's geologist declares the steam and smoke are due only to the oxidation of pyrites, and have no volcanic significance.

TALBOT WILL VISIT MONTGOMERY "OWLS"

Montgomery, March 13.—(Special.)—The local nest of Owls, No. 1489, is making great preparation for its big meeting at the Grand theater on March 20. The feature of the meeting will be the address of Governor O'Neal on the "Initiative and Referendum," and it is expected that prominent people from all sections of the state will hear the governor on that occasion.

Among the visitors who are expected in Montgomery on that occasion of the Owls' celebration is John W. Talbot, supreme president of the order, of South Bend, Ind. Mr. Talbot is an ardent admirer of Governor O'Neal, and has, through the medium of the publication of the order of Owls, advocated the governor of Alabama for the presidency of the United States.

STATE SENATOR TAKER OF BRIBES

Andrews, of Ohio, Is So Branded by a Jury at Columbus.

Columbus, Ohio, March 13.—"Guilty as charged in the indictment" was the substance of the verdict returned this evening by a jury in the case of State Senator L. R. Andrews, charged with having accepted a bribe of $200 in connection with an insurance bill.

The case had been on trial for ten days. Sentence was deferred.

Senator Andrews was indicted along with a dozen other state legislators and attaches more than a year ago and his trial and conviction came closely after final disposition of the case of Rodney J. Diegle, former senate sergeant-at-arms, who recently began serving a penitentiary sentence of three years upon conviction of having abetted the bribery of Andrews.

The principal witness against Andrews was Frank Harrison Smiley, a detective, who alleged he had trapped Andrews by having conversations recorded by means of a telephonic device.

It is expected the trial of Senator Isaac Huffman, also charged with having accepted a bribe, will be begun Tuesday. Following the Huffman case the indictment against Senator Cetone on a similar charge will be taken up.

FIFTEEN CORN CLUBS ORGANIZED BY GILES

The work of organizing corn clubs in the twenty-five counties constituting the Atlanta district, is going on rapidly, and J. K. Giles, the district agent, has already enrolled fifteen clubs, with a total membership of about 450 boys. The largest of these clubs, which is located in Fayette county, has seventy-five members, and another recently organized at Social Circle has sixty members.

Mr. Giles addressed the teachers' institute at McDonald Tuesday and on Thursday he will be in Forsyth working up corn clubs there.

On Friday Mr. Giles will go to Jonesboro to organize a club there. On Saturday he will go to Lawrenceville.

Mr. Giles is joint agent for the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, State College of Agriculture and the United States department of agriculture, and has headquarters in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

RECALL IS ADVOCATED BY JUDGE LANDIS

Superior, Wis., March 13.—District Judge Kennesaw M. Landis, of Chicago, in an address before the Commercial Club here last night arraigned the United States senators who voted for the Payne-Aldrich bill, and advocated the initiative, referendum and recall as needed remedies for the conditions in the government.

"Conditions are such as to demand a remedy to accomplish the things which the initiative, referendum and recall aim at," said Judge Landis. "Such methods are needed whether one believes in them or not."

COST OF LIVING AND CO-OPERATION

President Taft Sends Message to Congress on the Subject.

Washington, March 13.—The president today, in a special message to congress, transmitted the first installment of the information collected by the department of state in regard to co-operation and the cost of living in various European countries. The department, by direction of the president, instructed the consular officers to make the investigation. The results of the inquiry are summed up in a letter from Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, which is submitted with the consular reports and with a summary of their contents.

The president in his message says that the popular demand for information of this character apparently was based on the belief that some remedy might be found for the high cost of living. The immediate result of the inquiries instituted by the department of state through the consular officers was to accentuate the fact that the increase in the prices of the common necessities of life is world-wide, and that it is an absorbing question with the co-operative associations. Intelligence presented by the co-operative societies shows that even where there has been an advance in wages the percentage has not kept pace with the rise in the cost of food supplies.

The president says that the information collected by the department of state is a permanent contribution to the history of the efforts of producers and consumers to solve for themselves the economic problems of production, distribution and consumption. If the co-operative associations which have been in existence for half a century have not been able to determine the fundamental causes of the increased cost of living or to retard the advance, the student of social progress may at least derive instruction from the account of the associations and their influence on the well-being of their members.

The president also calls attention to his message of February 2, in which he recommended an international commission to look into the cause for the high prices of the necessities of life and the possible remedies. Should such a commission be authorized by congress, he says, the relation of the co-operative societies to this subject would be of great interest.

DOCTORS OF SECOND ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Albany, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The physicians of the second congressional district have been in session here today and completed the reorganization of their body. Incidentally, they had as their guest one of the most distinguished surgeons of the country, who conducted a clinic for their benefit at the Phoebe Putney Memorial hospital.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock at the city hall by Dr. Hugo Robinson, of Albany, president. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Tarver and Dr. W. C. Walker, response being made by Dr. T. M. McIntosh, of Thomasville. Papers were read by Dr. W. W. Jarrell, of Thomasville; Dr. A. J. Redfearn, of Albany; Dr. C. K. Sharp, of Arlington; Dr. John C. Keaton, of Albany; Dr. A. G. Fort, of the state board of health.

This evening the visiting physicians were guests of honor at an elaborate dinner tendered by the Dougherty County Medical society. The following officers were elected:

President, Dr. R. W. Jarrell, Thomasville, Ga.; vice president, D. Gordon Chosen, Bainbridge; secretary and treasurer, Dr. J. A. Redfearn, Albany. Bainbridge was selected as the next place of meeting, the second Wednesday in September. The work being done by the state board of health in regard to the hook worm was indorsed.

PISTOL SHOT CLEARS STREETS IN A HURRY

The sharp report of a pistol and yells of "Head 'em off," sent pedestrians scurrying in all directions on Broad at the corner of Marietta street, shortly after 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The shot was fired by A. K. Aiken and his intended victim was A. J. Hooker, a machinist. The shooting resulted from a dispute over the payment for a pool game.

At the point of a pistol Aiken was arrested later in the afternoon in the railroad yards. His only comment was that he was sorry he did not kill Hooker.

Aiken was released on a bond of $200 late yesterday afternoon. He admitted the shooting.

The Ford

Less Than One Cent a Mile

Half the cost of railroad transportation!

That's the record of the Ford Model T—of a whole neighborhood of Fords, in fact.

Read this: "In that short time (June to September) I drove the car 1,850 miles with less than one cent per mile running expense, including lights, and no repairs at all. I think that record is good, but I know of several cars just like mine that made just as good records. So I think the Ford 5-passenger, 20 horsepower car is certainly the car for the farmer."

(Signed) E. W. Seiler, Dundas, Ill.

Country roads are not city pavements, either. Get the point?

FORD MODEL T is the universally popular motor car the world over, because of its universal service and everlasting economy. Every third car made in America in 1912 will be a FORD MODEL T. Good buying logic for you, eh?

Ford branches and dealers in all cities, towns and villages are at your elbow with Ford Service for Ford Owners.

The Round of Booms.

"Now I know why all these new office buildings are going up," said a New York visitor in Washington. "They are intended to shelter the presidential booms. An old man who has been a clerk in the state department since the civil war told me that Washington has never harbored to many political headquarters, so far as he remembers. I started out bright and early this morning to visit the various headquarters, but I am only half around and I am too tired to keep on going. I have inspected the Taft, the Roosevelt, the Harmon, the Wilson, and have had to pass up the Clark, the La Follette, the Underwood, the Kern and the others until I can get rested up. It's too much of a trip for one day."

To Attend Grand Opera.

LaGrange, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) The Atlanta grand opera idea has been driven home among LaGrange people within the past few days by announcements of the superb season which the Metropolitan company will put on in Atlanta in April, and many parties are being arranged for to attend the season of grand opera. Last year was banner year so far as local attendance was concerned at the grand opera, but this year bids fair from all indications to far surpass even 1911. The local newspapers have begun a series of stories on the grand operas which are to be given in Atlanta and this campaign of education has greatly increased the desire to attend the performances.

Mistrial in Daniel Case.

LaGrange, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) Indicted at the February sitting of the grand jury, James D. Daniel, living near this city, has stood trial during the past two days for the alleged sale of intoxicating liquors. The trial was full of interest locally and the courtroom was crowded during the proceedings. Jury late Wadnesday afternoon in Judge Frank Harwell's court, after being out on the case for twenty-three hours, reported a disagreement to the court and jurors were dismissed. Daniel will be tried again at the June term of court and is held under bond to appear at that sitting of court. Evidence including bills of lading from railroads were introduced in the case, in addition to considerable personal testimony of neighbors and friends of Daniel.

LaGrange to Clean Up.

LaGrange, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) The general welfare committee of the chamber of commerce has inaugurated a campaign for the cleaning of public streets in this city, which is comprehensive and expected to bring about desired results. Mayor Edmondson has entered into the spirit of the matter and it is expected that the city council will also join hands with the committee in an effort to clean up the city.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The monthly dinner of the Atlanta Real Estate Men's Association for March will be held next Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Young Women's Christian Association in the Steiner-Emery building.

At this meeting important matters are expected to come up for discussion. Among others will probably be the question of the establishment of a real estate exchange for the Atlanta association. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to investigate the exchanges of other cities and the success with which such exchanges have met. Chairman Cliff Ansley, of this committee, will not be in the city on that night, but it is thought that there will be a report.

The fire which some time ago damaged the quarters of the Young Women's Christian Association will in no way interfere with the holding of the banquet in the same place next Friday night.

Peachtree Activity Continues.

Activity in the neighborhood of the southern junction of the Peachtrees continues. In addition to the five deals in the block on Peachtree street, between Baker street and Porter place, which had been announced as late as Wednesday, there comes now the announcement of the sale of No. 16 East Baker street, which is about 100 feet from the junction on the east.

Dr. J. H. Daniel, of Gainesville, Ga., has sold the East Baker street place for a consideration of $16,000, or about $350 a front foot. Dr. Daniel is not in the city and the name of the purchaser could not be learned.

This property is on the north side of the street and has a frontage of 46 feet with a depth of 89 feet. There is a 14-room brick house upon the lot, which rents for $90 a month.

Other Sales.

The Gate City Home Builders have sold to a client a bungalow on a lot 50x200 feet on the east side of East Ontario avenue, near Gordon street, in West End Park, for a consideration of $3,750.

To another client the same company has sold a bungalow on a lot 46x145 on the west side of Dargan street, between Greenwich street and Sells avenue, for a like consideration.

Permit for the construction of one of these bungalows has already been issued and the other will be taken out this week.

The Atlanta Suburban Realty Company has sold for Marvin Conway to a client a lot 50x130 feet on East Fifth street, near Jackson street, for $1,950.

Roff Sims Did It.

In the account of the exchange of the Washington seminary for the Peachtree road home of C. T. Ladson in Wednesday's Constitution the name of the agency which made the deal was omitted. That agency was Roff Sims & Co. The value of the school property in the deal was $40,000 and Mr. Ladson's home was valued at $60,000. L. D. Scott, principal of the school, paid the difference of $20,000.

FEDERATION REFUSES TO LIFT BASEBALL BAN

Refusing to recede from the position taken by the painters, the paperhangers and the carpenters' unions of Atlanta, in which those bodies put the ban on baseball games played in Atlanta or upon any grounds in the Southern Association circuit in which Atlanta takes part, the Atlanta Federation of Trades last night directed its secretary to inform the officers of the local baseball organization that the action of the painters, paperhangers and carpenters had the sanction of the local central body.

A letter from C. T. Nunnally, an officer of the local board of directors, told the federation that the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, which owned the franchise, had charge of the painting and other improvements at the baseball park, and the present baseball directory had no knowledge of the manner in which the improvements had been made. Asserting that he had always been a strong supporter of organized labor, Mr. Nunnally said that he did not think the differences now pending should be charged to him and his associates.

Description

Bainbridge, the county seat of Decatur County, is located in the southwestern corner of the State. The main line of the Atlantic Coast Line traverses the County from east to west, between Savannah, Jacksonville, and Montgomery, with a branch line from Climax to River Junction, Florida, where connection is made with the L. & N. for Mobile and New Orleans and with the S. A. L. for Jacksonville. The Georgia, Florida & Alabama Railroad splits the County from north to south. At Bainbridge is the headquarters of this system and the general offices and shops are maintained in Bainbridge. Bainbridge is also connected with the Gulf of Mexico by a line of steamers plying the waters of Flint River. This line of steamers has headquarters at Bainbridge and is owned by local capital.

A $45,000 Court House is located at Bainbridge, which was built a few years ago by direct taxes. Between $30,000 and $40,000 per annum is being spent in building and maintaining a good system of roads throughout Decatur County. The soil of Decatur County is susceptible of a high state of cultivation and readily responds to intelligent effort. Good lands sell from $10 to $40 per acre.

The industries of Bainbridge are Railroad Shops; Foundry and Iron Works; Oil Mill; Cooperage Factory; Bottling Works; Ice Plant; Syrup Refinery; Saw and Planing Mills; Variety Works; Brick Yards; Cigar Factories; Tobacco Packing Houses; and other small industries. The Standard Oil and Gulf Refining Companies use Bainbridge as a distributing point for that territory. The City Schools compare favorably with the most progressive cities of this class, affording excellent educational advantages.

Its three banking institutions are financially strong and take care of the commercial interests of the City.

Legality

These Bonds have been validated and confirmed by judgment of the Superior Court of Decatur County, which renders them absolutely and forever incontestable in any Court in this State, and makes them legal for investment by Trustees, Guardians, Administrators, Executors, and others holding Trust Funds. The Bonds are free of all taxes, State, County and City. These Bonds are also eligible for deposit with Insurance Department by Insurance Companies, and are legal investments for deposit to secure Postal Savings Deposit.

COTTON NERVOUS AND IRREGULAR

Market Closed Steady at Net Decline of Three to Six Points.

New York, March 13.—The cotton market was less active today and fluctuations were nervous and irregular with the close steady at a net decline of 3@5 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 3 points and the market sold about 3 to 5 points net lower right after the call under a renewal of yesterday's realizing movement and the better showing of the weather map. Leading bull brokers gave support on this decline, however, and with the cables relatively steady, English labor news much more optimistic, reviews of the local dry goods trade encouraging and private predictions calling for unsettled weather in the eastern belt again before the end of the week, the market soon turned steadier. Prices worked up some 8 or 9 points from the lowest, with the old crop selling 2 or 3 points above the closing figures of last night, while later deliveries showed gains of about 5 points, but the bulls gave no aggregate support on the bulges and the market later turned easier again under renewed realizing and local selling, with the close at practically the lowest level of the day. The eastern belt forecast was for continued clear weather tonight and tomorrow, but the outlook was for unsettled weather or rains in the western section which was supposed to suggest the approach of a low area from the Pacific coast and which probably inspired greater confidence in the bullish predictions of renewed rains east of the river. This prospect was said to be the chief factor on the advance from the early decline and there was no change in the general character of the news in the late trading, when early buyers seemed to be liquidating owing to the failure of late advices from England to bring any official announcement of a settlement of the English labor troubles and to the failure of demand to broaden on the advance.

Receipts 20,865 bales, against 27,705 last week and 8,012 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 3,815, against 2,306 last year; at New Orleans 4,584, against 3,430 last year, and at Houston 5,743, against 1,117 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands 10.70; do. gulf 10.95; sales 25 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 13.—Spot cotton steady, unchanged; middling 10 11-16; sales on the spot, 1,900; to arrive, 400; low ordinary, 7, nominal; ordinary, 7 13-16, nominal; good ordinary, 9¼; strict good ordinary, 9⅝; low middling, 9 15-16; strict low middling, 10 5-16; middling, 10 11-16; strict middling, 11; good middling, 11¼; strict good middling, 11 7-16; middling fair, 11¾, nominal; middling fair to fair, 12⅛, nominal; fair, 12½, nominal; receipts, 41,584; stock, 261,956.

Cotton futures opened steady and unchanged, compared with yesterday's close. Cables were slightly better than expected and private messages from London, Liverpool and Manchester all stated that the coal strike appeared to be in a fair way to be settled shortly. The weather map was decidedly improved over what it has been of late and weighed against the bullish foreign news. Soon after the call, the most active months were 1 to 2 points down. The market was strengthened by the posting of the weather forecast, which called for rain over the entire western half of the cotton belt. At the end of the first half hour of business, prices were 4 to 5 points over yesterday's close.

The market was dull, but steady from the middle of the morning on. At the highest, the trading months were 4 to 7 points up. Both sides waited on strike news from England and were not inclined to enter strongly into fresh business. The weather was also a factor that contributed to small business, some sections wiring in that condition were not as bad as reported and that there was still plenty of time in which to plant the new crop.

The dispute over the new crop outlook lessened business in the distant months. At noon, prices were unchanged, compared with yesterday's close, on the most active months.

In the afternoon session, the market was stagnant. At 2 o'clock, prices were 1 point over yesterday's last quotations.

Cotton futures closed steady unchanged to 1 point up, compared with yesterday's close.

STOCKS ACTIVE ON GOOD CABLES

The Last Hour of Trading Was the Dullest of the Session.

New York, March 13.—To the casual observer today's stock market seemed to derive a great deal of its early activity and strength from abroad. London's cheerfulness of the preceding day became more accentuated, with a further advance in consols and home rails. The English market sent over a decidedly higher list for prices for our securities and followed this with considerable buying here. The improvement in British sentiment seemed to have its foundation largely in the belief that the crisis in the coal strike is passing.

The foreign situation was in no wise responsible, however, for the movement in some of our more inactive specialties, such, for instance, as American Sugar and International Harvester. Concerning the former, which advanced 4 points, the company made a radical departure from its custom by publishing a detailed statement of its operations for 1911. This exhibit showed profits exceeding $14,000,000, compared with $6,000,000 in the preceding year, and was in other respects a noteworthy document. Officials of the company also expressed optimism regarding the outcome of the government suit now pending. As for Harvester, which gained 3 points, it is now believed to be a foregone conclusion that the company has arrived at an understanding with the government and that dissolution proceedings will involve no pecuniary damage to shareholders. In fact, the results of the distintegration of the Standard Oil and American Tobacco companies no longer oppress the average security holder with fear.

The movement today embraced a number of other specialties and railway shares of minor grade, the standard issues making less headway, although showing a decided strength. Early gains in American Telephone and Telegraph and Western Union were partly checked on publication of estimated earnings of the latter for the first quarter of the current year, which indicate a falling off compared with the past three years and make prospects of an increase in the dividend more doubtful.

Conditions in the domestic labor situation were bettered by the acceptance by the Lawrence mill workers of the terms offered by the employers. This was partly nullified by the formal reply of the anthracite coal owners to the miners, which, while conciliatory in tone, constituted a general refusal of all demands. No other answer had been expected, but it had the effect of giving pause to the market in the last hour, which was quite the dullest of the session and was marked by such contrary movements as a rise of 4 points in Central Leather, preferred, and a fall of 7 in American Tobacco. Final dealings reflected weakness in the speculative leaders, Steel and Union Pacific losing much of their advance, while Reading and Lehigh Valley closed unchanged. Harvester and other specialties fell off from best prices.

Another side light on the existing conditions in the steel trade and their effect upon independent concerns was furnished by the Sloss-Sheffield company, which showed a decrease of almost $5,000 in gross for its fiscal year and suffered a deficit of $65,000 after payment of preferred dividends.

On the curb the day was enlivened by declaration of 33 1-3 per cent stock dividend by the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska.

Bonds were active with few price changes. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,369,000. United States government's were unchanged on call.

WHEAT DROPPED ON BIG SUPPLY

Almost a Continuous Decline During Session—Corn Down.

Chicago, March 13.—Signs that there was a liberal floating supply of wheat in the market today developed more courage among bear traders than at any time in months. Latest figures showed a drop of ¾@⅞ to 1⅛@1¼ under last night. There was a net loss of ⅞@1 to 1 cent in corn and a shade to ¼ cent for oats. Hog products finished the same as last night to 5 cents up.

It was a day of almost continuous declines in the wheat pit. Heretofore the market was tightened as soon as short sellers completed their sales. Today, however, many holders were plainly disheartened. One reason was that a cargo of wheat shipped out of here to Manitowoc last fall has been sold to come back to Chicago for delivery on May contracts. Furthermore, Buffalo persistently offered wheat here at figures that were almost as attractive as those made by Manitowoc. Receipts continued large in all directions, and foreign exchanges nearly without exception were weak, especially in Argentine. Forecast of snow in the winter crop belt added to the woes of the bulls. The worst weakness in wheat prices came just before the close, when a group of houses had selling orders which the market seemed unable to digest. Between the opening and the last sale May ranged from $1.02⅛@1.02⅝ to $1.04, with the final tone comparatively steady at $1.02¾@1.02⅞, a setback of 1⅛@1¼ cents from the quotations current twenty-four hours before.

An opening bulge in corn on account of cold weather was followed by a sharp decline. Receipts were on a huge scale, and because of an eastern blockade, shippers were not buying cash grades. Futures suffered accordingly. Many previously confident longs unloaded, influenced in part by suggestions that Argentine corn might be imported despite the 15 cents duty. One local leader was said to have let go of 1,500,000 bushels of May. That month, as a result of the extra pressure, slipped to a discount and after having varied from 70⅞ to 72, closed weak at 70⅞, a net loss of 1 cent even. Slowness ruled in cash. No. 2 yellow was not quoted.

In oats the trade appeared to be getting out of commitments in May and taking more interest in July and September. Prices sagged in sympathy with wheat and corn. Outside limits reached from May were 53⅛@53¼ and 53⅞, with the close ¼ off at 53⅜.

The light run of hogs here and at other packing centers made provisions range upward. There was considerable stop loss buying on the part of shorts. In the end, pork varied from the same as last night to 2½@5 cents higher with other products a trifle more firm on the whole.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, March 13.—Wheat, spot nominal; futures steady; March, 8s ¾d; May, 7s 6⅛d; July, 7s 5⅜d. Corn, spot steady; American mixed, new, 6s 4½d; do. old, 6s 11d; New American kiln-dried, 6s 8d; futures weak; March, 6s 2d; May, 6s 3½d.

Wage Advance Is Granted.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 13.—Five thousand hand window glass workmen, employed in factories throughout Kansas, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, today received notice that beginning March 15 their wages will be increased an average of 35 per cent, all branches of the industry being affected. There will be no immediate advance in the price of window glass, although one may be expected as the building season advances.

Harper Is Chosen.

Columbia, S. C., March 13.—The board of trustees of Clemson Agricultural and Mechanical college today elected Professor J. N. Harper, now director of the experiment station, to the directorship of the agricultural department and experiment station combined. W. M. Leslie English was elected superintendent of the division of extension work and state agent for the farmers' co-operation work.

EMORY STUDENTS FOR UNDERWOOD

Club Organized With 50 Members—Former Wilson Supporters Join the Club.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., March 13. (Special.)—An Oscar Underwood club was formed here this morning with fifty members of the Emory student body. This organization indorsed the candidacy of the leader of the house for president and pledged their support in the coming presidential primary.

Quimby Melton, correspondent for The Constitution and a member of the senior class, was unanimously elected president, and Frank Cado, of Alabama, was elected secretary.

An interesting feature of the organization was that about ten of the men who were instrumental in forming the club were formerly members of the Emory Woodrow Wilson Club, who have since the organization of that body seen fit to support Underwood.

Not only is the candidacy of the Alabamian looked upon with favor by the students, but the Emory faculty seems to favor him as well. Underwood buttons are prominent on the coats of the professors and such members of the faculty as Dr. Dowman ex-president; Dr. Melton, professor of English; Dr. Turner, professor of Latin; Professor Goodyear, associate professor of modern languages; Professor Shingler, of the chair of chemistry, and Professor Hanner are loud in their praise of this candidate.

The Emory Underwood Club will make an especially effort to carry this county for their candidate.

NINTH DISTRICT RACE COMMENCES

Holder and Charters Have Announced—Bell Expected to Offer Again.

Toccoa, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—Politics in the ninth congressional district bids fair to be very interesting for the next few months.

Already Hon. John N. Holder and Hon. W. A. Charters have announced their candidacy for congress, and it is expected by many that Hon. Thomas M. Bell will announce, though he has not yet made any public expression as to his intentions.

Mr. Holder has been in the general assembly for some twelve years as a member from Jackson county, and for the past two terms has been elected speaker of the house without opposition. During that time he has served one term as senator from his district. Mr. Holder is popular throughout the district, and is considered one of the best campaigners who ever offered for congress in the "bloody ninth." He is attending all the courts throughout the district and is making friends.

Some years ago Mr. Charters, who then was a resident of Lumpkin county, served several terms as a member of the lower house of the general assembly. Later he was elected solicitor general of the northeastern circuit, and in that capacity represented the state for eight years, refusing to offer for re-election at the last election. He is considered one of the strongest men in this part of the state. Mr. Charters is now a resident of Hall county.

Mr. Bell is now completing his fourth term as a member of congress from the ninth district, and has made an enviable reputation as a strong working member of the national house. During the past two terms he has acted in the capacity of "democratic whip," and his service to the party has been conspicuous. His friends believe that since it seems practically certain a democratic president will be elected and congress will be democratic, he ought to be re-elected. It is not known positively, however, whether he will offer.

All three men are very strong and the race will be a lively one.

PRIMARY IN CLARKE TO BE HELD MAY 1

Athens, Ga., March 13.—(Special.)—The Clarke county democratic executive committee met this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the office of Chairman John B. Gamble and fixed May 1 as the date for holding the county primary. This date was selected as giving the people an opportunity to express their choice for county officers and for a presidential candidate as well, without the trouble of two separate election days.

There has not been a single announcement for office in this county for any county office or for representative or state senator. The old officers at the courthouse will, without doubt, be re-elected without opposition in any case.

For the first time in its history, Clarke county will have the opportunity to select two representatives in the legislature. Toombs DuBose will not offer again for the place, but will announce for the state senate. There is to date absolutely no one considering seriously the matter of offering for the legislature. Several announcements for solicitor general of the western circuit are formally made, Col. R. J. L. Smith, of Commerce, the first to informally announce two years ago, being the last to make a regular announcement for that place today.

The county will give Underwood a large majority in the primary, if careful investigation of the political condition here this week amounts to anything.

THREE BANKS ARE ADDED TO STATE'S LONG LIST

Three new banks have just been chartered by Secretary of State Philip Cook, making an unusual addition to the state's financial institutions. They are:

Farmers' State Bank of Register, Bulloch county, $25,000 capital; F. P. Register, John G. Nevil, J. S. Riggs and others incorporators.

Planters' Bank of Pavo, Thomas county, $25,000 capital; D. D. Peacock, John B. Williams and R. R. Redfern among the incorporators.

Bank of Scotland, Telfair county, $25,000 capital; E. H. Hermann, J. W. Neal, J. A. Clegg and others incorporators.

Return of Wife Murderer.

Memphis, Tenn., March 13.—Samuel Miller, arrested recently at Oakland, Cal., arrived here today and will remain in the Shelby county jail pending hearing before the Tennessee supreme court of the case in which he was convicted of wife murder and sentenced to be hanged nine years ago, when he escaped from jail at Jackson, Tenn. Miller asserts his wife made a murderous assault on him and that he shot her to death in self-defense. The principal witnesses against him at the original trial was his little daughter.

MANY CAND IDATES IN THE ELEVENTH

Coffee County May Be Represented by Judge J. W. Quincey.

Douglas, Ga., March 13.—(Special.) Congressional politics in the old eleventh is beginning to wax warm and the probability is that several candidates will be in the race in a short time. Brantley's announcement of his intention to retire at the end of this term has brought forward the names of many aspirants and some positive announcements will be made in a few days.

Coffee county will probably have a candidate in the person of Judge J. W. Quincey, whose friends are bringing strong pressure on him to announce. Judge Quincey is one of the best-known lawyers in this section of the state and has friends all over the district who will rally to his support if he gets into the race. He has served as judge of the city court of Douglas for several terms and held many other positions of trust in his county and district. His friends here are expecting his announcement to be made not later than Sunday.

Judge Parker, of Waycross, has already announced. Hon. R. G. Dickerson's friends are urging him to announce. Dickerson has represented Clinch county in house and senate and has always taken a prominent part in the affairs of his district. J. Randall Walker, O. M. Smith, W. S. West or Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, will probably be in the race. The friends of each are trying to center on one of them and a definite announcement from Valdosta will probably be made by one of them this week. Judge Joseph Bennett, of Brunswick, is also being mentioned for the place, and should he decide to enter the contest will make it warm for the others.

There is some talk of John P. Knight, of Berrien, entering the contest, but this is hardly probable, as Berrien county was only added to the district last year, and they would hardly enter a contest for the place at this time. However, Mr. Knight has many friends in this county and all over the district who would be glad to support him.

of express business at actual cost to the public.

"The reasonable valuation of the physical property of railroads, justly inventoried and determined as the basis for fixing rates, and the extension of the powers and the administrative control of the interstate commerce commission.

"I would have the nation know how much of the $18,000,000,000 capitalization was contributed by those who own the railroads and how much by the people themselves.

Commission to Probe Trusts.

"I believe in the creation of a commission, with power to investigate and ascertain the illegal acts of all trusts and combinations, and with power to ascertain the reasonable valuation—not the monopoly valuation—of the physical properties of the great monopolies beginning with the natural resources in the creation of a tariff commission of experts clothed with real power to determine the valuation of all the elements of production, costs and profits, the reduction of tariff rates to the ascertained difference between the cost of labor in this country and abroad. Instead of each of these government commissions investigating the same facts independently, I believe it would be practical for a single board of expert accountants, statisticians, economists and engineers, to be empowered to get the facts, not for the confidential use of the president or the departments, but for congress and the public.

"I am opposed to ship subsidies, which, once entrenched, will become another corrupting influence in our politics.

"I am opposed to further extravagance, on the advice of interested persons only, in building battleships and political navy yards, and favor an unprejudiced commission to investigate and report what is required in the way of national defense.

Opposed to Dollar Diplomacy.

"I am opposed to the dollar diplomacy which has reduced our state department from its high place as a kindly intermediary of defenseless nations into a trading outpost for Wall street interests, aiming to exploit those who should be our friends.

"I am opposed to the Aldrich currency scheme, which, under the guise of providing elasticity to our currency system and relieving monetary conditions, is, in reality, a means of concentration of the currency and the credits of the United States under a fifty-year franchise into those hands which have already secured control of the banking and insurance resources of the country.

"I favor a policy of government ownership and operation of Alaskan railroads and coal mines and of an Alaskan steamship line by way of Pacific ports through Panama to New York.

"I was opposed to the Canadian reciprocity agreement when President Taft submitted it to congress January 26, 1911; I was opposed to it when it was before the senate, argued against it, voted against it, and I am against it now."

How Trusts Grew Under Roosevelt.

Accompanying his platform, Senator La Follette makes this statement:

"When Roosevelt became president, the total amount of the stock and bond issues of all combinations and trusts, including the railways then in combination, was only $3,784,000,000; when he turned the country over to Taft, whom he had selected as his successor, the total capitalization of the trusts and combinations amounted to the enormous sum of $31,672,000,000, more than 70 per cent of which was water. Prices were put up on transportation and on the products of mines and factories to pay interest and dividends on this fraudulent capitalization."

PLATFORM IS ANNOUNCED BY SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

Madison, Wis., March 13.—Declaring for the initiative, referendum and recall and direct nominations, Senator La Follette gave out his campaign platform here today. Among other things, he declares for government ownership and operation of express companies, graduated income and inheritance taxes, parcels post, physical valuation of railroads for rate-fixing basis, a "trust" commission to ascertain the reasonable valuation of the physical properties of "great" monopolies.

He declares against ship subsidy, the Aldrich currency plan and Canadian reciprocity.

SO ACTIVE FOR ROOSEVELT CHAS. HUNTER MUST RESIGN

Guthrie, Okla., March 13.—Because of "political activity" in the present campaign, Charles E. Hunter, clerk of the United States court of the western district of Oklahoma, has been requested by Judge John H. Cottrell to resign. Hunter was active in the interest of Roosevelt. Judge Cottrell is quoted as saying that either Hunter's resignation or his must be forthcoming. Hunter was a rough rider and formerly was president of the Rough Riders' Association.

Instructed for Taft.

ROOSEVELT TOLD OF RESULT IN VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE

Oyster Bay, March 13.—Colonel Roosevelt announced today he would be unable to accept the hospitality of the Southern Commercial Congress, which meets in Nashville April 8, 9 and 10.

When the colonel was told today that republican state conventions in Virginia and Tennessee had gone for Taft, he refused to comment, satisfying himself by a query as to whether there had been a fight in Tennessee.

BEVERIDGE FOR ROOSEVELT; HITS POWERS OF PILLAGE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 13.—"The powers of pillage do not intend to let republican voters nominate Theodore Roosevelt. These forces are not partisan. They are for any man of any party as against Roosevelt."

With this declaration former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge denounced antagonists of the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt for the republican nomination for the presidency and praised his public policies in an address at a meeting tonight in the interest of Roosevelt's candidacy.

"The instinctive judgment of the masses is never wrong," said Mr. Beveridge, "and the decree of the supreme court of American public opinion is that the man who today best represents that well being and uplift which the American people want is he who has so bravely worked their will and achieved their purpose in the past, Theodore Roosevelt."

Taft Men Control.

Topeka, Kas., March 13.—The Taft men controlled the republican first district committee today and decided to hold a convention to select two delegates to the national convention. The convention will be held at Atchison, April 16.

French Aviator Killed.

OKLAHOMA SOLID FOR ROOSEVELT

Predicted that G. O. P. Convention Will Instruct for the Colonel Today.

Guthrie, Okla., March 13.—With many Taft supporters frankly admitting that tomorrow's republican state convention will show a strong majority for Theodore Roosevelt and the Roosevelt forces declaring they will send a solid Roosevelt delegation of ten to the national convention in Chicago, the Taft men, led by James A. Harris, state chairman, declare they are prepared to fight "to the last ditch."

E. Reilly, of Kansas City, head of the Missouri Republican League, is here to assist in the fight for the former president.

The Roosevelt supporters today elected George C. Priestly, of Bartlesville, as their choice for national committeeman. Ed Perry, of Coal Gate, and John Hale, of Oklahoma City, the other contestants for the support of the Roosevelt following, withdrew. Perry was selected to lead the Chicago Roosevelt delegation.

The Taft forces have named Harris as their candidate for national committeeman.

The first congressional district convention, which met here today, indorsed Roosevelt and passed resolutions favoring presidential preference primaries. George M. Dizney, of Billings, and Daniel Norton, of Chandler, were named as Roosevelt delegates.

State Chairman Harris issued a statement tonight saying he believed the convention would give a small majority for Taft. He says uninstructed delegates have been declared for Roosevelt, when many of them are for Taft.
